

CUPID'S BEAU

By Belle

The students here certainly catch on quick, or so it seems. Already they've discovered that springtime in Mars Hill is the time for Love (question mark) to come along. This fact is witnessed by the couples one sees pairing off daily to join the ranks of the "already tried and tied." We would hardly be surprised to see Bob Barnes stroll down the gravel toward the Science building with some Gertie now. Further proof that spring's on the wing: Herman has come out of hibernation and again reigns supreme in his old habitat, the amphitheater (his only rival in this vicinity being that dead fish in the pool or hadn't you noticed?)

(woman hater) Beam of late? He lost one heart and one class ring in the town of Mars Hill last week. Near Pet Anderson's little home, we believe.

Bob Allen evidently likes his own name. Or maybe it's Bobbie Huff's blond curls he loves.

We enjoy seeing our cheerleaders strut their stuff at basketball games. Comments have been made on Neal Ellis' excellent jitterbugging out on the floor.

A new club has been formed on our premises—The Happy Hearts Society. Members: Eunice, "Pinky," and Alwayne. Object—to celebrate Sigsbee's return from the war.

It seems that the early touch of spring has "teched" Margia Gobble. Lyn is having a hard time making her behave like a lady.

The staff dee-double-dares Pat Lancaster to tell Jean Walker who her H. T. is. Well, "Red"?

"What are my chances of taking you to Fellowship tonight?" Wasn't that a quaint way for Tom Ivester to ask his favorite, Jackie Rogers, for a date? And did you know that THE Louise Harris is simply dying to date Tommy!?

We heard Oma Shew baring her soul to her fellow future homemakers in the Guild last Monday. Her topic: "My rosy future with John after the war."

Jean Joyner and her Charlie playing endlessly up and down Edna Moore Hill last week.

Gene Glass stepping blindly into mud puddles around the frantically down to the Science building after the Clio and Non campus.

Lamar and Tommy rushing elections. We couldn't help comparing the expressions on their faces with those on a proud papa's pan!

Ladies Home Journal in answer to an S.O.S. sent out by him.

Dr. Moore coming over to the campus occasionally. A nice sight. Very nice.

Mary Nichols throwing away her crutches.

Did you see Pitt blushing Saturday night "Because" Ronnie came to her? We think that's the sweetest story of the week. If you don't know the full particulars, see T. W. Nelson. He was sitting there.

"Many a lovely romance has been started within the portals of this very musical building," giggled Forestine, as she settled down for another three-hour Boogie session with the window thrown suggestively open.

Why can't everybody have fun like Pjll and Jimmy? And why can't Pjll and Jimmy be quiet like everybody?

We of the CII or middle-aged staff enjoyed the dabbings in dirt drummed up by the CI's, though we noted with interest that the authors of said column enjoyed mentioning themselves at least three times during the course of said column.

Marie Willoughby: "I must like John, else I wouldn't waste so much time with him."

LEFT-OVERS AGAIN! Then there's always the one about the cannibal chief who asked his wife what was being served for dinner. The reply was: "Oh, old maids again." "What," yelled the chief, "left-overs again?"

Mr. Ramon DeShazo Visits Campus

Reads Poetry For The Students

Mr. Ramon DeShazo, English professor on leave of absence this year, spoke in chapel on March 7. Mr. DeShazo emphasized "Life's Intangibles" in his talk, which centered around the current biography, Yankee From Olympus.

By request, Mr. DeShazo read modern poetry for a student group on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. DeShazo was guest of honor during a social hour on Wednesday evening which Dr. Ella J. Pierce, assisted by Dean Caroline Biggers, entertained.

Correction

The Hilltop staff wishes to correct the name of the first place winner of the Nonpareil Temperance Reading Contest held on February 22. Ruth Teague was selected by the judges instead of Ruth Templeton as was previously published.

Nine Added To Honor List

In Puerto Rico, as in Punxsutawney or Pasadena, Coca-Cola is a friend-maker your American soldier can count on. To natives and to his buddies alike, Have a Coke says How ya doin', pal. It's a simple gesture of friendly courtesy. Yes, Coca-Cola is truly an American symbol of a refreshing way to make friends.
