

THE HILLTOP

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

ALL SUCCESS
EUTHALIANS

SUCCESS TO YOU
PHIS

MARS HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, NOVEMBER 13, 1935

NO. 2

SEBREN AND BARNETTE
HEAD COLLEGE GROUPS
DURING COMING TERMS

George Wirtz and Joe Thomas Chosen As Vice-Presidents Of 2 Classes For Coming Year

HORNE HEADS ACADEMY

Warren Taylor Elected Vice-President Of Academy; Sponsors Yet To Be Selected

In class elections held this past month Herbert Sebren was chosen as president of the Senior Class of Mars Hill College. He was unanimously elected on the second ballot cast by his classmates.

George Wirtz was elected vice-president; Doris Johnson, secretary; and Query, treasurer. These officers will serve the class for this year.

The Juniors chose J. N. Barnette as their president. He also served as vice-president of the rising juniors last year in the academy. Joe Thomas, secretary, and Betty Elliot, treasurer, will assist in conducting the activities of the Junior Class for the ensuing period.

Soapy Horne was given the job of guiding the Academy classes through the year. His right hand men chosen by the Academy students are: Warren Taylor, vice-president; Herbert Wirtz, secretary; and Claudia Drake, treasurer.

Sponsors of the classes were not chosen during these meetings, but will be selected at the next meeting of the classes. Mr. Wood and Mother Wilkins were sponsors of the Academy classes last year, Mr. and Mrs. Huntington and Mr. McLeod for the graduating students of last year.

Fall Play Given By Dramatic Club

Hedda Gabler Presented; Doris Johnson and Howard Richardson Have Leading Roles

The Dramatic Club of Mars Hill College gave its fall play with the presentation of Henrik Ibsen's Hedda Gabler last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium.

Hedda Gabler is considered one of the best modern tragedies. Her character was well portrayed by Miss Doris Johnson who depicted the traits of Hedda as a defeated personality who suffered thwarted desires. The part of George Tesman, Hedda's husband, was also well characterized by Howard Richardson. Other characters in the play were: Mrs. Elvsted, Miss Lucille Hartley; Aunt Julia, Miss Jessie Indorf; Berta, Miss Mavis Allan; Mr. Lovborg, C. J. Ellen; Judge Brack, Bill Hill.

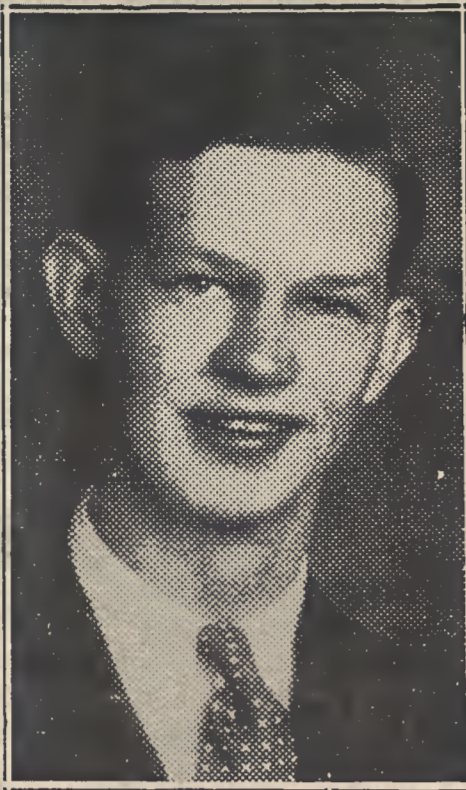

Emphasis was laid on the lighting effects and the setting. The costuming was according to the styles of the latter part of the 19th century. Miss Bonnie Wengert, dramatic instructor of the college, directed the drama.

Head Of National Youth Administration In State Asks Cooperation Of College Students

The beginning of the functioning of the National Youth Administration's program has a timely significance for every college student. The general state of our national affairs, economic and social, makes it imperative for every individual, in or out of college to apply his best thought to the solution of those problems which confront us today.

It is certainly true that what is needed more than any one thing is a revival of self-dependence, which de-

SENIOR PRESIDENT

HERBERT SEBREN

Ruth Yates Chosen
As Vice-President
At B. S. U. Meeting

Bob Costner, Mars Hill Grad, Presides Over Meetings At B.S.U. Convention In Raleigh

32 ATTEND FROM HERE

Annie Mackie, Last Year's Mars Hill Grad, Is Also Elected Vice-President For Next Year

The Baptist Student Union of North Carolina met for their annual meeting at the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Raleigh on October 25 to 27. Over three hundred and fifty students met in the vast auditorium for two days of meetings.

Thirty-two students journeyed to Raleigh in a bus to represent Mars Hill at the convention. One of this number, Miss Ruth Yates, was elected vice-president of the State Union at the meeting.

Two other Mars Hill graduates took prominent parts in the meeting. They were Bob Costner and Annie Mackie, both graduates last year. Bob Costner was president of the State B. S. U. for last year and as such presided over the meetings of the convention. Annie Mackie was also chosen as a vice-president along with Ruth Yates.

(Continued on page 4)

M. E. Oakes Added To English Staff

Professor J. B. Huff Is Confined To His Home At The Present Time On Account Of Illness

Mr. M. E. Oakes, of New York, has been obtained to take the place of Mr. J. B. Huff of the English department, who is confined to his bed with illness that necessitates his staying off his feet for several months. Mr. Oakes received his B. A. degree from the University of Southern California and his M. A. degree from Columbia University. At the present time he is working on his Ph. D. degree from Teachers' College of Columbia University.

(Continued on page 3)

Anniversary Series
Starts With Non-Eu
Observance Saturday

Societies To Observe Their Anniversaries In The College Auditorium During Month

BROCK IS EU LEADER

Richard Goodson Is Phi President Selected For The Anniversary Program Of The Phis

The Euthalian Literary Society will start the annual anniversary season of the four Mars Hill literary societies on Saturday evening, November 16, 1935 by presenting its forty-fifth anniversary program. It will be given in the College auditorium beginning at eight o'clock.

The society officers for this term will preside on Anniversary night in the place of a special set of anniversary officers. These officers are: Walter Brock, president, and Brice Keller, Secretary.

Wayne Foster has been elected chief-marshal for the occasion with Wayne Woodard and Olive Ford as the other marshals from that society.

The best speakers in the society have been selected and are working to give the public a very interesting program. Those selected to debate on next Saturday evening are: Ernest Harrill, William Fleming, William Hill, and Robert Query. The orators for this program will be John Stevens and James Thompson, and Howard Richardson and John Wagner will give declamations.

Dr. Richardson Gives Lectures On Health

Second In Series Of Talks On Mental Health Was Delivered Thursday Of Last Week

Dr. Frank Howard Richardson, of Black Mountain and Brooklyn, delivered the second of a series of lectures on health before the students and faculty of the college at the chapel period last Thursday.

The first of the series was delivered the week before on physical health. The two, physical and mental health, Dr. Richardson said, cannot be divorced. Declaring that man is the sum of his habits, Dr. Richardson spoke on habits of study, sleep, smoking, petting, and alcohol in their relation to mental and emotional health.

At the close of his lecture Dr. Richardson devoted a brief period to questions and discussions in which a number of the students participated.

Dr. Richardson, besides being a practicing physician, is nationally known as an author of several books and articles on health and psychology and is active in child welfare work. His chief distinction at Mars Hill, however, is that of being the father of Howard.

Grads Doing Well

Reports for this column are welcomed from alumni of the College as to their whereabouts and deeds since leaving Mars Hill.

Rev. Zeno Wall, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Shelby, celebrated his tenth anniversary as pastor there recently. Dr. Wall is President of the Baptist State Convention.

Senator John S. Battle, of Charlottesville, Va., some time ago was appointed by Gov. Peery as a member of the governor's advisory council on legislation in Virginia. Mr. Battle graduated in law at the University of Virginia in 1913 after leaving Mars Hill.

Rev. Clarence H. Patrick, is now pastor of the First Baptist Church, Selburne Falls, Mass.

CONVENTION PRESIDENT

DR. ZENO WALL

Alumni Groups Meet
Over N. C. With Idea
Of Forming Chapters

Meeting Of Alumni From Over The State Was Held In Asheville Last Evening At 5:45

BLACKWELL IS DIRECTOR

Madison County Alumni Were First To Organize And Have Already Started To Work

Satisfactory progress has been made in the Enlargement Campaign for Mars Hill College, according to Mr. Hoyt Blackwell, director of the program.

The fine spirit shown on Founder's Day was again manifested in the many associational meetings recently held throughout North Carolina. The responses from the alumni and other friends of Mars Hill College in these meetings was very encouraging.

Mr. Blackwell is now engaged in organizing Mars Hill Alumni Chapters in all the western counties of North Carolina. When this is accomplished, he plans to organize alumni chapters in all sections of the country where sons and daughters of Mars Hill College may be found.

The workers in this movement desire the active interest of all former students and other friends of the

(Continued on page 4)

Miss Helen Corpening
Goes To Cincinnati

Miss Corpening, State Essay Winner, Represents N. C. In National Contest This Week

Miss Helen Corpening of Newton, popular C-I of the campus is to represent the state of North Carolina and Mars Hill College in the National Building and Loan Essay Cup contest to be held in Cincinnati November 13.

Miss Corpening won the Keeler Memorial Contest in the State last year for which she received $100.00. From this contest she goes to the Cincinnati contest with her essay "The Value of Owning a Home". Each speaker is limited to five minutes and the winner in this contest

(Continued on page 4)

COLLEGE IS HOST TO CONVENTION
WEDNESDAY P. M.

Educational Meeting of Baptist State Convention Will Hold Session In College Chapel

DR. LITTLE TO SPEAK

Dr. Zeno Wall Is President This Year; The Rev. W. L. Griggs To Speak This Afternoon

The Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, which is meeting in Asheville Nov. 10 - 14, will be the guest of Mars Hill College Wednesday for the afternoon session to be held in the College Auditorium.

The First Baptist Church of Asheville is host this week to the 1935 meeting of the Convention. Dr. Zeno Wall, an alumnus of Mars Hill College, and now pastor of the First Baptist Church of Shelby, is president of the Convention this year.

The meeting Monday was given to the sessions of the State Baptist Pastors' Conference. Our own pastor L. B. Olive, who is leaving the last of this week for China, was head of the conference this past year.

The convention proper began Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday night an alumni banquet of Mars Hill College was held in the First Baptist Church of Asheville. A large number of former students of the College attended the banquet.

The Wednesday afternoon session of the convention will begin at 2:30 o'clock with the worship period. This will be led by the Rev. W. L. Griggs, a former student at Mars Hill, now pastor of the Ninth Avenue Baptist Church of Charlotte. At 2:45 o'clock

(Continued on page 2)

Plans Going Forward For Readers Contest

Plans Call For Preliminaries On Friday, November 13, Finals On Saturday, December 14

The tenth annual Readers and Declaimers contest held at Mars Hill each year will be held this year on December 13 and 14, Friday and Saturday. Friday will be used for preliminaries with the finals on Saturday.

These contests have been held each year for the past nine years with many high schools represented. Each high school entering the contest sends one reader and one declaimer with a chaperone.

Friday afternoon is given over to the preliminaries when the six best readers and the six best declaimers are weeded out. Saturday is used for the finals when the best reader and declaimer are selected.

As a prize a silver loving cup is given to each of the two winners with his name and the name of the school he represents engraved upon it.

Each year these contests grow in interest and attract a larger number from a wider area. Results have been most gratifying to officials of the college.

Inquiring Hilltop Reporter Interviews
Prominent Citizens About Precipitation

Mars Hill and vicinity has had only scattered showers in the past two months with the result that dust has become almost unbearable. The Hilltop, in its eagerness to present the opinions of the people in its pages, has asked the views of five of the more prominent citizens in this community.

Freddie Freshman when interviewed by a news-hound was of the opinion that things were becoming drastic. "Dust is becoming so thick on the road from Brown and Melrose to the dining hall that I've almost been late for breakfast several times in the past few days. The dust is as thick as fog and I've narrowly averted collisions several times on the 7:09 run to breakfast."

"Woe is me, Woe is me," moaned Frank Faculty when ye olde editor spoke to him concerning the lack of

(Continued on page 4)