

Cupid's Beau

By Belle

Greeting to you guys and gals—and 'specially to you guys. It thrills us old studes to see that the male situation on the immediate home front in definitely looking bigger and better this year. But it curdles us to see all our last year's SPs walking off with certain smooth jobs, sometimes mistakenly called "green freshmen." From the pennies in the tops of their loafers up to the bows in their long stringy tresses we definitely have some glamour gals on our campus this year!

We hear that Bill goes Huntering up at the parsonage every night about that time. The victim? "Kitty Blue Eyes." (We think she looks like Kay, too, Bill.)

Sam Johnson—would-be heart-breaker of the Junior class—is simply dizzy over Izzy. And we do mean Davis.

What's this we hear about Benfield being the "gal with the unmade bed" in New Dorm all last week? Shame all over you, young lady!

Morgan Robinson says he likes "lazy" girls better'n smart ones. Dat's tough, Betty, dat's tough!

"Deedee" Carowan, long, blond, and, you finish-it, president of the Senior class, not only "crouched" last week. He sprang and landed. Nice aiming, brother.

Jean Walk(er)ed into some double trouble the other night when she gave Carl and Karlo both a date. Over the phone, of course. How does it feel to have Glamour Boy Baker and Wolf Westmoreland for the kill simultaneously and at once in New Dorm Parlor, Jean? (Don't tell us—we know!)

Jay Keeter's theme song is "Strawberry Blonde," and we think he must be referring to Nancy Simpson.

We of the staff have been asked to announce the anonymous request that Dub and Pegram take their Smoky Mountain Boys and beat it up the trailway to Bailey Mountain. We need sleep.

Dot Lee Bunting just can't make up her mind between Gorgeous John Wallace and that Romantic Ronald Hill. Quite a large problem.

Goldie picked up a Thorne last year that she can't get rid of. And frankly we don't believe she wants to.

Local gal makes good: Margaret Lee has really taken Neil Ellis for a tumble. And that ain't just a rumor—everybody knows it. He even had his folks come up just to meet her!

The fresh man Ed is certainly taking a Long time to make up his mind between Trudy Allard and Miss Benfield.

We wondered why Polly Hill went to Weaverville with Jeanette Waddell so much last year—but with the appearance of Bud Holland on our campus—well, we see it all now!

Carl Westmoreland, having been deserted by his senior gal friends—has turned to little Margaret Ann Runnion. But Mr. Billings seems to be trying to horn in on that one! And that's absolutely the "Long and the Short" of it!

J. C. Fagan's new S.P. is Mickey Reynolds—and Mickey's S.P. is a certain J. C. Fagan. Some people call that a coincidence, but we think he is just cute.

Every time sweet li'l Phyllis Penley comes in the library, Bob can't ever Reid any more. It must be love. Or what's worse, he May be planning to date the gal.

We're happy to observe that Tush Stough and Doris Layton are still "keepin'" company. No names mentioned, of course, but we of the "Lovelorn Instruction Company" would have a much easier time if other old Mars Hill twosomes would do the same.

S.P. of the week: Boyce Medlin, 'cause he has such pretty eyelashes and the sweetest voice.

We wish Pet Anderson would let us borrow his monkey suit with the drape shape. We think it's got class, and a few other unmentionable adjectives!

Are you losing your old appeal? Are you putting on weight where weight is not wanted? Is your ol' lady walking off with your best boy friend? Do you spend sleepless nights counting prunes? Do you need advice, help or any other information? If so, address all letters to "Belle," care the Department on Love and Life Insurance, the Hilltop, Box 54, Mars Hill college. In the meantime, if you want to keep out of this filthy colyum—why don'tcha do right????

Teaching in the department of history is Miss Evelyn Underwood of Waynesville, who received her A. B. degree from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and her M. A. degree from the University of North Carolina. She has previously been teaching in the high schools at Clyde and at Gastonia.

Mr. Harvey M. Lance, teaching in the department of mathematics, is an A. B. graduate from Furman university and a graduate student at the University of North Carolina. Before coming to Mars Hill, Mr. Lance was a coach and teacher at Alexander schools, Union Mills.

In the department of business is Mrs. Leona Mosely of Arab, Alabama, a graduate of Milligan college. Mrs. Mosely formerly was employed in the personnel office of the American Rayon corporation and was a teacher of business subjects for several years.

Mr. J. Elwood Roberts is teaching in the department of music and directing the band. He received his A. B. degree from Berea college and his M. A. degree from the University of Michigan. Mr. Roberts has been a member of the music faculty of Appalachian State Teachers' college. Mrs. Elizabeth Logan Souther was formerly a music teacher in the public schools and at Asheville college. She was also a private teacher of voice. She is a graduate of Limestone college, a graduate student at the University of North Carolina, and a pupil of private instructors in Greensboro and New York. Mrs. Bernice Stringfield McKay, sister of "Pop" Stringfield, has recently joined the music faculty as a teacher of piano. Mrs. McKay was a much loved teacher of piano at the college several years ago. Mrs. D. M. Robinson also returns to the music faculty as the teacher of violin and as director of the orchestra. Mrs. Robinson was for several years teacher of violin at the college, coming to Mars Hill from the faculty of Carson-Newman college.

Assuming the duties of head librarian is Miss Daisy Anderson of Mars Hill. Miss Anderson is and the above procedure was carried out once more with the new shifts.

With next sounding of the "factory" whistle, the crowd dropped their work and journeyed toward a large refreshment stand, appropriately labeled Campus Canteen, which was located in the sunken gardens. There, orange punch and assorted cookies were served to the tired and thirsty group. At eleven o'clock, seven hundred exhausted war workers returned happily to their various dorms. The foremen (B. S. U. council to you) agreed among themselves that the evening's work rated an army "E" for its excellence.

a graduate of Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and an M. A. graduate of Columbia University. For several years she has been librarian at Radford State Teachers' College, Virginia.

A graduate of Mars Hill college and formerly connected with the Smith-Douglas Company of Norfolk, Virginia, Mrs. John E. Marr is acting secretary to President Blackwell in the absence of Miss Frances Snelson, who has been secretary for seven years and who has been granted a leave of absence to study at Temple university.

The new house mother in New Dormitory is Mrs. S. M. Lane of Raleigh; the new house mother of Edna Moore Dormitory is Mrs. Mary A. Helton of Timberland, N. C.

world were discussed by Miss Evelyn Pittman. Basing her talk on the Great Commission, Miss Pittman acknowledged that she has felt for some time that God will send her, she concluded with the words, "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me."

All members formed a friendship circle around the piano and sang "Blest Be the Tie." Jimmy Pegram concluded the meeting with prayer.

Have a "Coke" = Welcome back

... or giving a returned soldier a taste of home

There's an easy way to make a soldier on furlough feel right at home. It's to offer him refreshing Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke" is always the hospitable thing to say. In many lands overseas, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, —has become a happy symbol of hospitality, at home as everywhere else.
