Through A Blue - and - White Haze

Dear Listeners:
If this blue and white haze will settle for a little while, we'll attempt to bring you some good old Clio-Phi gossip. No, Clios, it wasn't a dream. Those wonderful Phis really put Anniversary over the top again for the 56th time!! And Phis, words alone can't express the splendor of when—

"Down by the old mill-stream
Where we strolled with you
With your white and blue
And your love so true,
It was there we knew
That we loved you true;
We felt like a queen
In your garden green
Down by the old mill-stream."

The Philomathian president really led the Phis in an enjoyable and wholesome program. His heart-warming welcome and dedication put the Clios and Phis at ease. The challenge to Elliot Donnels, Euthalian president, was accepted and warmly returned. Down front, Ruby Comer kept her fingers crossed while Sim Wilde declaimed. Swoons of delight issued from Blanche Willis and Hilda Lominac when their dates, Troupe Harris and John T. Gibson gave out with "Deep Purple." Merle Burns smiled contentedly when Frank Yandell led the Phi Chorus. (It was very good, by the way.) "That's my man," beamed Janie Kemp when Rolen Bailey debated, "He's wonderful—in a debate", claimed Jean Hackney about Richard Bowen.

The three carried out the Society colors in their blue and white attire. Some other happy tri-angles were: Dwight (piano-fixer) Wilhelm - Dorothy Lane and Thelda Trimmier. Garris Parker - Jeanette Harrison and Betty Manus. We 'specially noticed Paul Ember with Rosemary Rommel and twins, Jean and June Waldrop, who kept their date confused as to who was who. Another foursome was Cecil Tallent with Betty Sue Givens, Jean Hamilton, and Adalene Cole. Amid Oh's and Ah's from the audience, Tip Eames gave his informal speech on "Curiosity," just as the curtain opened to reveal a beautiful water wheel in its rustic setting of an old-fashioned garden. The first couple Louis Nipper and Phyllis Bingham were among the most charming couples. Slowly other Phis and their dates strolled across the rustic bridge. 'Specially noticed were officers, Margaret Hayter — Wendell Witte. Juan Peterson — Leonard Rollins. Carl Westermoreland — Dot Stowe. Stretching our necks a little more we could see Bill Riddle — Jean Dickman. Margaret Murray—Gene Lewis. Margaret Allgood — Bob Anderson. The latest shades and fashions were arrayed by the Clios. Some of special notice were: Betty Pringle with Jack Bowers. Cabby Bennett with George Williams. Jerry Fields with Horace Bennett. Doug Davis with Nelda Silver.

"Marty" Pope sat glued to the seat (well, not literally), all during the program. 'Twas heard that after the program she got to do what she wanted to do, and was Harper ever pleasantly surprised!

The two Anniversary presidents conventionally closed the Grand March while on-lookers sat stary-eyed. After such "a dream come true" Anniversary, the Clios are working harder than ever on Reception for their brothers. The boys really deserve the best, and if Clio is true to form that is just what they will get. Good luck Clios, and may Reception be a great challenge, as was Phi Anniversary, to the coming Non-Eu Anniversary and Reception. Before leaving, the Clios and Phis would like to express their humble and sincere appreciation to all Nons, Eus, and faculty members, who gave of their time and efforts to help in any way.
