MARS HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, MAY 27, 1937.

NO. 14

ALUMNI COME TO HONOR R. L. MOORE

Campus Paragraphics

AUTOGRAPHS

Autographs were in demand when the Laurels were finally circulated. Students hurried here and there about the campus requesting the signatures of friends. Seniors affirm that this is an important part of their commencement.

SHOCKED

Dean Biggers was shocked to Alma, Brown, Haynes. find three newshawks, Bellinger, Chapman, and Elliott, indulging in a mumble-peg game in the outdoor theatre recently. The boys hung their heads as the kindly dean administered a severe tongue lashing.

RETURN

From all parts of the state, and surrounding states, come hundreds of loyal Mars Hillians this week to pay tribute to R. L. Moore on the fortieth anniversary of his presidency at Mars Hill. Old students find reminiscence pleasing and society halls are a center for former members.

ILL

The Reverend William Lynch, popular pastor of the local church, has been confined to his home for sometime with illness. The youthful divine is expected to be able to attend the 81st finals this week, and friends and students are happy to note his steady improvement.

CANTATA

One of the features of Thursday's program, honoring R. L. Moore, will be the cantata, "Caravan," which will climax the musical program in the auditorium that evening. With orchestra and glee club in full quota, the event promises to be an outstanding part of the festivities.

FETED

Members of The Hilltop staff, with guests, enjoyed a delightful supper served picnic style on the spacious lawn of faculty adviser, John A. McLeod, last week. Mrs. McLeod charmingly served the guests from heavily laden tables, assisted by her sister, Miss Allen. After partaking of the supper, newsmen and ladies joined in a childhood spectacle, which included hide and seek, and other games. Editors Elliott and Chapman took graceful falls to delight lesser staff position holders.

PARTING

their hopes of being back next made that statement. "But God", year and find parting from this he said, "recognizes a higher stanyear's group sad. Considered one of the finest group of students ever to assemble here during Dr. Moore's forty years of leadership, cooperation has been had from all. Many express the hope that parting will only be a beginning of a of his audience the names of men perpetuation of college friendships.

Diplomas To Be Given To 134 Seniors

Exercises will be held tomorrow, May 28, for the largest graduating class in the history of the college. The class of 1937, which numbers 134, will be composed of the following qualifying seniors:

Abernathy, Lena, Adams, Anne. Aiken, Richard, Allen, Edna Ray, Allen, Homer, Allman, Leta J., Anderson, J. C., Anderson, W. K., Barringer, C. D., Bass, Elizabeth. Beare, Lucile, Beck, Martha, Bell, Helen, Benfield, Floy, Bradshaw, Buck, Bradshaw, Georgia, Brooks, Carter, Dean, Carter, Edward. Chapman, John, Clyde, Robert, Cornatzer, Eugene, Crater, Edith. Culberson, Rue, Culp, Nancy, Dale, Garmon, Davis, Emmett, Delbridge, Wm., Dixon, Arthur, Dixon, Philip, Duck, Otis, Elliott, Betty, Elliott, Hubert, English, Irene, Ernest, Mary Lee, Fleetwood, Elizabeth, Fleming, William, Ford, Grace, Gaddy, Julia, Gibson, Helen, Glass, Wilson, Gregory, Clarence, Greene, Winifred, Griffin, Cull, Griffin, D. M., Griffin, Exum, Hagler, Dorothy, Hamlin, Annie Lou, Hand, Harry, Hare, Albertina, Harkey, Harry, Hopkins, Ruby, Howell, Edith, Huff, Richard.

Jarret, Alton, Johnson, Elizabeth, Jones, James, Jordan, Irma, Jordan, Robert, Keller, Violet, Kelley, Rachel, Kirk, Helen Ida, Knight, John, Lamb, Mildred, Lane, Louise, Lewis, Margaret, Linney, Lillian, Long, Samuel, Mayberry, Charles, Morgan, E. S. Morgan, G. G., Morgan, Maurice, Murray Durwood, McCain, French McCall, Shell, McLendon, Albert McLendon, Eranda, Newman, Evelyn, O'Quinn, Harold, Pattillo Masie, Pierce, Crowell, Pigg, Mildred, Pipes, Lena, Pope, Jane, Preslar, Allen.

Pruett, Beulah, Randleman James, Ray, Boyd, Reagan, Gloria, Rhodes, Thomas, Rice, Willie, Roberts, Elizabeth, Roberts, Julia, Roberts, Verlie M., Robinson, Harold, Rush, Estelle, Russell, W. K., Sanders, Neal, Sanderson, Willie, Sanford, Howard, Scruggs, Clarice, Simpson, Adele, Sinclair, Edgar, Sloman, Effie, Snelson, Frances, Spears, Edwin, Spence, Dan, Spoon, Mildred L., Sprinkle, Marian, Sronce, Clyda, Stevens, (Continued on Page 4)

Dr. Powell Speaks To The Graduating Class

Using for his text the verse from Isaiah, "I will make a man more precious than gold", Dr. William Francis Powell delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the seniors in the college church on Sunday, May 23.

The gold standard, he brought out, has been used for the world's Many students are expressing financial transactions since God dard. God makes man so high above the money standard," he asserted, "that we lose sight of monetary values."

point by bringing to the attention Eleanor Cashwell; chorister, Polly whom the world has known as be-

(Continued on Page 4)

Forty Years of Service Rendered by R. L. Moore

R. L. Moore. Dr. Moore has served as president since his entrance into that office in 1897, at which time the financial responsibility of the college was turned over to him by the board of trustees. Mr. and Mrs. Moore, living then in what is now Treat dormitory, underwent considerable sacrifice in order to provide education for the willing students of the surrounding community. They used the common were in close personal contact with them. They were often of great personal help to the students, sometimes foregoing comforts for themselves in order to aid needy mester. ones. The common dining room was equipped by Mrs. Moore with nights when Mr. and Mrs. Moore would do without sufficient covering for their own beds in order that the students in need of covering might keep warm.

Today, Homecoming Day, repre- unselfish work for the college and sents the fortieth anniversary of his refusal to take more salary Mars Hill college under President than he needed to live simply. He has never accepted a salary higher than that of an ordinary teacher and has always contributed part of it to the growth of Mars Hill.

> It was in 1915 when the college was on a sufficiently strong basis to be turned back to the trustees.

The college has grown since the days when President Moore first came. Mars Hill was then an insignificant school in a remote secliving room with the students and tion of Western North Carolina. The expenses were very low, amounting to only five dollars a month for board, room, and laundry. Tuition was ten dollars a se-

President Moore took over the leadership of the college under her wedding presents of china and such conditions as these. He oversilver. Stories are told of the cold came the difficulties and made Mars Hill financially sound. He is today the oldest college president in point of service in North Caroline. Today is observed the triumph of a forty year struggle to Dr. Moore helped to restore the promote education through the stability of the college through his medium of Mars Hill college.

Catharine Etheridge

Catharine Etheridge was chosen to succeed Marian Sprinkle as president of the Nonpareils for the next term at their regular meeting on May 13. Other officers elected were: vice-president, Lena Sue Shermer; recording secretary, Virginia Anne Craver; corresponding secretary, Sara Darrough; Dr. Powell enlarged upon his censor, Virginia Drake; chaplain, Hartsell; pianist, Evelyn Hancock;

(Continued on Page 4)

Clios Elect Almond Is New Non President | As New Society Head

Mary Lou Almond was chosen as president of the Clios at their regular meeting May 13. She succeeds Martha Beck. Other officers elected were: first vice-president, Helen Smith; second vice-president, Julia Squires; secretary Marie Murphy; treasurer, Julia Chiles; censor, Margaret Chandler: corresponding secretary, Betty Cousins; chaplain, Ruth Clark: chorister, Frances Ward; pianist, treasurer, Ruth Martin; reporter, Ruth McKelvey; marshalls, Ruth

(Continued on Page 4)

Over A Thousand Former Students On Campus as College Pauses to Honor Oldest President In North Carolina.

40 YEARS SERVICE

Completed as School Year 1936-37 Comes to a Close

Over a thousand alumni are expected to be on the campus today to pay tribute to their alma mater. Homecoming Day is particularly outstanding this year because of the fact that it marks the fortieth anniversary of Mars Hill college under President R. L. Moore.

All members of the class of 1892, Dr. Moore's class, and all former teachers and students have been invited to return. Mr. Marshall of Raleigh, a former teacher of President Moore, who helped prepare him for college, will be present.

The exercises celebrating the president's fortieth anniversary, beginning at 10:45 in the morning, will be opened by E. F. Watson of Burnsville, chairman of the Board of Trustees. Several speakers from throughout the South will bring greetings to President Moore. The concluding address will be given by Dr. E. W. Sikes, president of Clemson College, a former Wake Forest teacher of Dr. Moore and a former president of Coker

The Alumni Association will elect the officers for the coming year today and will be addressed at their annual alumni luncheon by Dr. Marvin Scruggs of Char-

The Glee Club and orchestra will present a program of music in the college auditorium at 8:00 P. M. Five selections will be rendered by the orchestra and three by the Glee Club. Both the orchestra and Glee Club combined will give three selections from the operetta "Caravan." The expression

(Continued on Page 5)

Dr. Smith To Deliver The Final Address

The baccalaureate address will be delivered tomorrow, May 28, by Dr. Henry Louis Smith of Greensboro, who is a former university president, lecturer, and author. He is a graduate of Davidson college and, after graduation he continued his advanced studies at the University or North Carolina where he received his LL. D.

His career as an educator began with his position at Davidson college as professor of physics. He became president of that institution in 1901. From 1912 until his retirement in 1930 he was president of Washington and Lee Uni-

He is outstanding in the scientific field, belonging to several academies of science, including the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

He is known as the author of Your Biggest Job, and a lecturer on educational and scientific topics.