

Lions Defeat Champion "Y" In Season Opener

GLEANINGS

By Thompson

Which column consists of words-and-ends picked up here and there and thieved from other exponents of pen and ink.

And of course, you've heard the expression: "Snow again, I, I've lost your drift." All which makes a poor beginning.

But then you know the doctor who asked the patient how he got so badly scraped and received the reply, "It happened the lake. I swam fifty yards before I found it was only a bridge."

From Parsons School Report: comes this bit of pessimism: "Girls, when they went out to swim, once dressed like Mother Hubbard."

At now they have a bolder whim, and dress more like the cupboard.

From Carolina comes the story that smacks much like town of Melrose:

The young man in question had taken his girl friend to see football game. In the course of the evening, she asked him, "Bobby, why didn't you shave this morning?" The boy, rubbing his hands over his rugged face, answered, "Gee! didn't I? I guess with twelve of us using the same mirror this morning, I must have shaved someone else."

At Wake Forest there is the story of a freshman who had just pledged a social brotherhood, and reportedly received the following telegram from the worried pater: DEAR SON, DON'T BUY ANY MORE FRATERNITIES.

That Father must have known the one who after the first two months of absence wrote his heliograph son: "Dear Son, I've been down to the bank to hear from you." Well, after all, a fellow needs some money, doesn't he?

Akin to the sailor who takes a boat ride on a holiday and the mailman who goes for a hike, is the college student who spends his vacation loafing.

A new angle on an old axiom: "Absence makes the mark grow rounder." How true! How true!

From the Daily Tar Heel of J. N. C. comes this cryptic tale of deplorable housing conditions. One of U. N. C.'s innocents (?) was trying hard to find himself a suitable room. "But I don't see any bath in here," he said to the landlady. "Oh I'm sorry, sir, I thought you were one of those students who just wanted the room for the winter."

From the North Star comes this sad tale of Mary's pet: Mary had a little lamb Given her to keep.

It followed her around until It died from lack of sleep.

Sad, isn't it? Perhaps you were there when the lengthy faculty lecturer rapped his desk severely and called, "Order! Order, please!" E. A. Pipkin, Jr. (Pepsi-Pete), sitting at the back of the room, stirred sleepily and

Sports Serenade

By Bruce Hudson

Well, ladies and gentlemen, now that the football season is completed, basketball is beginning to take the spotlight. This brings sighs of relief to some, and others have a disheartened look because the football season is over.

Outstanding for the Lions in the closing game were Plott, Bowen, and Day in the line and Carr and Cushwa in the backfield.

Hockey Game

The final hockey game was held November 29 by those members of the M-Blem club who have been attending the regular scheduled hockey practices. Fine spirit, sportsmanship, and skill have been displayed by all the participants at these practices.

The weather was perfect Saturday for hockey, and many spectators came down to the field to enjoy the game. Beverette Middleton and her "Buddie" were the official timekeepers and scorekeepers. The C-I's were the blue team; the C-II's the black team.

The line-up for the C-I team was as follows: C. F. Taylor; R. I. Bryant; L. I. Dobson; R. W. Cherry; L. W. Wilder;; R. H. Pierce; L. H. Capel; C. H. Rotella; F. F. Weston; L. F. Davis; goalkeeper, Ratcliff. Substitutes were Satterwhite, Myers, and Navy.

The line-up for the C-II team was as follows: C. F. Harris, R. I. Willis, L. I. Aydlett, R. W. Fleming, L. W. Enzar, R. H. McCleney, L. H. Drake, C. H. Flint, R. F. Hart, L. F. Jinette, Goalkeeper, Collins.

The M-Blem club is proud of the enthusiasm that the girls have shown in participating in the various sports. They have attended faithfully the different practices, and have been working hard to win their points toward the goal of 14.

The next sport that will be featured is basketball. Practices will begin next week and many girls are expected to participate. Remember, girls, every practice counts toward winning that beautiful pin!

answered, "Make mine Pepsi-Cola."

According to a recent survey among girls this is what an ideal boy should possess:

1. Have a car.
2. Be pleasant.
3. Have a car.
4. Be congenial.
5. Have a car.
6. Be a good listener.
7. Have a car.

P. S. Numbers 2, 4, and 6 may be omitted if the car has a radio.

"You're the first girl I ever kissed, dearest," said the senior as he shifted the gears with his feet.

Ho Hum! I wish I were a moment in my professor's class, for no matter how idle they are,

They always seem to pass.

APOLOGY

In the last issue of the Hilltop under the varsity basketball writeup, Harold Trentham's name was unintentionally omitted. We regret this oversight and offer our apologies to Harold, who was one of the leading players throughout the basketball season last year.

Lions Play Davidson Frosh Friday

The Mars Hill Lions basketballers left Friday for Davidson, where the Freshman basketball team of Davidson will play Mars Hill.

The Davidsonians usually have a good and fast club and are expected to fight the Lions all the way. The Wildkittens will be led by the Peters brothers and Belk of the Belk Department Store.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

The intramural basketball teams got under way with a "bang!" on Monday. Twelve teams are competing on the schedule, but so far only three games have been played. At the end of the regular schedule, the four leading teams will play among themselves to decide the winner of the intramural tournament. The games will continue to be played until December 12, and begin again after the holidays.

There are eleven student teams and one faculty team. The members of the faculty who will play are: Cowan, Sebren, Kendall, Gardner, Howell, and King, with Coach Roberts managing the faculty.

The scores of the three games that have been played thus far, with the lineups and scores made by the individual players are as follows:

Ingle's Hope Team	Bowen's Team
Davis, 4	Moore, 5
White, 5	Cushwa, 0
Ingle, 2	Roberson, 4
Waldrop, 6	Hardin, 0
Bridges, 0	Laughlin, 7
Randall, 4	Bowen, 4
Anderson, 4	Riggsbee, 4
Edwards, 3
Blake, 5
Final score: Ingle's team, 32; Bowen's team, 24.

Boykin's Pepsi Boys	Monday's Morgue Boys
Simons, 7	Johnson, 9

Kendall, 0	Lewis, 2
Final score: Roberts' Profs, 83; Creech's Demons, 10.

Tumbling

The tumbling team, under the supervision of Mr. Sebren, began work this week and a successful season is expected. Mr. Sebren had hoped to give an exhibition before the Christmas holidays, but because of crowded schedule arrangements he has expressed doubt as to whether he will be able to do so.

The lettermen that are back from last year are Capps, Williamson, Roberson, and Lancaster. The new men who are out are showing marked aptitude in pre-season workouts.

Mr. Sebren, with an air of confidence, quotes, "Well, I don't have to worry about wins or losses, but there is that angle of the possibility of broken necks." Unquote. Don't let it worry you, boys. I believe (and you hope) that he is just joking.

Thriller Ends 37-31

Trentham, Carr, And Hambright Lead

Last Friday night the Mars Hill Lions, getting off to a flying start, defeated the Champion "Y" of Canton to the tune of 37 to 31. The game was tense and thrill-packed throughout, with the "Y" leading the Lions at half-time, 19 to 15. The Lions came back with a vengeance, however, in the second half to pull out in front and defeat the Champs by the score of 37 to 31.

The game was fast and furious throughout, with Trentham, Carr, and Hambright leading the way. Trentham led with 13 points, being followed closely by Hambright and Carr, who had 11 points each.

Wilson, center for the "Y", was best for the losers with 12 points. Some of his goals came from beautiful long shots, which he tossed into the basket from all angles, making them look easy.

The "Y" was leading the Lions for the greater part of the game, but the Mars Hill spirit prevailed and the Lions were on the long end of the score at the end, after Trentham, Carr, and Hambright found the range.

Champion "Y" (31)	Mars Hill (37)
F-Spence (4)	Trentham (13)
F-Rhea (5)	Hambright (11)
C-Wilson (12)	Plott (2)
G-R. Rogers (6)	Craft (0)
G-Leatherwood (2)	Carr (1)
Substitutions—Mars Hill:
Haynes. Champion "Y"—J. Rogers, Michel, M. Rogers (2), Ford.

Lions Play Blanton December 13

December 13 will find the Lions fighting the strong Blanton Business College five from Asheville. Blanton's usually prepares a good team and is expected to fight the Lions all the way.

Between halves, Mr. Sebren will display his pyrotechnics — lighted Indian clubs to you guys and gals — which should prove most interesting. As he is a master in the art of pyrotechnics, this will, no doubt, be one of the highlights of the evening.

This, incidentally, is the second and last home game for the Lions before the Christmas holidays.
