Lions Triumph Over Textiles 43-37

Tusculum Trims Lion Cagers

Jan. 17. — In a hard-fought game, replete with thrills and spills as anticipated, the Lions of Mars Hill were toppled, 48 to 37, by a strong quintet from Tusculum college.

In itself the game was indeed a thriller, but it was marred by a royal total of thirty-four fouls. In fact, the game reminded us more of the good ole rough and tumble football games of yore.

The Greeneville, Tenn., five was forwarded in its attack by six-foot-seven Sears, center, who attained a net total of 11 markers, and forward Spargo, who netted 17 points.

"Sot" Trentham, forward, was the offensive ace for the Mars Hillians with 11 points, but honors were divided between him and "Ikey" Carr for defensive reward. Line-ups:

Mars Hill (37) Pos. Tusculum 48)
 Trentham 11 F..... Spargo 17
 Hambright 2 F..... Hartsell 8
 Haynes 4 .....C..... Sears 11
 Carr 8 .....G..... Mitchell 3
 Kraft 3 .....G..... Miller 3

Subs: Mars Hill—Westmoreland (6), Plott (3), Adleman. Tusculum—Shotwell, Starnes (2), Stephenson, Heinz (3), Lackerby.

ICKEY CARR

One of the Lions' most outstanding basketeers. Carr ranges among the high scorers in every game of basketball he enters.

Mars Hill Stems Blanton 54-46

Jan. 19.—The Mars Hill basketball quintet turned back a powerful five from Blanton's Business College, Asheville, by the margin of 54 to 46, in a game that required an overtime period. This was really a killer-diller of a basketball game, with the lead changing hands at least seven different times. The Lions were not to be headed, however; and as the last whistle blew, they had emerged with a well-deserved victory.

Carr led the Mars Hillians with 20 points, followed by Trentham with 14. Hawes was by far the outstanding player of the Ashevilleans, ringing the net for a total of 19 points.

Line-ups:
Mars Hill: Trentham 14, Shuford 0, Hambright 5, Westmoreland, Haynes 9, Plott 3, Carr 20, Adelman 0, Kraft 1, Tyson 0
Blanton: Bennett 1, Garland 10, Chambers 3, Snipes 8, Hawes 19, Gearing 5

"Scotland Neck" Bill Clark of last year has a sister starting this semester. She has beautiful auburn hair, and—well look for yourself.

James Clarke and Mary Lillian Culpepper were 100 per cent right on at least one exam. Don't think that isn't news.

Charles Marsh has a deeper appreciation for that Northern hospitality with "Pug" Harrison from Pa. keeping bright his woeful hours.

Cliff Edwards can't get out of the habit of rolling a wheel barrow, even in college; and Jackie Spainhour just fits Mr. Tilson's prized rubber-tired ones.

FORECAST

In the next issue of the Hilltop, Bill Rimmer, ex-member of the U. S. Marines, tells of his exciting experience on a ship plowing through a mid-Atlantic hurricane. This was the famous hurricane of 1938, one of the worst storms recorded in modern times. Bill was assigned to the U.S.S. "Honolulu," and his ship was ordered to change its course and weather the very heart of the raging storm. Read it in the Hilltop.

Cage, Green, Ingle, Rogers Claim Crowns.

Although Mars Hill College does not have a boxing team, that does not necessarily mean that there are no boxers here. No doubt as many of you looked over the Asheville Citizen the other morning you saw pictures of R. F. Cage and Leonard "Pug" Green headlined as having won the titles in their respective weight divisions in the annual Golden Gloves Tournament in Asheville. If you read a little further, you would have seen that J. Perry Ingle had "rassled" his way to victory over the former light-heavy king, Brannock. Micky Palmer, alias Jerry Rogers, fought his way to a decision over Pedro Alvarez, an Appalachian student, in the novice bantam weight division, beating him all the way.

Green won the open-welterweight crown from last year's winner, the highly-touted Chubby Vance. Cage, in the light-weight division, fought his way to a decision over Ed Ledbetter, also an Appalachian student. Green, incidentally, registered two of the quickest knock-outs of the entire tournament; one in 1:50, the other in 1:42. Not bad, eh?

All fighters from Mars Hill were registered under the Jojo Athletic Club. Two Mars Hill boys who did not make it to the finals were "Canvas Joe" Howerton and Jack "Tufty" Gates.

Champion 'Y' Defeats Lions 50-43

A Champion "Y" quintet defeated the Lions 50 to 43 in a fast game played in Canton Thursday night in spite of a continuous and effective defense.

Champion "Y" led throughout the game; however, the Lions threatened from start to finish and trailed by only two points at the half. Trentham was high scorer for the Hillians with 13 points to his credit; Carr scored 10 markers. Hambright was also in the starting lineup with five markers, along with Savage who scored three points, and Westmoreland who scored four points.

International Summary

In England itself Mr. Churchill received a vote of confidence by his government. The first American troops landed in northern Ireland.

In America, our $56,000,000,000 war budget is still one of the chief topics of conversation. In January 27 the U. S. House Representatives passed and sent to the Senate the largest single appropriation ever made in American history. The bill calls for the expenditure of slightly over $17,000,000,000 for naval construction. On Monday of the same week, a bill appropriating $12,000,000,000 was approved by the Senate and House. This vast budget for the next fiscal year will cost about $9,000,000,000 in new taxes for the American people. This will cause a higher income tax, heavier corporation taxes, automobile tax, and possibly a tax on earnings.

The war has been brought closer home to us by the inability to purchase new cars and tires. There is a shortage of all rubber goods, of silk, rayon, wool, and linen. Before many weeks have passed, we will join most of the world in carrying ration cards. Sugar will be rationed at about 3-4 pounds per person a week. There is also a shortage of some other foods, but it is not so serious. It looks as if by winter the men will be wearing coats with flapless pockets and trousers without cuffs. The ladies style predictions are for cotton hose and cotton dresses. Down-stay girls, lipstick will be used for defense, and perfume is to be used only on the most special occasions. Because of the fact that only a small quantity of soap will be produced we boys will get off lightly—we hope.
