Over!

In The Groove!

We're Back

Published By The Students Of Mars Hill College

olume XVI. "Why=

VGS

Page 3 happe

us Corr

andwich yes abo

py love Ii-Lande

en

Mars Hill, North Carolina, January 31, 1942.

Number 8.

ourtest Unday School Department Plans Study Courses

hy all Dr. CARR RETURNS To Campus ourtesy

Crawfolelieved From Active Duty As Army Captain

to her! Dr. I. N. Carr returned to the sn't reading last week after being are list United States Army.

On January 11, Dr. Carr, a o u aptain in the Reserve Officers raining Corps, reported to the GER Torris Field air base at Charotte. After an examination, he JOY 'as declared physically disbled. He is still on commission s a Reserve Officer, however.

Since 1924 Dr. Carr has atinded summer camps for nine easons. Heretofore he has alashevill amination. The last camp ession that he attended before nswering this call was at Fort)glethorpe, near Chattanooga, ennessee, in 1939.

Student Playwrights Enter Contests

Five original plays were ent to Chapel Hill by students t Mars Hill college. There ney will be judged by the laymakers of the University of Iorth Carolina.

A possible three out of five ray be selected; the winners rill be presented by the Mars Iill Dramateers at the Spring estival to be held at Chapel Iill later. The plays were enered in the contest during the Ruth: Ethel Belle Kornegay. niddle of January; and Miss Fidelis: Edna Anne Johnston. Vingert, dramatic instructor, is expecting to hear from them Mr. Trentham's Ever Faithful by the middle of February. The three one-act plays and ne two radio plays constitute the largest number of plays ver entered by Mars Hill Colage or any group from this

Henry Anderson entered a lay, "The Price," on Chinese fe. "The Shadow," entered by eorge Blake, is a play depict 19 rural North Carolina. The ther one-act play, which is ntitled "Bugles In The Sky," written by John Foster West. depicts humanism with modrn warfare; the scene is laid 1 an air raid shelter. This play vas an individual entrance nd will be judged among the rofessional group.

The two radio plays are Wings For Eternity" by Mausen Coley and "A Child of ate" by Burnette Selph.

The professional play seected for the tournament is Trial by Moonlight," a comedy y John Kirkpatrick. It is a harming play with a backround of music, youth, rodeal presentation for spring, reserved for professional en-'ry-outs will be held soon for tertainments, while the local he selection of those to play

Promoted To Positions As Council Leaders Forensic Council To Brings Three Guest

Jack Lucke, above center, who was vice-president of the Student Council, has moved up to the position of president, replacing Walter Harrelson, above left. Harrelson has entered the service in the United States Navy. James Hall, above left, has been elected vice-president, and David Dorr is the new

Results Of Sunday School | International Class Elections

The various Sunday school classes held elections on Sunday, Jan. 25. The following presidents were elected; Boys: Fellowship Class: Carl Harris. Mr. Stringfield's Class: Norwood Davis.

Fearless-Fighters, James S. Clarke.

Mr. King's Gideon Class: Richard Brantley.

Berean I. Clyde Rollins; Berean II, John Robertson.

Presidents of the girl's classes are as follows:

Volunteer Class: Sara Curtis. Workers at Work: Pearl Franklin.

Gleaners: Mary Lois Leech.

Class for boys has not elected officers yet. Circle leaders are: Arlene Grow, Dorcas Clinard, Ruth Swan, Gwendolyn Critterden, Augusta Reece, Helen Drake, Mary Lillian Culpepper, Audrey Mundorf, Claire Cox, Virginia Quinn, and Ruth McCoy. Edna Lou Lamb was elected chorister. The installation will take place Friday, Feb. 13.

College Varsity Show

Do you give humorous readings, warble light classics, imitate Garbo, tap dance with one hand? If so, we want you . . . 'n' you . . . 'n' you to try out for the college varsity show. You need not do anything as involved as those mentioned above; a few piano renditions and other novel acts we welcome.

Well, you see, it's like this . . . Saturday night pernance, and moonlight, an formances have always been

(Continued on Page 4)

Summary

In the past week the outlook for the allies in the far Pacific has noticeably improved. In the Philippines the brave troops of General MacArthur have withstood repeated mass attacks by the enemy. It is estimated that at least two hundred thousand Japanese troops are now facing MacArthur. The enemy has landed troops near Australia in the Island of New Guinea and others nearby. In the Macassar Strait between Borneo and Celebes, part of the Dutch East Indies, at least thirty Japanese ships in the intense jungle of Malaya Principles. about sixty miles above Singa-

In Libya the British are being forced back very swiftly by General Rommel and his axis (Continued on Page 3)

Musical Programs Feature College

Listen! Mars Hill is on the air! Yes, every Monday night at 8:00 o'clock, representatives of our college give a musical program. The first of this series was rendered by Miss Mac-Millan, who played Fantasieyour front teeth, or turn flips on Impromptu, by Chopin; then that famous song of Schubert's, The Stars, arranged for the piano by Guy Maier. Following this was A Singing Fountain, by Newmann. The program was concluded by that fantastic and almost eerie selection, Etude In C Minor, by Chopin.

Our most recent representative was Mr. Sebren, who played the following numbers, accompanied by Miss Macstudent talent is lucky to get a Millam: Adagio, by Mozart; (Continued on Page 4)

Enter Tournaments

The members of the Mars Hill Forensic Council will enter several intercollegiate tournaments during the month of February.

The first tournament will be held at Appalachian State at Boone, North Carolina, February 5-7. Both men and women will participate, but in separate divisions. There will be direct clash debating and regular oratory, extempore or impromptu, and after dinner speakings. Since few junior colleges enter this tournament, our debaters will have to compete with many of the leading senior college teams.

The second tournament they enter is the annual Smoky Mountain Men's at Tusculum College, Greenville, Tennessee, on February 14. This is a very excellent tournament with twelve or fourteen teams and the usual events. On the same date is the Smoky Mountain Women's Tourney at Virginia Intermont, Bristol, Virginia. Poetry reading will be another feature of the program.

Another important event on convention at Greensboro, in which Edith Floyd, vice-president of the Young Republicans Club of North Carolina, will participate.

The debaters for these meetings have not yet been chosen. have been sunk, including an Mr. Huff, coach of public speakaircraft carrier, and several ing, says that all debaters must other naval vessels vital for work up a new query. The subthe Japanese control of the sea ject is: Resolved, That after lanes. In the Malaya peninsula the war, the nations should the armies of Great Britain and form a federation to establish Japan seem to be deadlocked the eight Churchill-Roosevelt can and do come into positions is unmistakable. For instance, Calvin Stringfield was the only summa cum laude graduate at Wake Forest in June of this past year. All of which means that for his entire stay at Wake Forest Calvin has averaged over ninety-five for his honors, which, translated into your language and mine means "With highest praise." Being summa cum laude at any college is no mean feat as these last exams have just shown, because it means straight "A's" all the way through. Calvin, not content with ordinary grades, had to make his in the Wake Medical School.

Mars Hill Alumni Are Still Leaders

Eugene Brissie, who is Bob's brother, has just finished a fine piece of work on Wake Forest's 'Old Gold and Black". Brissie was the editor of the Hilltop

(Continued on Page 4)

Teachers To Campus

Inspirational Instruction Is Offered In Christian Work

Starting February 9 and continuing throughout the following week the Sunday school department of our campus is sponsoring a study-course embracing many fields of Christian work and inspiration. Under the capable direction of the Sunday School director, Wallace Parham, this promises to be a week of interest and help to all.

In offering a wide variety of courses, twelve in all, the department is sure that everyone will find a class of interest. Not only will there be capable and consecrated teachers from our own campus, but three visitors will be here to lead three

Mr. L. L. Morgan, the state the fourteenth will be the state Sunday school secretary, will bring to the students in his brilliant way The School In Which We Teach by Dobbins. We shall also have with us Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lane, who are State Sunday school field workers. Mr. Lane will teach The Young People's Department of the Sunday School by W. P. Phillips; and Mrs. Lane will give a course in that fine book by Leavell and Hill, Some Learning Processes.

The other courses are as follows:

Books of the Bible by H. C. That junior college transfers Moore, taught by Mr. Canup.

The Ten Commandments by of leadership at senior colleges B. H. Varrol, taught by Mr.

Vacation Bible School Guide by H. L. Grice, taught by Mr. Lynch.

Personal Factors in Character Building by J. M. Price, taught by Dr. Pierce.

The Baptist People From the First to the Twentieth Century by P. E. Burroughs, taught by

The Way Made Plain by J. H. Brooks, taught by Mr. McLeod.

The Grace of Giving by P. E. Burroughs, taught by Miss Elli-

The Furtherance of the Gospel by W. O. Carver, taught by Miss Bingham.

Pilgrim's Progress, taught by Dr. Moore.