

Twenty-One Regional Clubs Are Organized

Edwin Hubbard heads the nineteen students from Yancey County as president, with Joe Radford as vice-president and Lucile Gillespie as secretary. The Rutherford-McDowell Club with nine students from the former and three from the latter, has chosen Guy Tronte, president; Abalean Creson, vice-president; Katy Ruth Grayson, secretary and treasurer, and Jewel Deviney and Valencia Hicks, corresponding secretaries for Rutherford and McDowell, respectively.

Fay Joines, president, Virginia Francis, vice-president; and Frank Rains, secretary and treasurer, are the officers of the two students from Alleghany, four from Wilkes, and eight from Stokes in this tro-county club. Cabarrus County's ten students are led by Jesse G. Moore, president, and Agnes Isenhour, secretary.

The Gaston County club, represented by twenty-four students, has elected the following: John Lewis, president; Flowers Clark, vice-president; Sara Alexander, secretary; and Roger Bell, reporter.

The nineteen students of Cleveland County have elected Clifford Hughes president; Kay Gary, vice-president, Ada Wall, secretary, and Sara Hopper, reporter.

Clarence Hyatt was chosen president of the Western Carolina Club. This group is composed of students from six counties. The counties are: Haywood with eight; Swain with nine; Cherokee, seven; Macon, three; Clay, two; and Transylvania, one.

T. W. Ellis, president; Ethel Adams, vice-president, and Frank Harris, secretary, lead the Eastern Carolina Club, composed of counties in central and eastern Carolina.

Wake County has fifteen students on the campus. They elected Mac Norwood, president; Martha Ellen, vice-president; Elizabeth Coppedge, secretary; and Dephne Penny, reporter.

Boyd Farthing leads the Tennessee group as president; Oscar Bryant, vice-president; Wilda Wynn, secretary; Julia Chles, treasurer; and Charles Trentham. There are 26 members.

Virginia has twenty representatives on the campus. These have elected: Franklin Hough, president; Adlai Hoyle, vice-president, and Billy Kelner, secretary. Georgia has eleven students who have chosen Catharine Etheridge president; Sara Odum, vice-president, and Dorothy Drake, secretary.

Gene Alexander is president of the 37 members of the South Carolina group. Polly Hartsell is secretary and Humphrey Jones, reporter.

All students from other states and foreign countries are members of the Cosmopolitan Club. The forty-three members elected Bill Kyles, president; Lois Stringfield, vice-president; Bobby D. Ford, secretary; John Ball, treasurer, and J. R. Evans, reporter.

Clios Will Present Reception In Halls

The decoration scheme will be centered around the Parthenon idea with the lower lobby being in the form of an open court. Tables will be arranged in the form of a Grecian Cross, with the Art studios being used as a dining hall. Hostesses attired in Grecian robes will have charge of the refreshments.

The reception is under the general direction of Mary Lou Almond, who also is head of the decoration committee. Other committee chairmen are: Frances Ward, chairman of the program committee, and Billie C. Henderson, who will be in charge of refreshments.

The reception follows the forty-seventh anniversary program presented by the Philomathians November 27.

was presented. In the center of the stage were three Clios representing "Truth, Purity and Fidelity," the ideals of the society. On either side were the Phi president and the Clio president, Mary Lou Almond. Concealed behind a curtain at the rear of the stage, were the Philomathians and the Clios who sang several of the society songs. After the songs, the members marched out two at a time, a Clio through the Clio emblem and a Philomathian through the Philomathian emblem. They met in the center of the stage and marched off the stage together, thus ending a beautiful and impressive program.
