

The Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

GIRLS' DORMS

MARS HILL COLLEGE, MARS HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1950

Number 9

VALENTINE TEAS

Forty-Five Make Dean's List For First Semester

Week. Wildy C-I's and forty-five C-II's "enforced" named on the Dean's list this week. After, and of those, two C-II's full week. Gene Stewart, a C-II from Tex. ew, N. C., made the highest ever, fifty-seven. C-I's listed Alma Altman, Newberry, S. Eileen Ammons, Stockville; Anderson, Mars Hill; De- Balnton, Kings Mountain; Bowen, Chesnee, S. C.; Caldwell, Newton; Roy Camp- Dawson, Ga.; Lellon Carden, am; Alda Jean Clarke, Mars Alice Cook, Clinton; William Southport; Joseph Davis of bethon; Josie Douglas, htdale; David Early, Winston n; Bonnie Sue Eller, Pickens, us of W.; Jo Ann Ferguson, Sonora, e German James Forte, New Smyrna r you mah, Florida; John Thomas For- s a rather Rutherfordton; Mary Alice s institution, Chapel Hill; John Hurt, n, no otte; Sammy Jean Johnson, other th; Thomas Kostic, Pottsville, to the n.; Dixon Lackey, Asheville; up in the Lide, Greenville, S. C.; Win- languag Luffman, State Road; Wilma ne drawb Lynn, Raleigh; Betsy McGee, The colleston-Salem; Janie ve Mast, owards gston Salem; Robert Melvin, St. ember, nds; Farol Metcalf, Stockville; valuable Die Nicholson, Penrose; Vivian rticipant, New Orleans, La.; Julian rs the coks, Halifax; Talmage Penland, k is at meville; Carey Perry, Louisburg; ests are en Jean Poston, Mooresville; es Reeves, Walnut; William hie, Kannapolis; Patsy Rogers, elwood; Roy Rumbough, Mars Betty Shoaf, Kannapolis; ah Ellen Swann, Statesville; es Tanner, Elk Park; Betty Turner, Mocksville; Helen ner, Asheville; Wisner Washam e. Cornelius; Frances Willingham, olin, Ga.; and Carolyn Win- rry, Statesville.

CI Class Officers (l. to r.): Jack Price, president; Betsy Baker, treasurer; Joyce Phillips, secretary; Ted Haggai, vice-president.

CI's Here Are The Facts About You And Your Class

Of the 912 students we have enrolled at Mars Hill, 529 of these are C-I's. The C-I class has 291 boys, while the girls fall a little behind with 238. There are 38 veterans in the class, which is an equal number with the C-II's. In the entire student body, we have 16 states represented. We have 1 from the British Indies, 1 from Brazil, 2 from Cuba, 2 from Hawaii, 2 from Guatemala, and 1 from Portugal.

On the campus we have 718 Baptists, including both classes. The C-I class, however, claims 432 of this number. The next highest religious sect in the C-I class is the Methodists, who have 57. We have 18 Presbyterians, 7 Episcopalians, 6 Christian, 3 Congregationalist Christian, 1 Protestant, 3 Lutherans, and 2 Moravians. Of the entire C-I class we have only 8 non-members.

Students From Many Areas

Perhaps you would like to know the states from which the C-I's come. North Carolina leads, of course, with 374. Virginia comes 2nd with 49, with South Carolina almost tying them with a total of 43. Florida boasts of 27, Georgia of 16, Tennessee of 7, Pennsylvania of 5, Maryland of 5, New York of 4. Kentucky, W. Virginia, Alabama, and D. C. have 2 each, while Indiana and Louisiana have 1 each.

Buncombe county has the largest representation here with a total of 78. The next five are: Mecklenburg, 43; Madison, 42; Forsyth, 34; Wake, 30 and Caldwell, 25.

Did you know that 142 of the C-I's do not know what they plan to take as their profession? We have, however, 46 ministerial students, 42 business students, 32 engineering students, 27 teachers,

Ga.; William Snyder, Asheville; Gene Sewart, Andrews; Thom Sumner, Asheville; Eveleen Taylor, Valdese; Lacy Thornburg, Huntersville; Dewey Wells, Henderson; Martha Whitehead, Lenoir; and Guy Wiggins, Franklin.

36 secretarial students, and 24 Religious Ed students. Thirty-nine different fields are represented by the choices of the remaining C-I's.

Let's introduce you to our outstanding C-I's in their different activities. Beginning with our class officers, we find that Jack Price is a veteran who hails from Roanoke, Virginia, planning on being a minister. Ted Haggai, that veteran with a mustache, comes from Binghamton, New York, and his interest lies in being an electrical engineer. The red-headed gal who takes all those $1 bills is Joyce Phillips. Joyce comes from Fort Mill, South Carolina, and is interested in welfare work. Betsy Baker, who is the treasurer of the class and in the May Court, was born in nearby Asheville. She is interested in being an X-Ray Technician. The other members of the May Court are: Jane Holtzclaw, who comes from Asheville, but has no preferences for a vocation; Carolyn Havner, who plans on being one of those secretaries, comes from Charlotte; Mary Howard Frank, from Fayetteville, plans to be a teacher.

CI's In Athletics

The C-I's have 4 of their classmates on the cheerleading team of the school. Charlie Tomlinson, that tall blondheaded fellow came from Winston Salem, North Carolina, and is interested in dramatics. Louise George, who comes from the capital city of our state, is undecided as to her vocation. From Boone, North Carolina, comes Ila Graham, and she plans to be a teacher. Ruth Ellen Monroe represents High Point, North Carolina, and she plans to be one of those secretaries, too.

The class has something to be really proud of in the C-I basketball team. Right now they are leading in the intramural sports with 8 wins and 1 loss.

Everyone is invited to the brief informal parties in the girls' dorms immediately after the Glee Club concert on Tuesday night.

"Christ Only, Always" Theme For Youth Revival, Feb. 19-26

Furman Singers Stage Concert

The Furman University Singers, an eighty voice mixed chorus, will appear at Mars Hill College on February 14.

Directed by DuPre Rhame, professor of voice at the university, the Singers will present a program of sacred music, operatic and light operatic selections.

The program will open with the Furman University Alma Mater and will be followed by a group of sacred songs including "Unfold Ye Portals," "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place," and Adams' "The Holy City."

Miss Jeannine McDonald of Louisville, Kentucky, soprano, and Miss Betty Jean Soymour of Florence, contralto, will sing the duets, "Tutti, Fior" from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" and the "Barcarolle" from "The Tales of Hoffman" by Offenbach.

The mixed chorus with the soloists, Misses McDonald, Seymour, Craft, and Cator, Messrs. Wilton Fowler and Boyd Hicks, will present the Easter Scene from Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana," the chorus of the "Cigarette Girls" from Bizet's "Garmon" and "When The Foeman Bears His Steel" from "The Pirates of Penzance."

The Furman Men's Glee Club will sing "Matona, Lovely Maiden," Schubert's "Ave Maria" with Bobby Watson of Anderson as solist, "Were You There," Ezekiel Saw De Wheel" and the Drinking Song from Romberg's "The Student Prince."

One of the highlights and probably most enjoyed numbers will be portions of Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker Suite."

The program will be concluded with McLean's arrangements of Victor Herbert favorites, "Dry Bones," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The chorus this year is composed of members from eleven States. Included in the chorus are three former Mars Hillians, Eunice Hiatt, Ann Holbrook, and Mary Lou Joyce.

Volunteers Hold Meet January 31

The Volunteers for Christ held their monthly meeting Tuesday night, January 31, in the Clio-Phi hall. A devotion on "God's Minority" was given by Julia Almeida, and Bonnie Pearce introduced the speakers. Martha Stallings related her experiences conducting Vacation Bible Schools last summer; Lou Griffin told of her work with the Training Union department, and Louise Norwood told of life as a Ridgecrest staffer.

Mission work of the Volunteers was reported by Jeanne Ramsey.

"Christ Only, Always" will be the theme of the annual Youth Revival of Mars Hill College which will be held February 19-26. Dr. Theodore Adams from the First Baptist Church in Richmond, Virginia is to be the guest speaker. He and ten of our students will have alternating chapel programs. The students are Milton Snyder, Jean Mason, Jean Ramsey, John Claypool, Thelma Angel, Harold House, Sarah Peedin, Bob Melvin, Bill Huff, and Charles Glanville. Services are to be in the church each evening at 7:30. John Claypool will preside over the evening services.

In preparation for the revival, a student service was held Thursday, February 9. The theme of this service was "Hour Of Power," and was sponsored by the Ministerial Conference.

It was decided to have this spring an outstanding minister to lead in the Youth Revival rather than have the services wholly student-sponsored. Students will, however, play a major role and the active participation of everyone is urged.

College Band Gives Concert

The 45 piece Mars Hill College Concert Band will give its annual Winter Concert Saturday night, February 18, at 8:00.

Soloists for the program include: Miss Lucille Sawyer, who will perform the Greig "Piano Concerto in A Minor" with the band and Messrs Joe Pritchard, Allan Mills, David Gaddy, and Max Harless, who will present two modern trumpet quartet numbers accompanied by the band.

The program will consist of the "First Movement of the Piano Concerto in A Minor" by Greig, featuring Miss Sawyer and the band; "Kom Susser Tod," a powerful chorale by Bach; the famous, lively classical "Overture to the Barber of Seville" by Rossini; "The Klaxon," a terrific new march based on the tones of the old Klaxon auto horn; three selections from "Gayne" filled with Russian vigor, and special numbers from "South Pacific," the great Broadway show of 1949-50. A special attraction will be the first public performance of "Tocatta and Fugue in C Minor," written by Mr. J. R. Hall, director of the band.

Included in the program also will be "The Thunderer," an old favorite march featuring the trumpets and the drums; "Futura," a new overture in the modern style; "The Trumpeters" and "Gracious Lord from Whom All Blessings Flow," featuring the trumpet quartet, and a stirring arrangement of the old favorite, "A Kiss in the Dark."

The personnel of the Mars Hill College Concert Band includes—flutes: Martha Snow, Charlottesville, Virginia; Eugene Boone,

(Continued on Page 4)