Lions Break Even In Four Cage Tilts

Win Over Rutherford And Marion; Lose Games To Weaver and Yancey Quints

Old Man "Jinx" hit Coach Roberts' Lion basketeers and slowed up the attack of the Whelps considerably as the Mars Hill five split a four game series. In the first of the contests Weaver took the Lions into camp with a 25-21 score in a game that was featured with the sharpshooting of Nettles, Mars Hill forward, and Henson, lanky Tornado center. Nettles ran up 12 markers while Weaver pivot ace, counted for 14.

In the next game Mars Hill tramped the strong Rutherford quint to the tune of 46 to 28. Nettles and Swann led the Whelps with 12 and 10 points respectively, while Bronson garnered 17 tallies for the Ramblers.

After dividing these two conference games the Lions split two tilts with all-star aggregations. Marion All-Stars were trampled with a 48 to 27 count, and in the next cage battle the Yancey All-Star crew turned the tables to grab a 39-36 victory over the Whelps.

C-I's Beat Ministers For Intramural Honors

*Freshman Win Two Straight
Games In Series Playoff;
Parker Is High Scorer
For Season*

After defeating the Town team in a three game series, the C-I class quint trampled a Ministerial crew, National League champions, in two straight contests to capture the intramural cup for this season.

In the leagues championship playoff, the Freshmen took two straight tilts from the Town team to cop the American League pennant, while the Ministers took the count over the seniors in one contest and laid claim to the National League title. For some mysterious reason the C-II's were not allowed to play their other game of the series.

Parker, forward for the preacher five, still leads the "Sizzlin Six" with 76 markers, while Wall is a close second with 65 tallies.

LIONS ENJOY GOOD SEASON

*Whelps Score 733 Points In Winning 12 Out Of 21;
Nettles High With 276
Points*

Old man basketball has finally taken his count at Mars Hill for this season and he left the Mountain Lions with a pretty good record. During the 1932-'33 season the Whelps won 12 games and dropped 9. The local five piled up wins over Candler All-Stars, Yancey All-Stars, two over Biltmore, Belmont Abbey, and Weaver, Madison All-Stars, Rutherford, Marion All-Stars, and Cumberland. Games lost were to Rutherford, Weaver, Tenn. Wesleyan, Yancey All-Stars, two to Asheville School, and three to Boiling Springs.

Nettles Leads Scoring
One of the highest individual scores in the history of the school was made by Bill Nettles this season. The flashy forward piled up 276 points out of 21 games. Fox, another forward, was second with 161 points, while Leister, Lion floor ace, was third with 115.

Individual Scoring:

Player	Pos.	Points
Nettles	F	276
Fox	F	161
Leister	G	115
Swann	G	83
Stroupe	C	42
Parham	G	18
Robinson	C	17
Rabb	F	16
Moore	G	5

Total—Opponents 689, Mars Hill 733.

Lions Bow In First Game Of State Event

*Lose To Boiling Springs, 39-27
In Opening Round Play Of Davidson Tourney*

Mars Hill reluctantly acknowledged defeat for the third time this season at the hands of the Boiling Springs five when they met recently at the North Carolina Junior College Basketball Tournament, which was held at Davidson College. Boiling Springs won this hotly contested fray only to meet defeat in a tilt with the Wingate aggregation at the semi-finals.

Coach Roberts' five jumped to an early lead over the Boiling Springs team, and at the end of the first half were easily leading with a tally of 17 to 10. The Mountain Lion was crippled in the latter half by the absence of her two star forwards, Fox and Nettles, who were out of the game on fouls. Mars Hill was severely handicapped by the loss of the excellent teamwork which characterizes the attack of these two cagers. The Lions fought stubbornly against these ancient rivals but were unable to stop the advance of their powerful opponents in the last half of the game. At the final whistle, the Lions were trailing with a score of 27 to 39.

Swan, star guard for Mars Hill, played a nice defensive game, while Rabb and Parham filled the gap left by the absence of Fox and Nettles in the latter half in a quite commendable manner. Mauney and Jolly led the offensive for the Boiling Springs quint.

THE LOWDOWN ON HIGHER SPORTS

By FRANK WATSON

America's favorite sport will soon make its debut at Mars Hill for this year when Coach Roberts whips his baseball nine into shape for the coming season. The Mountain Lions should see a crack team on the field since they will have the support of five lettermen from last year together with a group of promising freshmen. Dud Rabb, hurler from last year's aggregation, will probably see a good deal of action on the mound this season since only one other pitcher has reported for the tryouts. Walt Rabb, short-stop, Roberts, second baseman, Fox and Jones, outfielders, complete the roster of old "M" men. Swann, ace chucker, from Mars Hill High, Nettles, football and basketball star of this year, and Tuttle, member of 1932 squad, will also make bids for the diamond team.

The departure of basketball left the Lions with a pretty neat record, but if Coach Roberts' hopes are fulfilled Mars Hill should have one of the best teams in the state next season. Out of the squad this year six or seven lettermen are planning to return and make bids next season. These will be aided by quite a few flashy boys who showed up in the high school tournament.

Coach Roberts has issued a call for all men, who have any track ability, to report for this year's cinder team.

This new sport on Mars Hill's roster is expected to create a good deal of interest among the student's and fans. Last year the Lions entered two meets and made a mighty good showing. The trackmen are entered in the Y. M. C. A. meet in Asheville and several meets expected to be registered with Asheville School and other teams of western North Carolina.

Several promising tennis players from last year and some good freshmen prospects have enrolled with Coach Wood for a chance on the Mars Hill tennis crew. The Lion racquet swingers went undefeated last season and laid claim to the junior college tennis title. Among those reporting this season are: Wilkins, Burnett, Wall, and Stroupe from last season's squad together with Stephenson, Bunker, and Burnett, freshmen aspirants for tennis fame.

After a careful study of the intramural basketeers we wish to submit the following as our all-star teams, selected on a basis of all around play and value to the team:

First Team	Pos.	2nd Team
Parker (Min.)	F	Byrd (C-II)
Peterson (C-II)	F	Alexander (C-I)
McGehee (Min)	C	Justice (C-II)
Briggs (C-I)	G	Williams (C-II)
Wall (C-I)	G	Hames (Min)

WEST BUNCOMBE CAPTURES EIGHTH ANNUAL TOURNEY

*Buncombe Quint Wins Over
Mars Hill In Thrilling
Playoff, 24-19*

West Buncombe's "dark horse" basketball quint shoved all contenders aside and swept away honors in Mars Hill's Eighth Annual High School Tournament. The Buncombe county boys, who were ceded fourth place in the tourney, played super-basketball at certain periods when opponents held threatening scores, but during most of the contests played a smooth, slow game.

Mars Hill in Finals
Coach Cathey's Buncombe had a good deal of trouble in disposing of the Mars Hill aggregation in the final battle. In the first game of the championship play the two teams fought on even terms throughout the fray and on through four extra periods. When the score was tied at 19-19 after the fourth period, the officials decided to play the game off the next Monday night. In the final game West Buncombe grabbed an early lead and held it throughout the contest to win by a 24 to 19 count. M. Gaddy and Cole were the backbone of West Buncombe's attack, while Owens and Clark proved to be the key men in Mars Hill's play.

Sluder (1)	F	English
Wells (4)	C	(8) Owens
Cole (3)	G	(2) Carter
C. Gaddy	G	(5) Ramsey

Semi-Finals
The semi-final play saw two closely matched teams as the Mars Hill team took a 27 to 19 decision over the strong Grace five. In this fray Clarke, stellar forward for the Madison quint, was the big scoring gun of the night with 15 tallies to his credit, while Owens, all-tournament man, was second with 9 markers. F. Carter led Coach Pierce Matthew's charges with 7 points.
In a closely played game, both offensively and defensively, the West

Buncombe crew eked out a 15-14 win over a flashy Tipton Hill quint. There was no high individual scoring, but Wells and Bradshaw, pivot aces for their respective teams, led in the floor work.

Quarter-Finals
Several good teams were eliminated by a small margin when the eight surviving teams from the preliminaries went into the quarter-finals. Grace led off with a 19 to 16 victory over Edneyville. Next was Tipton Hill over Valley Hill with a 24-16 count, Mars Hill 19 Barnardville 15, with West Buncombe and Catawba fighting it out in the last of the quarters as the Catawba county boys fell with a 37 to 20 score.

Preliminaries
The results of the first eight games were:
Barnardville 32, Bald Creek 14
Catawba 27, Red Oak 24
Tipton Hill 36, Sylva 13
Valley Hill 18, Glenwood 12
Grace 34, Rosman 17
Mars Hill 28, Fines Creek 12
Edneyville 16, Bakersville 11
West Buncombe 13, Marshall 9
