

PLPS GO ON SPREE TO DOWN BILTMORE AND YANCEY TEAMS

Leads 48-26 Victory Collegians With 21 Points; Yancey Bows, 44-27

LOOKS PROMISING

Hill's Mountain Lion cagers their superiority over two of North Carolina's fastest when the Whelps routed the Bulldogs to the tune of 48 and turned back a Yancey All-combination with a 44-27 score.

Nettles Stars

Leading the Bulldogs, the Lions showed the largest margin of any registered this season. In the first, "Rabbit" Nettles proved a whole show. The little forward wild to ring up 21 points a nice defensive game also. A lanky pivot man, was second with 8 counters to his credit. They were led by Percival who hit for 10 tallies. Both teams fought basketball the initial Leister and Swann playing a great defensive game.

Play Former Lions

The Mountain Lions took the blood from four former cagers. Young, A. Fox, E. Holloway have all seen action under Coach Fox. Captain Fox led the scoring in this fray with 12 while Nettles and Leister were behind with 10 markers each.

Pos.	Biltmore (26)	Yancey (27)
(21)	F (6) Mann	(10) Holloway
(8)	C (2) Griffin	(4) E. Fox
(4)	G (10) Percival	(9) Young
(7)	G Howerton	(4) A. Fox
	Mars Hill, Young, W. Rabb, Stroupe	Harris
	Moore, Parham, Biltmore; Parrise.	(10) Harris

Pos.	Biltmore (26)	Yancey (27)
(21)	F (6) Mann	(10) Holloway
(8)	C (2) Griffin	(4) E. Fox
(4)	G (10) Percival	(9) Young
(7)	G Howerton	(4) A. Fox
	Mars Hill, Young, W. Rabb, Stroupe	Harris
	Moore, Parham, Biltmore; Parrise.	(10) Harris

Trane Fuller On Freighter To Europe

(Continued from page 1)
college life and decided he would see more of the world. So one morning in October he left, against the advice of his house mates at the House, and was soon reported in Chicago. Later friends heard of him in Houston, Texas, and then he was heard about him until the day of his departure to foreign soil.

Trane secured the job while in Houston. He went to the offices of a large shipping company to apply for a job but was told that a thousand were ahead of him. He did not get discouraged, but struck out on his own and went to the company's office there. He was promised a job at the first opening, and reported to Houston. Shortly afterwards he was notified to report for duty.

Bought Motor Cycle

Trane had some interesting experiences between Chicago and Houston. While he was in Chicago he bought a second-hand motorcycle with money sent him by his father. He wanted to ride it to Denver. After being given a few lessons in the technique of operating the machine, he struck out. It seems that his instructors failed to show him how to handle it; so when he reached a traffic jam he was compelled to take a spill and come to a halt. After several repetitions, Fuller finally gained the up-and-down and managed to cover sixty miles that day. However, he learned the town where he stopped that the weather was blanketed in snow and decided to change his destination. He decided to get rid of his motorcycle and staged an auction in the street. After much hard labor he made an offer of $3.50 and sold out. He arrived in Houston minus his motorcycle, which was in Denver and in his trunk in Mars Hill, he found himself short on wearing apparel. Finding that he was dirty from traveling to go to the home of his relatives, he spent a day in a hotel, and his clothes were being cleaned.

Trane had some interesting experiences between Chicago and Houston. While he was in Chicago he bought a second-hand motorcycle with money sent him by his father. He wanted to ride it to Denver. After being given a few lessons in the technique of operating the machine, he struck out. It seems that his instructors failed to show him how to handle it; so when he reached a traffic jam he was compelled to take a spill and come to a halt. After several repetitions, Fuller finally gained the up-and-down and managed to cover sixty miles that day. However, he learned the town where he stopped that the weather was blanketed in snow and decided to change his destination. He decided to get rid of his motorcycle and staged an auction in the street. After much hard labor he made an offer of $3.50 and sold out. He arrived in Houston minus his motorcycle, which was in Denver and in his trunk in Mars Hill, he found himself short on wearing apparel. Finding that he was dirty from traveling to go to the home of his relatives, he spent a day in a hotel, and his clothes were being cleaned.

LOOKING IN ON GIRLS' SPORTS

After examinations are over, the Physical Education department is planning to have regular swimming classes for girls. Up until this time there has been very little use made of the pool, but now there should be a great deal of interest. There will be a chance for every degree of swimmer to improve his stroke and some who are proficient in this art may work for American Red Cross Life Saving Emblems. Miss Boswell will make definite announcements in gym classes.

It has been remarked upon by various people that the young ladies must be exceptionally worried over their examinations or they are homesick. They are seen with round shoulders and bent heads and seem to have acquired a "debutante slouch" which may be quite the rage at home. However a slink is a little out of place up here, so lessons will be given in gym classes on posture and walking gracefully. You won't have to walk with a book on your head.

The Hiking Club has been formally organized and held its first meeting Monday afternoon, January 9. Temporary officers took charge of the organization and plans were made for the remainder of the school year.

Others who wish to join this group may do so by hiking twenty miles with approved chaperones. Charter members may act as chaperones and will record the time and distance of hikes. New members will be admitted in groups of five or more. There are going to be some mighty good hikes soon and you will want to be in on them so see some of the following girls about taking a walk:

Edith MacIntosh	Alma Henderson
Lucile Brigman	Dorothy Ramsey
Marie Roberts	Agnes Wilde
Ruth Hensley	Alberta Ivey
Johnnie Hensley	Dorothy Shipman

Library Annex To Be Ready For Fall Term

(Continued from page 1)
sibly fiction," says Miss Johnson. She has drawn several different floor plans that will be considered when the blue prints are made.

Work to Start in Spring

"No contract has been let and plans are still indefinite, however, excavation will be started and some supplies will be placed ready for use before commencement this year," states Dr. Moore.

This year has seen improvements in the library: the interior has been rearranged and redecorated, while magazines, many new books—both reference and fiction—and several interesting curios have been added to the present collection.

The first building, a gift of Col. H. Montague, was built at a cost of $5,000 in 1919. The first annex is to be completed this year at a cost of $3,000. The entire building is to be completed as soon as possible at a total cost of not more than $15,000. It is to be one of the most picturesque and most modernly constructed libraries in this country.

Farmers Federation, Inc.

Wholesale
FEEDS, SEEDS, FRUITS,
PRODUCE, FERTILIZERS
123 Roberts St.
Phones: 4428 and 331
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Paramount Theatre Asheville, N. C.

ALWAYS THE BEST PICTURE and at POPULAR PRICES
We appreciate your patronage

Intramural Tilts Draw Many Players

CII's Top Nat. League; Town Holds American Loop Lead

A good deal of fight is being shown among the newly organized intramural basketball teams. Each of these aggregations are doing their best to cop the league pennant. All sixteen quints have seen action at least one time, and these games are showing up some pretty nice cagers.

Team Standing:

American League:	Won	Lost	Pct.
Town	2	0	1000
Yancey	1	0	1000
S. C.	1	0	1000
C-I	2	1	667
Melrose	0	1	000
Wake	0	1	000
Cleveland	0	1	000
A-4	0	2	000

National League:	Won	Lost	Pct.
C-II	2	0	1000
Madison	1	0	1000
Ministers	1	0	1000
Virginia	1	0	1000
Robeson	0	1	000
Rutherford	0	1	000
Tennessee	0	1	000
Brown	0	1	000

J. B. HUFF OWNS FAMOUS CANE

(Continued from page 1)

In defense of his assault against Sumner the Senator said: "If I desired to kill the Senator, why did I not do it? You all admit that I did him in my power. Let me tell the member from New Jersey that it was expressly to avoid taking life that I used an ordinary cane presented to me by a friend in Baltimore, nearly three months before its application to the 'bare head' of the Massachusetts Senator. . . I went to work deliberately, as I am charged—and this is admitted—and speculated as to whether I should employ a horsewhip or cowhide; but knowing that the Senator was my superior in strength, it occurred to me that he might wrest it from my hand, and then—I for I never attempt anything I do not perform—I might have been compelled to do that which I would have regretted for the balance of my natural life."

Brooks Defends Act

In answer to the question of "Why not engage with the Senator in personal combat in the accepted form?" he answered. "The Senator would not accept such a message; and having formed the unalterable determination to punish him; I believed that the offense of 'sending a hostile message', super-added to the indictment for assault and battery, would subject me to legal penalties more severe than would be imposed for simple assault and battery. That is my answer."

In clarifying the reasons for his assault Senator Brooks said 'Some time since a senator from Massachusetts allowed himself, in an elaborately prepared speech to offer a gross insult to my state, and to a venerable friend, who is my state representative, and who was absent at the time.'

Historians record that it was the words of Sumner in his speech, "The Crime Against Kansas" that aroused Brooks to such fury.

Sumner Flays Brooks

Sumner directed his speech, which concerned the acceptance of Kansas as a free state, directly at South Carolina and her representatives: Stephen Douglas and A. P. Butler, who wrote the Kansas-Nebraska bill.

Sumner laid bare what he called crime and denounced the Kansas-Nebraska bill authors as swindlers in every respect. He made many bitter remarks about the men and their state, closing his speech by saying, "Ah, sir, I tell the Senator that Kansas, welcomed as a free state, will be a 'ministering angel' to the republic when South Carolina, in the cloak of darkness which she hugs, 'lies howling'". . . .

Historical comment favors Sumner, it is said, although Brooks was rewarded for his assault by the gold headed cane and re-elected to congress.

The assault took place on May 22, 1856, and Brooks died Jan. 27, 1857, not more than eight months later.

The American Council of Education reports that the depression has not decreased, in the least, the enrollment of colleges and universities.

THE LOWDOWN ON HIGHER SPORTS

By FRANK WATSON

The Mountain Lion basketeers seem to be off on a good start toward a successful season. So far, the Whelps have grabbed three straight games and don't have a single defeat on record. Judging from the past contests, Nettles and Fox are the big scoring guns while Leister and Swann are standing above the other cagers in defensive play. The Lions still have not pulled fur with Boiling Springs, Wingate, Belmont Abbey, and Rutherford, but from the record made by these teams this season, the Whelps hold the upper hand.

Several of the boys are wanting to know if the swimming pool is still located in the basement of the gym. Until a few days ago there was a "Pool Room" sign on the door leading from the boy's locker room, but Ed Bunker replaced it with a "Billiards" sign, because it sounded better. As yet, the door remains locked.

The intramural boys are locking horns in a big way and a great deal of interest is being taken in both leagues. The C-II quint seem to hold a slight edge over the other class fives, while the Town, Madison, and Yancey aggregations are playing

Say It With Flowers

—From—

ALLISON'S FLOWER SHOP

Asheville, N. C.

Corner Haywood and College

Phones:

Store 2197 House 484

closely matched basketball for honors among the other clubs. Among the players showing promise are Scruggs, Wall, Briggs, Parker, Cauthern, and (Nanney and Caston.)

A few nights ago the public of Mars Hill was treated with a fast and thrilling hockey match between Sam Justice and his Blue Devils against Fred Parker and his Red Demons. Although the playing was closely matched, the superb work of Icard and Vereen was—the downfall of their respective teams. The contest ended in a 3-3 deadlock.

Clios Elect Carolyn Haynes As New Head

(Continued from page 1)
taken part in various activities. At present she is an intercollegiate debater, associate director of B. Y. P. U., a member of the Y. W. A. counsel, and reporter for the International Relations Club.

BUS SCHEDULE

—WEEKLY—

Leave Mars Hill:
7:00 and 10:45 A. M., 1:00 and 4:30 P. M.

Leave Asheville:
9:00 A. M., 3:00 & 6:00 P. M.

—SUNDAY—

Leave Mars Hill:
6:00 & 8:45 A. M., 4:00 P. M.

Leave Asheville:
7:00 & 10:00 A. M., 6:00 P. M.

SATURDAY SPECIAL Round Trip $1.00

Bus leaves Mars Hill at 1:00 P. M. and leaves Asheville at 9:30 P. M.

THE CITIZEN ENGRAVING CO.
CITIZEN BUILDING
ASHEVILLE, N. C.
ARTISTS PHOTOGRAPHERS PHOTO-ENGRAVERS

TINGLE'S CAFE
ASHEVILLE, N. C.
—O—
WELCOMES YOU

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO EVERYONE
If we can be of service to you in any manner call on us.
We will be more than glad to accommodate you.

POPE'S PHARMACY
SODAS—CANDIES—DRUGS—SCHOOL SUPPLIES

ARE YOU INTERESTED
About the Impression your appearance makes on others?
Let us do your Laundry this year for your convenience.
WEAVERVILLE STEAM LAUNDRY
Weaverville, N. C.

Clothes Cleaned and Pressed by Us Portray A Better Personality
ROBERTS BROS.
Weaverville, N. C.