

Cupid's Beau

By Belle

We're all dreaming of White Christmasesesese — as Ronald Hill would put it. How can we buckle down to books with jingle bells ringing in our mind's ears and snow balls landing squarely on various portions of our college-bred anatomy!!

We're sorry to say "goodby" to J. Martin Pegram this week. We'll miss both you and the mouth, Jimmy. And while we're on the subject—we want to say goodby to Westmoreland. There'll be no Christmas "Carls" for us this year.

Trudy is happy now! Anniversary and reception are over and Bob has come back home—ain't life grand?

Don Hudson is spending his last few pre-Christmas days at Mars Hill just Moon-(ey)-ing around over Martha Ann. The funny thing is—she seems to like it!

Sigsbee (some people annoy me) Miller has one super duper H. T.* The staff has discovered that "it" is our own Eunice Smith.

Seniors Defeat Juniors

Sparked by a powerful Medlin-Phillips combination, a senior class quint turned back a hard-fighting junior aggregation, 24-16, in a cage bout Monday night that drew a record basketball turnout for the season.

Supported vigorously by cheering underclassmen in the galleries, the juniors overcame a first quarter lag to pull in front, 12-11, at the half, but were beaten down in the third period and the first part of the fourth, and were showing signs of a rally when the final whistle sounded.

Owen Duck, junior team forward, tied Boyce Medlin for individual scoring honors. Both contributed nine points to their teams' scores. Jack Phillips, senior forward, trailed closely with eight points.

Ronald Hill and Walton Connelly, guards, completed the senior first string. Carl Westmoreland went in for Connelly in the last quarter.

Completing the juniors' starting lineup were Landers, Keeter (2), and Robertson. Substitutes, in addition to Duck, were Gilliam, Teague and Boyles.

Dixie Tournament

(Continued from Page 1) he announced that he had never heard as fine a group of orations at the Dixie Tournament in the years since he had been coming. This year's record is even better than that established by the Mars Hillians in the Dixie Tournament last year, when they won four grand championships.

Bum. You know—Mr. Schrum! We notice that Hester W. Connelly really enjoyed helping Jerry Dayton light up her window for Reception last Saturday. Sometimes we wonder—

We hear tell that Berkeley Ruiz had a date with Nell Hunter for the Eu anniversary—and now he's decided he'd like to stretch it out to a year long affair.

We wish Bo would stop Medlin' around and decide where he'd rather be on week-ends—in Asheville or over at Melrose!

Many spectators noticed James out Ruffin' it up in the snow last week with Miss Clayton. She sure has a Jinx on him!

Interested bystanders still wonder who will win—Martalena or Benfield! They're racing to see which one will date her H.T. first!

Paul Lunsford seems to be quite happy lately with that sweet lil Southern Belle, Lorraine Morgan.

The chief topic of discussion this past week has been, "Don't you think Mr. Wood would make a better Santa Claus than Mr. Lee would be?"

Belle only wishes she could follow some of you would(n't)—be students home these next two weeks and get some real, honest-to-goodness low down on what goes on at your immediate home front. We know you'll all spend your time profitably catching up on study and sleep, and come back after the holidays a refreshed group of eager, wide-awake scholars. Till then—in our own original manner, we sincerely wish for you all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!!

FELLOWSHIP—A colored warrior was explaining jujitsu to a friend. "It's jes' a mean lowdown kind o' wrasslin' you might know a Jap'd think up. When you gits to' close-in fightin' you extends the right hand of fellowship to the enemy, and whilst yo' is shaking han's yo' sprains his ankles, so he can't run whilst yo' break his neck."
