

Youth Revival
Feb. 29 - March 7

The Hilltop

Read Your
Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

Volume XXII

MARS HILL, N. C., FEBRUARY 21, 1948.

Number 10

Mars Hill Band Presents Concert

Honor Clubs Admit New Members

Honor clubs of Mars Hill College held on February 11 and 12 their regular monthly meetings. Persons eligible on the basis of their first semester records were initiated into the clubs of their choice. The clubs are: the Classical, French, Orphean Music, International Relations, Science, Scriblerus (English), and Spanish.

The Classical club held its first meeting of the year to elect new officers and have a brief program about Greece and Rome. The officers are: president, Don Jackson; vice-president, Luther Dunn; secretary, Doris McNeill; chaplain, Floyd Gill; and social chairman, Lucile Mabry. The members are: Jessie Bernard, Luther Dunn, Floyd Gill, Don Jackson, Peggy Garren, Lucile Mabry, and Doris McNeill.

The French club presented a French comedy in the auditorium. Six new members were admitted. They are Betty Revan, Rose Simmons, Ella George McIver, Fred Tucker, John Williams, and Betty Mayhugh.

A program centered about moonlight was given by the Orphean Music club at the home of Miss Mary Stringfield. Recently elected officers are: president, Eula Mae Bumgarner; first vice-president, Betty Hart; second vice-president, Carol Jean Bizzell; recording secretary, Betty Neighbors; corresponding secretary, Lynn Mehaffey; treasurer, Ed Getzman. The other members are Nancy Cooke, Harold Craige, Virginia Cox, Imogene Eakes, Doris Fowler, Joe Gantt, Alma Harris, Elaine Ivie, Orlena Jamerson, Martha Maxwell, Orville Murray, Nell Neighbors, Miriam Quiggly, Patricia Roberts, Valeria Wallace, and Arthur Wilson.

"Is War Inevitable?" was the theme of the program of the International Relations club. The new members are: Doris Anders, Laura Day Beatty, Eunice Betlem, Robert Blackwell, William Bowen, Hortense Bridges, Rebecca Combs, Elizabeth Davis, Glen Fincannon, Frank Goslen, Janet Harris, Joe Joyce, Nellie Joyce, Beulah Johnson, Jeanette Lambertson, Georgine Lyon, Henry Maring, John McAllister, Elsie McFarland, Edmund Ramseur, Lee Rhodes, John Scaff, C. T. Smith, Mildred Swann, Joyce Thomas, Charlotte Wilson, and Jose Alvarez, honorary.

In the Science Club meeting, slides were presented by Mr. Wood and new officers were elected. They are: president, Garris Parker; vice-president, Mickey Allgood; and secretary, Harold Lominac. The new members are: Miriam Wilkerson, Peggy Willis, Barbara Lawhon, Martha Wilkins, Angie Woodruff, Shirley Schellenberg, Weldon Word, Herbert Rogers, Jackie Collins, Norma Mashburn, Harry P. Clause, Jr., Frank E. Ingle, Don Wilfong, Spencer Thornton, Leary Reid,

(Continued on Page 4)

Youth Revival Schedule Completed

The Mars Hill college youth revival will begin February 29 with the Sunday morning service at the Mars Hill Baptist Church. Reiji Hoshizaki, Charles Mashburn and Eugene Paden, an evangelistic team of students from the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, will conduct the services each evening, Feb. 29—March 7 at 7:15.

Two students, a girl and a boy, will have charge of the chapel services in the church and auditorium each day during the week. Also a youth choir will participate in the services each evening.

The evangelistic team has conducted youth revivals in Kentucky and throughout the South. Hoshizaki, a mission volunteer to his home land, Japan, and Mashburn will preach alternately each evening and Pagen, an experienced song leader, will have charge of the song services.

Prayer meeting is being held each evening at 5:30 o'clock in Moore Hall for all students who wish to attend and pray for the coming youth revival.

Annual Nonpareil Tea Given

On the afternoon of February 19 in Edna Moore Parlor, Nonpareil Literary Society presented its annual tea for its cousin society—Clio. The theme which was "Enchantment of China" was used to give the place an oriental atmosphere. A color scheme of red and yellow, typical Chinese colors, was used in all the decorations. Red and yellow streamers covered the doorways, and lanterns hung from the ceiling, giving the effect of a Chinese garden. At the door receiving the guests were Polly Jean Yandell, Iris Porter, Rose Bullard, and Maelyn Mackie. All were dressed in Chinese attire and gave each guest a check with a Chinese character on it.

Creating a background for the room was a painting on the center window, of a coolie pulling a rickshaw. In the distance snow-capped mountains were visible. Jane Winchester and Barbara Myers, dressed in Chinese robes, gave favors to all present. The favors were red china teapots, and the program for the afternoon was inside.

The program was presented several times by Pat Roberts at the piano and Doris McNeil at the Marimba playing Chinese songs. A Chinese reading and poem were given.

Refreshments were served by the old and new officers. There was spicy Chinese tea, red and yellow ribbon sandwiches, red and yellow sugar cookies, and red and yellow mints.

The president and vice-president acted as hostesses and greeted all the guests.

Pictured above is the team which will lead the Youth Revival beginning February 29. They are left to right: Charles Mashburn, Reiji Hoshizaki, and Eugene Paden.

MHC Students Attend Convention

Nine Mars Hill Students and Miss Evelyn Underwood of the history faculty attended an educational and civic conference on the United Nations at Statesville, Feb. 19, 20 and 21. The conference was sponsored by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations. Headquarters were at the Vance Hotel.

Among the prominent speakers on the program were: His Excellency, Oscar Ivanissevich, Ambassador from Argentina; Henri Bonnet, Ambassador from France; Guillermo Belt, Ambassador from Cuba; Honorable Benjamin Cohen, Assistant Secretary General from United Nations; Honorable John S. Reid, Councilor from New Zealand to United States; Senators Slyde Hoey and William Umstead from North Carolina.

Among the students attending from Mars Hill were Charlotte Wilson, Elizabeth Davis, Raleigh Baker, Robert Ivey, John McAllister, John Scaff, Carl Isaac, Glenn Fincannon, and Mary Ann Campbell.

Miss Lester Speaks At Church Service

Miss Muriel Lester, social worker, author, and lecturer, of London spoke at the 11 o'clock service of the Mars Hill Baptist Church, Sunday February 15.

Sometimes called the "Jane Adams of England," Miss Lester is noted for having, with her sister, established the institution "Kingsley Hall" in London in the Bow, where many problems of congested slum districts arose. She is the author of "It Occurred to Me" and "So It Happened."

Miss Lester is touring the United States under the auspices of the Friends Service Committee. She spoke at the Central Methodist Church in Asheville at a union evening service on February 15.

Miss Lester has recently returned from a tour of Europe, India, China, and Latin-American countries.

Dramateers Present Spring Production

On Saturday night, April 10, in the College Auditorium the Dramateers will present the spring presentation 'Death Takes a Holiday,' by Alberto Castella. This play is based on the poetic conception of death suspending all activities for three days during which period he falls in love with a beautiful girl, and through her he realizes why mortals fear him. The mood of this play is established with remarkable skill and while it is charged with exciting moments, it is a perfect background for a love story that is as simple as it is appealing. The cast will include the following: John Scaff, Iris Porter, Katherine Phillips, Phil Weeks, Charlie Wilson, Lois Keller, Frank Goslen, Bill Smith, Jeanne Alexander, Clyde Moody, and Doris Carter.

On February 5, in the college auditorium with an elaborate ceremony of Shakespearean verse and flickering lights the Dramateers initiated the following members: Jean Ferguson, Anna Owen, Bill Smith, Jeanne Alexander, Betty Jo Steele, Charlie Wilson, Virginia Burgess, James Harris, Elbert Lewis, Paul West, Phil Weeks, Netta Sue Caudill. After the ceremony, refreshments were served to both old and new members in the Speech Studio.

On Thursday, February 19, Jimmy Harris, Bill Smith, and Clyde Moody, with their director, Miss Starnes, represented the Dramateers at Lee Edwards High School for the planning program of the Regional District Drama Festival which is to be held March 11 and 12.

Delta Psi Omega Dramatic Honor Fraternity had a weiner roast in Huffman play room Monday February 2. Phil Weeks, Katherine Phillips, John Scaff, Rex Starnes, and Jean Starnes were present.

The Mars Hill College band will present a concert of varied music this evening at eight o'clock in the College auditorium. Included on the program will be number of marches, renditions of "Tea For Two" and "Jalousie." "The Crusader's Overture," "The Mosquitoes' Parade" and "The Phantom Trumpeteers" will constitute the remainder of the program. Following the concert, a reception will be held for the band members and their dates.

The college and student body are indebted to the band for its excellent service this year. Mr. Hall and the students have worked diligently to produce a band of which the college can be proud. During the football season the band furnished worthwhile entertainment at the half-time intermission as well as during the game. The band members, in their snappy blue and gold uniforms, traveled with the football team to other schools, whenever possible, to give our players moral support and to establish the fact that Mars Hill College has a band. It has also participated in several parades, including the Armistice Day parade in Asheville. For these services the college and the general public express their appreciation.

The concert this evening will acquaint many students with an activity of the band they never knew existed. This evening's program will be carried to many schools in Western North Carolina in the Spring.

Home Economics Club Installs New Officers

The Home Economics Club met Monday night, February 2, with its new officers in charge for the first time. They are: president, Peggy Ingle; vice-president, Nellie Joyce; secretary, Claire Bowers; treasurer, Beth Lennon; devotional chairman, Mrs. Hazel Bumgarner; refreshment chairman, Kathleen Coston; entertainment chairman, Eunice Hiott; membership chairman, Annie Jean Mosteller; and reporter, Kate Baucom. The desk officers for last semester were: president, Faye Jenkins; vice-president, Betty Sams; and secretary-treasurer, Jackie Pitchford.

The new officers made a good start with an excellent program. A very interesting topic concerning the manner of speech and the control of voice was discussed by Claire Bowers. Kate Baucom told a story of one woman who refused to consider the loss of her voice a tragedy. Beth Lennon read a short poem. Mrs. Howell presented one of her series of talks, "As Others Like You," that have proved helpful to the girls on many occasions. There followed a brief round-table discussion of everyday courtesy at home, school, and other places.