Victory Is Second For Mars Hillians W.C.T.C. Falls To Long Runs Of Smashing M. H. Lions

The Mars Hill mountain Lions, playing their third game of the season, rolled over Western Carolina Teachers' College, 25-0, in Cullowhee Friday, October 26, in a game which featured long runs, hard tackling, and excellent blocking. It was the second win of the season for the Lions.

WCTC kicked at the start of the game, and the Lions quickly ran up a score before the Catawba even had possession of the ball. Livingston Greene plowed through the line for an average of 7 yards per play, and put the ball in position on the 20 yard line for the Lions' first play. Boyd Ayers streaked around the field for the tally. The kick by Dunlap was wide, but the Mountain Lions led by the score of 6 to 0 in the first 3 minutes of play.

WCTC took the ball on their 20 after a nice kick by Dunlap, and failed to move. They kicked out, and in four more plays, Ayers went over for another score. Greene plunged the line attempting for another point but was stopped short. Mars Hill led 12 to 0.

Halftime Score 12-0

Dunlap kicked off again. Cullowhee, beginning to move, picked up two first downs, but was stopped when J. C. Mitchell, captain of the Lions, intercepted a pass by Hughes on WCTC's 45-yard line. The Lions' second team then went in. The half ended with the Lions in possession of the ball in the middle, and the score 12 to 0.

Starting with the second team in the third period, Walker placed a beautiful kick on Cullowhee's 10-yard line. Greene, in two plays, ran the ball over for a touchdown, taking it the last time from the 4. Dixon then went in to try for the extra point; but his kick was wide.

The second team back field, Coggins, Fallaw, Marion, and Walker went in; and Walker kicked off to the 10 again. Then after an incomplete pass, Hughes kicked and Marion returned the ball 11 yards. On the next play, Mars Hill was detected holding and drew a penalty of 15 yards. Fallaw then gained 2 yards; and Coggins, taking a reverse from Marion, gained 13 yards. Holland then failed to gain, and Walker came back in to kick. The ball went to Cullowhee's 30 where Hamilton was stopped for no gain on the next play.

Tally No Good

In eight plays, Gouge, Ayers, Martin, and Dunlap carried the ball to the 1-yard line. Dunlap took a reverse from Gouge and went over standing up. But the referee detected holding in the line, and brought the ball out to the 16-yard line. Dunlap lost three yards on the play that had completely fooled Cullowhee previously and went over from the 1.

Martin carried the ball to the 9. Ayers went to the 3, where Cullowhee took over on downs. Hamilton drove to the 9, and then scampered 81 yards to the Lions' 10. Hughes then lost 5 yards. On the next play, he attempted a pass to Turner, but Ayers intercepted on his own 10, and raced 90 yards for a touchdown behind excellent blocking. Dunlap converted and the Lions led 25 to 0.

Dunlap kicked off, and Cullowhee ran it back to the 40. There the game ended—Mars Hill 25, Cullowhee 0.

Hamilton, Cullowhee's star back, led the Catamounts. J. C. Mitchell starred in the Mars Hill line as well as McLeod, Crouch, Beam, Cline, Kelley, and Lowe. Boyd Ayers, high point man of the afternoon with 18 points for his three touchdowns, sparkled in the back field; while Greene and Martin hit the line with everything that they had. Gouge displayed himself as an excellent blocker and a good runner. Dunlap did a superb job of calling the signals.

Girl's Spotlight

By Louvene Jordan

Speaking of sports, some of these girls just seem to have sports in their bones. For instance, have you noticed how Lib Cherry seems to know all the rules in the sports world? And we love the athletic impression Susan Brinson gives. Oh my! If you see us affected by palsy, it will only be the muscular exertion of Betty Ann Bullock when she slings a ball! Another new discovery is Lee Ora Banks. You should see how she gets around on the basketball floor! 'Nuff said about that, though; we must tell you about the swimming meet. It was held between suppers October 24, with C-II participants being proclaimed winners. Arriving late, we had to push our way through the crowd of beautiful girls surrounding the pool watching the graceful "mermaids." We particularly noticed the smooth, powerful way in which Cecelia Abernathy did the front crawl, the form of Peggy Chesson's side stroke, Lib Howard's breast stroke, and the beautiful diving of Sally Hudson, president of the swimming club, and Kathryn Hipps. Sally received recognition for doing the Jack-knife and Swan-dive, and Kathryn performed gracefully the standing front dive. This feat ended the activities of the swimming club until next spring, when the swimmers can go in without coming out an "iceberg."

The latest and most exciting news is the organization of the Woman's Athletic Association (WAA for short). Coach Hart tackled up a notice last week for all girls to meet her at 7:30. Not knowing what we had done, we fearfully attended the meeting, at which time Coach introduced to us the general rules of the WAA. The purpose of the WAA is to promote wholesome and healthful activity, to stimulate an interest in athletics, to create a spirit of good sportsmanship, and to cooperate with the other campus organizations in promoting and maintaining the high standards of college life. Nominations for officers of this organization were made at the meeting and two days later all girls passing Spilman were dragged in to cast votes for the nominees. The following were elected: President, Sally Hudson; Vice-president, Gerry Burgess; Secretary-Treasurer, Pat Lancaster; and Recorder, Thelma Deal. All girls are requested to back these officers. Activities of the WAA will start right away.

ALUMNI GLEANINGS

Former students still get a great deal of satisfaction out of returning to their alma mater. It seems that nearly every day we see strange faces on the campus. Upon inquiring we find that they belong to former students of Mars Hill College.

Rev. W. E. Walker ('40), pastor of the Beaverdam Baptist Church in Asheville, paid us a visit on October 9. On the 10th Robert W. Crutchfield ('28), now with the War Department Contracts Audit Division in Louisville, Ky., and E. R. Clark ('12), Pennsylvania Railroad conductor, now living in Washington, D. C., dropped in. E. A. Adelman ('43), of Wilkesboro, N. C., visited the campus on October 12.

Miss Martha Whitworth ('41) came to see us on the 13th. She is now teaching home economics in the Leaksville, N. C. high school. Hames R. Hudgens ('22) brought his bride (the former Miss Bessie Wilson Miller) by to us on the 13th also. He is now a salesman of flour and feeds in Greensville, S. C.

Robert S. Gellerstedt ('44) came by on the 15th on his way from New York home. He plans to enter Georgia School of Technology at the beginning of the next term. On the 16th James R. Penland ('41) was on the campus. He had just been discharged after serving as a first lieutenant in the Army Air Forces flying "the Hump" in India. He is now at home in Weaverville, N. C.

Cpl. Tom Brookshire ('43), who stopped in on the 18th, expects to receive his discharge soon and reenter Mars Hill next semester. Tom Davis ('03) came to see us on the 20th. Billy Robertson ('46), now serving in the Merchant Marines, visited the campus on the 21st.

On the 24th Robert Plott ('42) returned to the campus for a visit. He has been discharged from service after serving for three years and three months. Pvt. Carlos T. Cooper ('45) came in last week-end. He said he expects to go overseas when he returns to camp.
