

Hillians To Meet Brevard Here October 13

Six Games Placed On Lions' Schedule; More Are Sought Team Opens Season In Friday Clash At Newberry

Under the present schedule, Mars Hill's Mountain Lions will see their first pigskin action on home territory October 13, when they clash with Brevard College in the first half of a pair of games scheduled with that college. The Hillians will go to Brevard November 17 for the return match.

The Lions opened their season in a game with Newberry College (South Carolina) yesterday. Results of the game had not been learned at press-time.

Six games are now on the schedule and Coach Harvey (Pop) Lance is seeking at least four more, including games with Tuolane University and Elon College.

In addition to the Brevard schedules, two games each are booked with Hiwassee (Tennessee) and Cullowhee colleges. Every other game will be played on the Mars Hill gridiron.

Yelling Figures In Choosing Of Cheerleaders

There need no longer be any controversy about who have the loudest mouths on the campus.

This dubious distinction was accorded by Judges Lance, Hart, Roberts and Souther on Wednesday, September 19, when Margery Dean, Joyce Ward, Beulah Yates, Doris Stone, Thelma Deal, Margaret Grey, Dub Lane, Doug Calloway and Zeke Bunn were made Mars Hill's official cheerleaders.

Girl's Spotlight

By Louvene Jordan

"All right, up there, girls! 1-2-3-4, 1-2-3-4, Class-halt-3-4!"

It is noises such as these that make us love college and Coach Hart. Yep, and noises like that make us love alcohol (Y.T.C., hold your horses!) to rub on our sore arms, legs, back and all other muscles that Coach must think are made of rubber, from the way she makes us stretch them. Coach says it's good for us, but all the good we've found in it so far is the exercise our vocal organs receive from moaning and groaning as we try to push ourselves up these steps. Take it from one who knows!

Archery: Cupid has started to work with beax and arrows. Okay, okay, we mean archery! Archery occupies class periods when the weather allows classes to be held on the athletic field. If you should hear someone yell, "Aw, Apple Sauce," "Timber Hitch," or "Yoxophilite," don't get excited—it's only some of the queer terms of archery. The girls seem quite enthusiastic about this new interest, and definite ability is shown as they shoot for the gold with vigor and with actions that say, "Try, try again!"

Veterans: Some of last year's promising athletes back this year are Jackie Morton, Sally Hudson, Claudia Odom, Doris Stone, Joyce Ward, Pat Lancaster, Margery Dean, Mildred Freeman, Rose Moody Robertson, Dorothy Lashorn, George Ann Foster, and Virginia Dawson. Since this column covers only one Phys Ed class (and we aren't complaining!) it's hard to decide which C-Is are the best prospects, but Hazel Holcombe, Margaret Price, Jane Ray and Elaine Stevens, Carol Holman and Elaine Duckett look pretty good.

Splash: First try-outs for the swimming club were held Friday afternoon, September 21, at 4 o'clock. Our first view of the pool was a big splash as one of the girls attempting a jack-knife lost her balance and made a beautiful "fall" into the pool. Out of the thirteen aspirants, the following were chosen for the swimming club: Cecelia Abernathy, Bonnie Jane Moore, Betty Fowler, Christine Rollinson, Gerry Burgess, Carol Holman, Sally Hudson and Katherine Hipps. More try-outs were held again Tuesday but the winners had not been announced at press-time. Club entrants must be able to perform the standing dive, surface dive, breast stroke, elementary back stroke, back crawl and side stroke with agility. Planned activities for the swimming club to date include fancy swimming, improved diving, a swimming pageant.

Coach Hart says the pool will remain open until November. Any girl may swim in the pool on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 4:00 until 5:30 o'clock.

Ace Gridman—One of the Mountain Lions' biggest props this year is 153-pound Boyd Ayers, co-captain of the team. Ayers, who is from Rowland, N. C., plays right halfback.
