

Hillians To Engage Tusculum Cagers Tonight

Hambright

Brevard Loses To Hillians 25-31

Mars Hill emerged victorious over Brevard in the clash on Tuesday night, with a score of 25-31. Rufus Hambright, who was high scorer for the Hillians with nine points.

Sears-Roebuck Dropped By Lions

In a one-sided affair, on Saturday 8, the Mars Hillians dropped Sears-Roebuck of Asheville, 47 to 13.

As can be noticed in the individual points, there is no one high scorer. The Lions played on teamwork alone, making the game more interesting. Twelve Mars Hill men participated, ten figuring in the scoring. The score at half-time saw Mars Hill leading the invaders scoreless for ten minutes during the second half, and allowed them a net of three points the entire second half.

Robinson, Mars Hill basketball star of the early thirties, led the Sears-Roebuck team.

Mars Hill	Sears-Roebuck
Trentham 4	Grendell 2
Hambright 7	Rhymer 0
Haynes 6	Robinson 3
Carr 8	Thompson 4
Kraft 6	Sprinkle 0

Substitutions — Mars Hill: Westmoreland (4), Parrish (2), Plott (4), Tyson (2), Adelman (2), Roberts, Ponder. Sears-Roebuck: Wright (0), Williams Baker (2).

Mars Hill Victorious Over Hutch - Wallin

In a hard fought game on January 10 the Mars Hill quintet emerged victorious over the Hutch-Wallin All-Stars of Kingsport, Tenn. by the margin of 38 to 19. The score at half-time was 19 to 10, favoring the Mars Hill team.

Gardnand led the invading team, coached by Dr. Will Trentham, Haynes, and Carr of the Lions. In the closing minutes of the game, the Lions made a spectacular long shot, followed by two equally astounding shots made by Kraft. Coach Cowan again used the alternating two team system, which proved successful.

Mars Hill	Hutch-Wallin
Trentham 9	Neely 5
Hambright 2	Gardnand 15
Haynes 9	Saylor 6
Carr 10	R. Williams 5
Kraft 6	C. Williams 2

Substitutions — Mars Hill: Westmoreland (4), Parrish (0), Plott (2), Adelman (0), Tyson (1). Hutch-Wallin: Snyder (3), Nowapter (2), Nufer (0).

Lions Defeated By Asheville School

On Tuesday afternoon, the Asheville School defeated the Mars Hill basketballers to the tune of 41 to 35. The first half was practically even, with Asheville leading at half-time, 20 to 16. After the half, the Lions couldn't find the range. The Lions, however, did put on the steam in the final chapter to score 19 points, and they came within six points of the game.

The Mars Hillians are to get another crack at the Asheville School, and revenge is said to be sweet.

Asheville was led by Bailey with 13, and the Lions were led by Trentham, with 10, and Carr, with 9.

Mars Hill	Asheville School
Trentham 10	Stekettee 8
Hambright 4	Shell 8
Haynes 3	Bailey 13
Carr 9	Gantt 7
Kraft 0	Chappell 1

Substitutions — Mars Hill: Adelman (2), Westmoreland (4), Plott (1), Ponder (10), Tyson (2). Asheville: Howell (2), Henderson (2).

You'll Never Forget

Someone asked, "If you were asked to list ten things which would stand foremost in your memory ten years from now, what things would you choose?"

That was a hard question to answer off-hand, but I have thought about it since, and I have compiled a list—with little doubt that I shall forget any of these things within the next ten years:

1. Fun in the dormitory in a broad, broad sense—too broad for details.
  2. Inspiration from Dr. Moore's chapel talks.
  3. Running down the hill in the moonlight to breakfast—P.S. cold, too.
  4. A conglomeration of voices from the music building in the spring—students in the windows, birds in the vine.
  5. The "Juke Box" in the cafe plus the food—in the cafe.
  6. The one time I climbed Bailey.
  7. The apple trees in May, seen from the road in front of Mr. Wood's house.
  8. The unequalled cooperation of the teachers, their interest, and their encouragement.
  9. Society meetings on Thursdays and their effect.
  10. Friendly people — just added attractions to a beautiful campus.
- These were only a few of the things I thought of, and of course, I'll remember lots more. There are so many little peculiarities that you will remember—and smile at—when you leave.

Basketball Schedule

Because of necessary changes, the basketball schedule is now as follows:

Tusculum: Jan. 17, here.
 Champion 'Y': Jan. 29, Canton.
 Hiwassee: Jan. 30, here.
 Southern Baptist Seminary: Feb. 3, here.
 Textile: Feb. 5, Spartanburg, S. C.
 Biltmore: Feb. 10, Asheville.
 Asheville School: Feb. 12, here.
 Brevard: Feb. 14, here.
 Biltmore: Feb. 17, here.
 Cumberland: Feb. 19, Williamsburg, Ky.
 Hiwassee: Feb. 20, Madisonville, Tenn.
 Tennessee Wesleyan: Feb. 21, Athens, Tenn.
 Tusculum: Feb. 26, Greeneville, Tenn.

GLEANINGS

(Continued from Page 2)
 And I've missed out on the fun
 What do I do?
 Do I worry?
 You can bet your life I do.
 —Carolinian.

The owner of a large business concern bought a number of signs reading: "DO IT NOW", and had them hung around the office, hoping to inspire his workers with promptness and energy in their work. In his private office one day soon afterward a friend asked him how the scheme affected the staff. "Well, not just the way I thought it would," answered the proprietor. "The cashier skipped with thirty thousand dollars, the head bookkeeper eloped with the private secretary, three clerks asked for a raise in salary, my son moved himself in next door as vice-president, and the office boy lit out to be a bandit."

—The Daily Tar Heel.

This from the LANTERN is a cheerful little "pome".

Nothing to do but work,
 Nothing to eat but food,
 Nothing to wear but clothes
 To keep one from going nude.

Nothing to breathe but air,
 Quick as a flash it's gone.
 Nowhere to fall but off,
 Nowhere to stand but on.

Nothing to comb but hair,
 Nowhere to sleep but in bed.
 Nothing to weep but tears,
 Nothing to bury but dead.

Nothing to sing but songs:
 Oh, well, alas, alack!
 Nowhere to go but out,
 Nowhere to come but back.
 (Continued on Page 4)

Boys' Intramurals

The intramural program has been resumed after the holidays, and an extensive program is planned for spring.

The standings are as follows as of January 14:

Team	Won	Lost
Hopes	4	0
Blue Devils	3	0
The Profs	3	0
Brown's Raiders	3	1
Celtics	2	1
Pepsi Boys	2	1
Morgue Boys	1	2
Whifflepufts	1	2
Green Hornets	1	3
Demon Cagers	0	3
Whizzers	0	3
Ramblers	0	4

ALUMNI NOTES

(Continued from Page 2)
 of the score.)

Falling back on Sweeney of W.C.U.N.C., who is our best ally there, we hear that Montez Scott of last year is dating a pirate. Any way she received a postal from the B.F. ending with, "By the way, I'm a private, not a pirate." And we thought she was better than that. Sad story!

The N. C. Beta chapter of Phi Kappa Delta, honorary national forensic fraternity, issued eight invitations to membership last week. In order to become a member, each man must have participated in at least five intercollegiate debates. C. C. Hope and Larry Williams who did a little forensic work around here last year, were among the eight. It would seem that both are certainly eligible since they practically capped most of the tournaments in the southeast last year. Hope has also just been elected vice-president of the Phi society at Wake Forest.

The Daily Tar Heel of Carolina listed the names of the students of U. N. C. considered as favorable C. A. A. flight candidates. Among the number were Grady Eugene Dover and Virginius Boddie Perry. Dover was the Hilltop editor and Boddie played swell football too. Still flying high!

Ex Libris Montague

(Continued from Page 2)
 girls. The family know that Miss Fox is a fallen woman. One evening Frank and Angela go up to visit her. To their surprise they find that she knows Arthur. He came to a party once in a home where she was working and borrowed some material from her for a masquerade. He broke one of her dress forms. He was a nice boy and later came back to apologize. "It was only nine years ago," she says.

Angela picks up Miss Fox's old needlecase. There is a picture of a young boy inside. "How old is he?" she inquires. "Eight," replies Miss Fox. Angela and Frank cannot help noticing that the picture is profoundly like the photographs downstairs of Arthur as a baby.

Capacity Crowd Expected

Once again the Lions of Mars Hill tangle with Tusculum of Greeneville, Tenn. The two quintets dropped relationship two or three years ago to take on new teams. The senior college usually has a strong team, and a battle royal is expected. Tusculum's strength is unknown, and this may prove a hindrance to the Mars Hill five.

A capacity crowd is expected to turn out. Everybody be on hand to lend the Lions support.

Mars Hill's probable starting line-up will be as follows: Trentham, Hambright, Haynes, Carr, and Kraft.

As an added attraction Mr. Sebren's tumbling team will perform at half-time, and many laughs are anticipated. The band will also be on hand to provide music at intervals.

This, incidentally, is the last game until after semester exams.

Mars Hill Loses Dean Carr

Answers Call To Army Service

(Continued from Page 1)
 rest assured that his former position will remain open to him. The board of trustees merely grant him a leave of absence."

Dr. Blackwell mentioned the length and faithfulness of Dr. Carr's service. He came to Mars Hill in 1923 as head of the social science department. In 1924 he became dean of men, which position he has held ever since.

"He has been in his office every day, six days a week, for nearly twenty years," said President Blackwell. "It will be exceedingly difficult to find one who can fill his place."

As a farewell gesture, every person present stood in a pledge to carry on, working harder and taking extra responsibility whenever necessary, during Dr. Carr's absence.

When interviewed, Dr. Carr said he had but one remaining thought to express: "I have always had a great faith in Christ and in His way of life. I hope that everyone connected with Mars Hill college will find that a source of strength for himself."

MUSIC NOTES

(Continued from Page 2)
 selected talented players from all over the state. Sam and Mr. Sebren, who has also been invited to perform with this fine orchestra, practiced with the orchestra shortly before Christmas. Congratulations to Mr. Herbert Sebren and Sam Rushton!

The Mars Hill orchestra is working on new music and is polishing up on old in preparation for its spring concert.