Twenty-Five New Members

(Continued from Page 1) developed the theme. The program was climaxed with the initiation of five new pledges: Lois Brantley, Edith Clark, Jamie Hill, Annie Jean Hudson and Dovie Tallent.

Two new members, Martha Ann Runyon and Ed Landers, were welcomed at the first meeting of the International Relations Club. The program was divided into two parts: Our Economic, Political and Moral Power in the World and The Question of Compulsory Military Training. Eddy Arnold, Hilda Mayo, Ruth Knotts, Betty Faye Trotter and Gloria Abernathy took parts.

The French club met in teachers' parlor in New Dormitory and welcomed Betty Sue Wilson as a new member. After the program, entitled "Two Things that Happened in France on October the Ninth," the new member, for initiation, had to order a complete meal in French.

The Spanish Club held its first meeting in Spilman Parlor. The program theme was "Jaurez, a Hero of Mexico." The new members, Betty Jane Wheeler, Miriam Smith and Doris Johnson, gave, in Spanish, descriptions of Mexico.

Bobby Barnes, president of the Classical Club, has announced that the club will be inactive this semester.

Rain Forces Picnic Into Shelter Of Gym

Plaintive mountain melodies, hot dogs with onions, 12-ounce bottles of pop, a husky rendition of the St. Louis Blues, plaid shirts, loud skirts—somehow, they all blended together last Saturday for the annual senior picnic, held in the gymnasium when a generous portion of heavenly showers halted a hike up Little Mountain.

Under the direction of Class President Frances Stuart, the gym was gaily decorated in blue and gold, the college colors. After piano majors Forrestine Snyder and Rose Moody Roberson gave "You Are My Sunshine" a boogie treatment that would have given their music teacher the palsy, a long breadline formed near the tables where hot dogs, doughnuts, potato salad and soft drinks were given out.

The gym floor was the table. The floor show was a hillbilly band. Lovely, true-voiced Margie Dean took the solo in such tear-jerkers as "A Picture from Life's Other Side," "The Precious Jewel" and "Dear Warden."

Mrs. Anne Nelson, whose voice is rated by some as of a more lyrical quality than Miss Dean's, gave several encores after her interpretation of "St. Louis Blues."

Honesty Is Stressed By Senior Class

"We are all looking to the C-IIs to exemplify what we consider honesty in character and principle."

In a chapel program Tuesday, October 9, Bill Everhart, representing the C-I class, presented the above challenge to the members of the C-II class. In accepting the challenge, Frances Stuart, class president, said the aim of the class is "To help the C-Is in exemplifying honesty in every phase of life on our campus." She also said, "Our duty of honesty is three-fold—to God first, others next, and ourselves last. The spirit of Mars Hill is not one of dishonesty. Each student must decide for himself whether or not he will incorporate honesty in his own character."

Mountain Lions Defeat Brevard 19-0 Saturday

In their first home game in more than three years, the Mars Hill Mountain Lions defeated Brevard 19 to 0.

The Lions countered in the opening play on a pass from Green to Kelly after they recovered a Brevard fumble deep in enemy territory. The pass for conversion was good. Minutes later Mars Hill pushed over another tally with Gouge handling the ball. The try for the extra point failed.

Brevard threatened several times during the second period but they either lost the ball on downs or by unlucky breaks. The half ended with the score 13 to 0.

At half-time the Mars Hill Band paraded, forming a B in front of the Brevard stands and an M before the Mars Hill stands.

The second half opened with neither team showing any definite signs of attack. The ball stayed near midfield during the third quarter. The heavier Brevard team gave no quarter to the small but scrappy Lions until the final minutes of play. On a pass from Green, Kelly went over to score the final touchdown of the game. Again the try for conversion failed. The game ended with Brevard in possession of the ball at midfield. The final score was Mars Hill, 19, Brevard 0.

Mars Hill Drops Opener To Newberry

Newberry College, Newberry, S. C., defeated the Mars Hill Mountain Lions, 31 to 0, on September 28, in the Lions' first game of the season.

The heavier and much more powerful Indians took the lead early in the first period and at the half the score was 12 to 0. The scrappy Lions held the Indians scoreless in the third quarter, but again with weight and power combined the Newberry squad pushed across three tallies and converted once during the final period. The game ended 31 to 0.

Girls
Sportlight
By Louvene Jordan

"Oh, goodness, I've never looked worse! And my S. P. is on the team too. Now where is my lipstick??? Ole lady, are you wearing my blue sweater? — Umm! Maybe he'll glance over to the sidelines and smile at me—huh? Well, I said maybe, didn't I?" And so it goes, the general conversation as the girls prepare themselves for the anticipated football game. If you think boys are the only ones who love football, then you just don't know girls!! And to prove to you that girls are essential, I'll bet certain boys couldn't play nearly so well or show-off as much if they didn't know certain girls were there. So there!

Speaking of football, Coach has been "taking down" some of them for trying to play football on the basketball floor (mainly, tackling!). No matter what comes up in the line of girl's sports, nothing can compete with the love for basketball. When Coach suggests playing, a gleam appears in the girls' eyes. (At least in Jackie Morton's!) Several new rules in basketball have been introduced and old ones have been refreshed in our memory by Coach. We like the strict way she calls the games and the way she includes those not acquainted with the game when explaining new rules and errors.

Sure, we're practically veterans in the field of archery now! Why, we can even string a bow (why couldn't it be beau, instead of bow! Doggone!). At times we really think we're going places. Coach gets us all in suspense, standing erect, arrow on bow, just ready to hit anything but the target, when she yells, "Relax, don't release the arrow!" Some life!
