ns Bow To Weaver Armistice Tilt, 21-6

Whelps Are Outclassed By Tornado; First Loss Of Season For Mars Hill.

The stubborn rivalry between Mars Hill and Weaver Colleges was rekindled when the Weaver Tornado defeated the Mountain Lions 21 to 6 in the Legion's Armistice Day feature in the Memorial Stadium. The Weaver eleven pushed the ball into Mars Hill territory through practically the entire game, except late in the last period when the Lions stepped up with a great aerial offense and netted their lone touchdown in the contest.

Tornado Scores In Opener
Weaver jumped into an early lead in the opening minutes of play after an exchange of punts and a quick pass gave the Tornado the ball on Mars Hill's 18. From here Robinson stepped off 12 yards and a couple of steps later plunged the line from the yard marker to register Weaver's first tally. Henson's pass to Schachner was good for the extra point. During the remainder of the first period and the entire second quarter two teams battled in Lion territory without registering any points on either side.

Weaver Counts On Trick
Mars Hill made two more great line stands in the opening of the second quarter and played superb football to hold the Tornado for downs on their own five-yard stripe. McNeill then kicked to Schachner on the 40.

Schachner carried the ball to within one yard of the sideline and from here Weaver sprung his famous trick play. Before the teams got set the ball was snapped and Brittain swept around end for a 2-yard gain. In the meantime Schachner stayed on the sideline. The ball was snapped again before the teams were set, and Henson passed to the Tornado back who went over without being tagged. C. Mitchell then plunged over to pile up a 1-point lead.

Lions Make Final Drive
Mars Hill opened the fourth period with an aerial attack in an effort to down Weaver's lead. In the first minutes of play Robinson snared a pass on Mars Hill's 26, and here he carried the ball to Mars Hill's 12 on two line plays. A five-yard penalty and a three yard run of loss forced Weaver back to the line on a bullet pass from Henson to Mitchell afforded the Tornado their third touchdown. Another pass was attempted for the point.

After receiving the kick, Mars Hill took to the air in a desperate attempt to lessen Weaver's great advantage. Rabb passed to Burnett for a 55-yard gain and to place the ball on Weaver's 15. Mars Hill then lost 10 yards on the bucks, but a pass from Rabb to Anderson was good for the lone marker. Rabb's attempt to dropkick for extra points was blocked by Byers. Another long pass from Rabb to Stroup looked good for a touchdown, but a wide pass into the end zone cost Mars Hill the ball and the game ended.

Lines Hold Well
The forward walls played a fine game with the exception of the steady pressure on the part of the Weaver eleven. The Mars Hill linesmen were stretched out to make wide gaps for the Tornado backs. Crawford, D. Stroup and Powell led the Lion's wall. Powell, Blalock, and Wilkie stepped up for Weaver. Both backfields played exceptionally good with W. Bethea, and Nettles standing in for Mars Hill, and Schachner, Henson, and Robinson bearing the brunt of the Tornado attack.

Walter Rabb Intercepts Pass And Dashes 45 Yards To Score Lone Tally; Lions Outplayed.

Mars Hill added another victory to her long string of wins over the Western Carolina Teachers with the aid of Walt Rabb, triple threat Lion half, when the Mountain Lions eked out a 7 to 0 decision over the Catamounts. Rabb took the laurels of the day when he intercepted a Cullowhee pass and skipped 45 yards to register the lone marker of the game.

The initial period opened with a punting duel between Fox, Lion captain, and Simpson, main threat for the Catamounts, and it looked as if the contest might end in another deadlock for Mars Hill to add to her quartet of ties this season. But Rabb saved the day for the Lions by grabbing one of Simpson's heaves, shaking off Cullowhee tacklers, and with the aid of the blocking of Fox and D. Rabb, raced the remaining yards for a touchdown.

Teachers' Drives Fail
During the remainder of the fray the Catamounts launched several determined drives in an effort to pull down the advantage already held by Mars Hill, but superb line play by the Whelps spoiled their scoring chances. Near the close of the second period Fox got off a bad kick with the wet ball and the pigskin rolled out on Mars Hill's 45. On the next play Simpson ripped off 25 yards to plant the ball on the Lion's 15. Hooper and Simpson then gained seven yards on two plays but an incompleting pass ruined their scoring threat as the half ended.

In the third and fourth quarters the Cats got several breaks which should have meant scores but incompleting passes, fumbles, and the Lion defense in the shadow of Mars Hill's goal robbed them of touchdowns. In the third period Cullowhee blocked Fox's punt to give them the ball on the Lion's 22, but a stone forward wall stopped the scoring thrusts. Again in the fourth quarter the teachers pushed to the seven yard stripe but another bad pass cost them the ball.

The defensive stand which featured the game came in the latter part of the final period when another blocked kick gave the Cats the ball

LOOKING IN ON GIRLS' SPORTS

Tramp, tramp, tramp, the girls are hiking. And a whole lot of them, at that, because they want to be members of the Hiking Club. To become a member it is necessary to hike twenty miles, not all at the same time. The first ten girls who fulfilled this requirement will be charter members and already there are five members. Ruth Hensley, Marie Roberts, Johnnie Hensley, Alma Henderson, and Hildreth Squires. Maybe we are wrong, but we predict a prosperous business for the shoe shops.

The Soccer Tournament between the gym classes has been postponed indefinitely. The four teams which are to play are the Hilltop, Mountain Lions, Go Getters, and Hill Billies. These games should be plenty good as there has been lots of good practice and splendid team work. All members of the first string are asked to keep in touch with their captains and see Miss Boswell for further announcements. Come on teams, let's go!

on Mars Hill's 14. On the next play Simpson tore to the Lion's two yard marker, but the Mars Hill line held under the strain of three line bucks and then threw the flashy Cullowhee back for a 21 yard loss.

The cold weather and muddy field probably altered the score somewhat but the victors seemed to be more handicapped since the Lions were outweighed along each line of play. Simpson was the whole show for the Catamounts, while the entire Mars Hill lineup played mighty good football.
