

CONSOLIDATED SUMMER PROGRAM APPROVED

10th Cage Tourney Here Feb. 28-Mar. 2

Sixteen High School Teams Invited To Participate; Several Champs.

The tenth annual Mars Hill high school basketball tournament will be held in the Mars Hill College gym on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, February 28 and March 1 and 2.

This tournament is the largest tournament to be held in the state of North Carolina this season. In former years it ranked behind the N. C. State College tournament, but since the latter is not being held this year, the Mars Hill tournament is expected to take the spotlight. In the opinion of many basketball authorities this tournament is one of the outstanding tournaments held over the entire South.

A total of sixteen high school teams have been extended invitations. In past years thirty-two teams have been invited, but for the last six years only sixteen teams have been asked. This was necessitated by the lack of accommodations for all teams.

Approximately forty teams sent in applications for the tournament. Several county champions were listed in this group. Around 15 counties were represented in this year's group of applications. As a usual thing the best team in a county is given the bid.

Glancing over the entry list, it is found that three former champions are represented this year. These are Sylva, Edneyville and Tipton Hill. Sylva is the only one winning the tournament twice, in 1926 and 1928. Edneyville copped the title in 1931. Last year's champions, Tipton Hill, will again be on hand to defend their title. The Sylva outfit is the only one which has a chance to take the cup home as a permanent possession. In order to keep the cup permanently a team must win it three times. Only one other team, Leicester, has won the tournament twice, but they are not entered this year.

Fourteen teams have already been sent invitations with two to be selected. Tournaments are being held (Continued on page 3)

12 Members Added To Scriblerus Club

Program Comprises Original Plays And Poetry.

The monthly meeting of the Scriblerus Club was held Tuesday night, February 12, at the home of Mr. John A. McLeod, faculty advisor. It was the first meeting of the new semester, and twelve new members were admitted to the club.

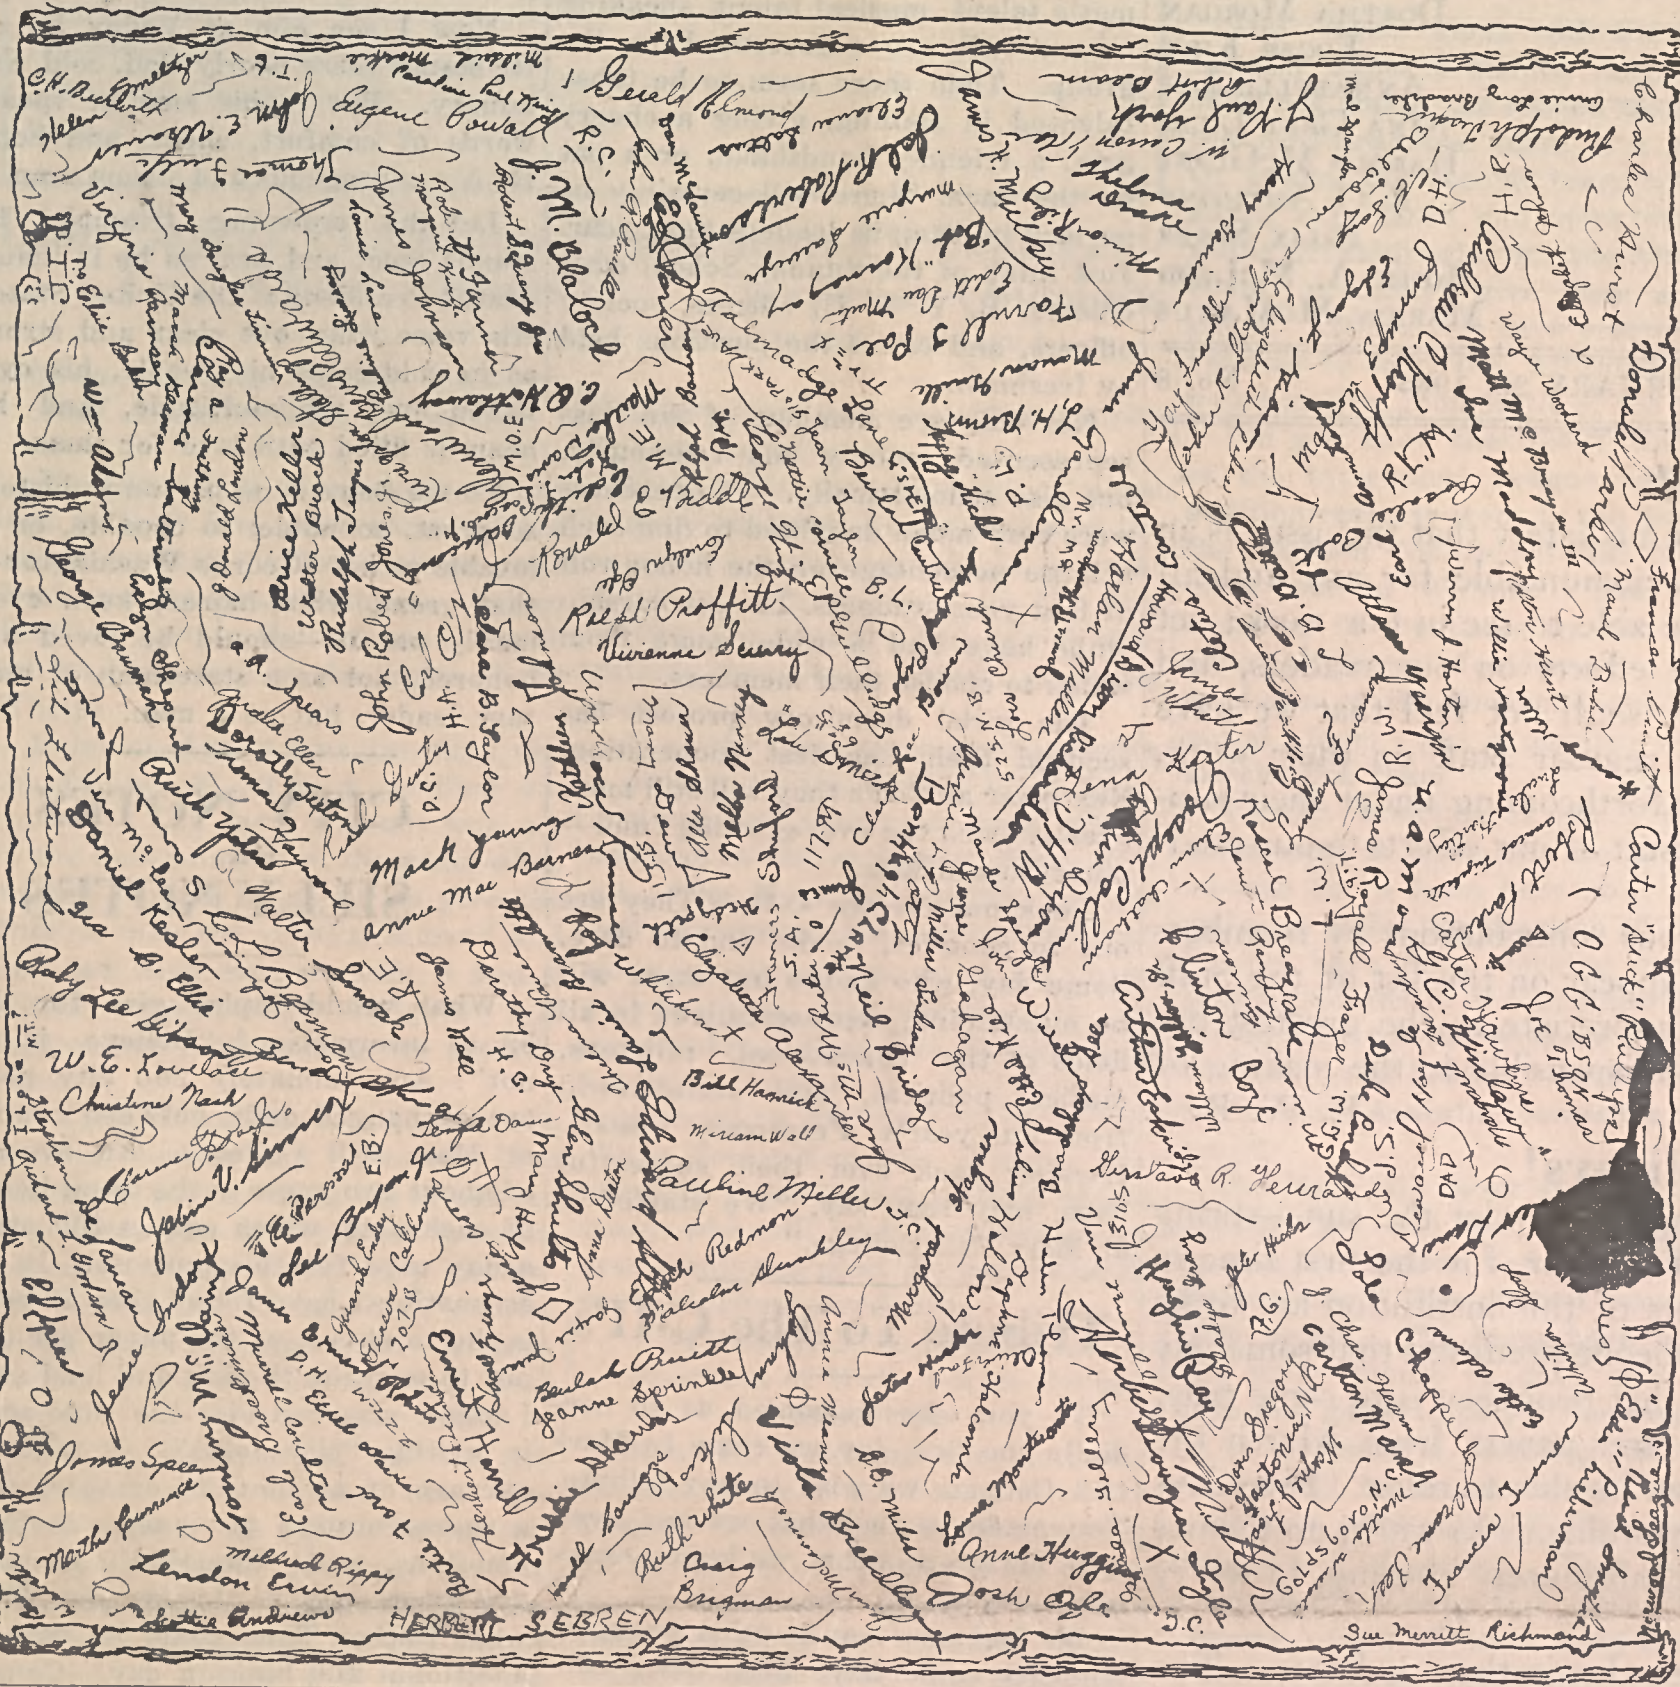

After the roll call, to which the members responded with quotations from Shakespeare, the initiation in the form of an English examination was given to the new members. Upon the passing of this, they were voted into the club. The new members are Evelyn Shepard, Atlasse Yeargin, Judith Eller, Jessie Indorf, Earle Brockman, Ernest Harrill, Ralph Bowen, Charles Hurst, Walter Brock, Brice Keller, Howard Richardson, and Eddie Lieberman.

The short program consisted of the reading of two original one-act plays, both of which were entered in the contest at Chapel Hill, "A Good Bargain", by Neil Hartley, and "Ashes", by Hubert Elliott.

The following officers were elected during the business session: Ruth Bennett, president; Kathryn Ellis, vice-president; Thelma Killian, secretary; Dortha Morgan, reporter.

Following the business session refreshments were served by Mrs. McLeod, and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

C-1 CLASS ROLL

Wake Forest, Meredith, Mars Hill, To Combine For Summer School

Senior College Work To Be Offered Here This Summer.

A plan which has been in the making for some time is to be a reality this summer when Wake Forest and Meredith extend their forces to Mars Hill to bring about a more efficient summer session here. This plan provides senior college work at Mars Hill in summer session. The executive committee of Wake Forest approved the plan Saturday, February 23, and immediately upon the approval all three colleges swung into action to make the project a success. A bulletin giving the facts concerning the session is to be released soon.

This plan was originally conceived in the minds of some of the leaders at Wake Forest and has enjoyed the hearty support of those at Meredith. Dr. R. L. Moore and the faculty of Mars Hill have eagerly pressed the project to a successful conclusion. Senior college work will be offered with the exception of courses in law, medicine, and the higher sciences. All of Mars Hill's facilities will be available. Visiting professors will teach the junior and senior subjects.

Dr. B. Y. Tyner of Meredith, who is largely responsible for bringing this helpful plan to pass, will be director of the session, and Dean I. N. Carr will act as associate director. Mrs. R. L. Moore will fill the duties of bursar and Prof. J. W. Huff will continue as registrar, while Mrs. Laura Shaw, the dietitian, will prepare the food for the greatly increased attendance.

Dean I. N. Carr estimates that about five hundred students will attend the summer sessions. The terms will last six weeks and nine weeks. Many students will take advantage of one or both of these terms this summer. Those who could not come in the past because Mars Hill offered only junior college work are expected to avail themselves of the greater service.

A full athletic program will promote recreation for students. All tennis courts will be in trim condition; the swimming pool will invite students to a plunge; and summer baseball is being planned. The cool mountain tops invite students from the terrific heat of the lowlands. Mountain hiking and outdoor exercise of all kinds in the beautiful surroundings will make next summer's sessions health building as well as offering all the advantages of a senior college.

As A Meredith Student Sees It

"From the student's viewpoint the new arrangement relative to a Wake Forest-Meredith-Mars Hill Summer School held at Mars Hill seems to offer many advantages. There is afforded to a large number of students in the western part of the state an opportunity to enjoy the opportunities and privileges of a fully accredited four year liberal arts college set-up in their midst. And to those in other (Continued on page 4)

Charter Day Observed Here February 15

Charter Day was celebrated at Mars Hill College Friday, Feb. 15, with a program in the college auditorium at 11 o'clock in commemoration of the granting of the first Charter of the college in 1859.

Among those appearing on the program were: W. H. Hipps, Ellis C. Jones, Henry Sharp, Gilbert H. Morris, and Mrs. Devinish, all of Asheville. Mr. Morris, vice-president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., Asheville, which administers the endowment funds of the college, spoke on the mission and opportunity of the college and told of the prospects of (Continued on page 4)

Japan Is Subject Of I. R. C. Meet

Eight New Members Admitted To Club.

At the regular meeting of the International Relations Club at the home of Dean Carr on Tuesday night, February 12, the following officers were elected: LaFayette Wrenn, of Siler City, president; Marie Young, vice-president; Katherine Hollowell, secretary-treasurer; Christine Roberson, reporter.

The program, a very educational one, was as follows: "Japanese Relations with England," by Brownlow Hastings; "Japanese Relations with America," by Martha Mae Glazener; "Japanese Relations with China," by Katherine Hollowell; and "Japanese Relations with Manchuria," by Jack Benson.

Eight new members were accepted and initiated into the club. They were P. B. Orr, Elizabeth Johnson, Lois Church, Betty Elliott, Mildred Rippy, and Helen Thomas.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a social hour and delightful refreshments were enjoyed by all.

John B. Wilder Is Ordained As Minister

From Asheville Citizen.

The Rev. John B. Wilder, a student at Mars Hill College from Pharr, Texas, was ordained to the Gospel ministry Sunday evening, Feb. 17, at the Mars Hill Baptist Church.

At the request of the Ivy Hill Baptist church, where Mr. Wilder has been called as pastor, a presbytery was ordered for his examination Sunday afternoon. The following presbytery, with the Rev. L. B. Olive as moderator and Professor Vernon Wood as secretary, examined the candidate: the Rev. Dr. O. E. Sams, the Rev. P. C. Stringfield, the Rev. James Thompson, the Rev. B. M. Canup, the Rev. J. A. McLeod, Dr. R. L. Moore, A. V. Nolan, I. N. Carr, J. B. Huff, S. Lee Carter, W. M. Edwards, Tom Baird, and L. Z. Eller.

Following a favorable report from the presbytery the ordination services were held Sunday evening. The Rev. (Continued on page 2)

Presidents Of Colleges Express Opinions

Meredith

A summer school for the session of 1935 at Mars Hill in which Wake Forest College and Meredith College are to participate indicates a wholesome and gratifying development. It shows that these three institutions are discovering the value and the possibilities of cooperation. The collaboration of the three institutions will lead to results that could not be realized without such united effort. It is believed that such a relationship will not only react favorably on the institutions themselves but will offer important advantages to students.

We congratulate all concerned on such a happy consummation, and pledge unflinching loyalty to this progressive movement.

CHAS. E. BREWER,
President Meredith College.

Wake Forest

Wake Forest College has for a number of years maintained a summer session. The work of the summer session is coordinated in courses and credit with the work of the regular session. An increasing number of students are availing themselves of the opportunities afforded by it to (Continued on page 3)

Contest Play Chosen By Dramatic Club

The Mars Hill Dramatic Club has chosen the one-act tragedy, "The Breaking of the Calm," by Dan Tothoroh to represent this society in the annual production contest of the Carolina Playmakers, to be held at the University of North Carolina in May. As yet the cast for this play has not been selected, but students of the expression department are now trying out for parts.

It is regretted that none of the three original plays submitted in this contest by Mars Hill entrants were accepted for production.

Mrs. Lane Is House Mother At Melrose

Mrs. S. M. Lane of Raleigh, the mother of Louise Lane, a student here, has recently assumed the duties of house mother in Melrose. She takes the place of Mrs. Charles McComb, who was not able to return to her duties on account of illness. Mrs. Lane is new at this kind of work, but she knows boys. As she expresses it, her purpose is "to be a mother to the boys." Her greatest assurance of success is her lovable disposition, coupled with kindness and patience.
