

The Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

MAKE GOOD

BUCKLE
DOWN

Volume XXV

MARS HILL, N. C., MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 1951

Number 7

Home Ec. Club Elects Officers for Second Semester Non-Eu and Clio-Phi Officers

Schinhan Give Music to MHC

Dr. Jan P. Schinhan, head of the organ department of the University of North Carolina, made a special trip to Mars Hill during the holidays to present to the Mars Hill College music library one hundred volumes of musical compositions which he brought back with him from Europe.

Included are works of Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Bruckner, Chopin, Dvorak, Grieg, Handel, Haydn, Liszt, Mendelssohn, Mozart, Schubert, Schumann, Smetana, Tchaikowsky and Weber. The majority of these selections are piano compositions, but also included are a number of four-hand arrangements, pastaments for piano of the symphonies in Spand chamber music of these commoners. These volumes belong to the Peters edition.

Mrs. Schinhan is the former director of the Mars Hill College Glee Club.

Staffers Leave

Hilltop staff members will lose two of their number at the close of the semester as Tom Simmons, circulation manager and Jim Martin, sports editor withdraw from college for enlistment into the armed forces.

Simmons, a second year student from Greensboro, N. C., has served in the circulation department of the staff during both his years as student here. Being exceptional outstanding in society activities, he has served Philomathia as secretary and censor. He is also a member in track and a member of the monogram club.

Martin is completing his first semester at Mars Hill and has handled the chores of sports editor since his arrival to the campus. Martin comes from Charleston, S. C. and is a member of the Euthalian Literary Society and of both the band and glee club.

Left to Right: Helen Turner, Dot Rose Morgan, Ramona Allen, Mary Frances Silver, Winnie Luffman, Beth Ann Dixon, Betty Joyner, and Jewell Beauford.

The Home Economics Club—our homemakers of tomorrow—held its regular bi-ennial installation service last Monday night, January 8, at a buffet style supper, the first of its kind to be planned by the club.

Officers installed in the formal ceremony are: Miss Winnie Luffman, president; Miss Ramona Allen, vice-president; Miss Helen Turner, secretary; Miss Dot Rose Morgan, treasurer; and Miss Jewel Beauford, reporter.

Artiss deVolt To Give Concert

Artiss deVolt, famous American harpist, born in Iowa, will be the guest harpist at a concert given in the Mars Hill College auditorium, January 27, at eight o'clock in the evening. This will be her fourth visit here.

Miss deVolt studied in Boston and Vienna with the world famous harpist, Alfred Holy, who was harp soloist with the Berlin, Vienna, and Bayreuth Operas, before becoming solo harpist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

She made her debut as a concert harpist at Boston while still in her teens and a student at the Girls' Latin School. After graduating from the New England Conservatory, where she built a firm musical foundation, she sailed for an

(Continued on Page 4)

The installation program, preceded by the buffet supper, was presented by candlelight. Miss Mary Frances Silver, retiring president, presided. On either side of her were the new officers who stood opposite the retiring officers.

Miss Silver told of the Betty Lamp symbol and the ideals which it represented; simplicity, usefulness, cleanliness and economy. Each new officer was given her responsibility, after which all repeated the Home Economics college pledge; "I pledge my loyalty to the Mars Hill Home Economics club. I promise to uphold its aims and ideals and to serve to the best of my ability in my college, my home, and my community as it extends from my own neighborhood to the whole world."

With this pledge the simple but meaningful ceremony was closed.

Plans for the coming semester have been partially laid out. A spring fashion show, showing the latest wearing apparel, will be presented in early spring. In the late spring open house is to be held.

Miss Home Economics, the young woman whom the whole department thinks lives up to the ideals of a home economist, will be chosen and announced at the annual Home Economics Recognition program.

STUDENTS SIGN FOR ROOMS

Miss Frances Snelson announces that students may come by the president's office and sign up for the room which they wish to occupy during the 1951-52 session beginning Monday, February 12, and going through Saturday, February 17. Your present room will be held for you until Monday, February 19. If you do not live on the campus now but desire to move to a college building for next year, it will be necessary for you to pay the $5 room fee at the time you choose your room.

C-I Hilltop Coming Up

There is an opportunity waiting for you, C-I's, at the very first of the forthcoming semester—an opportunity for you to show your interest in and flare for newspaper writing and management. The February 10 edition is all yours!

If you are the "bloodhound" type—if you have a "nose for news," and a love for journalism that will not fade when it comes to burning midnight oil, then here is your chance to lay a foundation for anticipations of the future, and an opportunity to discover the real thrill of journalism.

Get in on the machinery behind the front page. Help put a newspaper together. Experience the familiar, but ever new excitement of "last minute" doings—the thousand and one little details that must be completed before the paper goes to press. Enjoy the inexplicable joy of seeing the finished masterpiece circulated to all its readers.

Come down to The Hilltop office, room 13 in Spilman Annex. (Continued on Page 3)

Miss Wills Plans Spring Wedding

Miss Nora Wills, secretary of the alumni office and adviser for the Hilltop, is making plans to be married in the spring to Mr. Ted Jollay. Miss Wills is from Summerville, South Carolina, where Mr. Jollay is now employed as a forester. Mr. Jollay is a native of Ridgecrest, North Carolina.

Miss Wills is a graduate of Mars Hill College, which Mr. Jollay also attended. He was graduated from N. C. State University and attended Dartmouth as well. Besides his position in Summerville, Mr. Jollay is a lieutenant in the naval reserve.

Non-Eu, Clio-Phi Literary Societies have elected officers for the Forensic Term of the year.

Jean Poston will serve as president for the Nonpareil Society, while Betty Lou Winchester and Mary Jo Isaacs are vice-presidents. Jean is from Mooresville, is a member of the International Relations Club, and was Reception vice-president. Betty Lou, from Asheville, is a member of the forensic team and was Reception secretary. Mary Jo, from Winston-Salem, is a member of the Forensic Team, vice-president of the M-blem Club, and a member of the W.A.A.

Lib Parker, of Newbern, will keep the Society records; and Sue Eller, from Pickens, S. C., will act as censor. Mary Burch of Charlotte is the new chaplain.

Leading Euthalia will be R. F. Smith, from Lenoir. Smith is business manager of the Laurel, president of Spilman dormitory, and manager of the intramural football and basketball teams.

Ed Dowdy, from Roanoke, Va., has been chosen vice-president of the Society. Dowdy is a member of the Ministerial Conference. Other Forensic Term officers are as follows: secretary, Ralph Hunt from Lexington; censor, Latimer Farr from Wauchula, Florida; and chaplain, Odell Breland from Ruffin, South Carolina.

Clios Elect Shoaf

The Clios have selected Betty Shoaf to lead them this term. Betty is from Kannapolis and has served as Clio secretary and vice-president. She is also chaplain of Huffman Dormitory and a member of the Scriblerus Club.

Sara Ellen Swann, from Statesville, is vice-president. She is a former Clio censor and is president of a Sunday School Class, vice-president of Stroup dormitory, a

(Continued on Page 3)

Shown above are a group of the Home Economics girls looking over and mending clothes which they are sending to an orphan's home in Japan. Miss Doris Watkins, nutritionist with the Personnel Department of the Government and a graduate of Mars Hill, wrote a letter to her sister, Dale Watkins, a Home Economics major here, informing her of the need of clothes in Japan. The children in the unheated orphanages there have but few clothes to wear. Dale related the news to the girls in her Home Economics Class, and they responded emphatically by gathering enough clothing from the girls' dormitories to fill two boxes. If possible, more clothing is to be sent soon.

SCHEDULE OF FIRST SEMESTER EXAMINATIONS

January 15-20, 1951

All classes meeting at	Will have examination on
8:30 MWF	Monday Jan. 15 ( 8:00 - 10:00)
9:30 MWF	Monday Jan. 15 (10:30 - 12:30)
10:30 TTS	Monday Jan. 15 ( 2:30 - 4:30)
9:00 MWF	Tuesday Jan. 16 ( 8:00 - 10:00)
1:30 TTS	Tuesday Jan. 16 (10:30 - 12:30)
9:00 TTS	Tuesday Jan. 16 ( 2:30 - 4:30)
8:00 MWF	Wednesday Jan. 17 ( 8:00 - 10:00)
2:30 TTS	Wednesday Jan. 17 (10:30 - 12:30)
8:00 TTS	Wednesday Jan. 17 ( 2:30 - 4:30)
1:30 MWF	Thursday Jan. 18 ( 8:00 - 10:00)
2:30 TTS	Thursday Jan. 18 (10:30 - 12:30)
1:30 TTS	Thursday Jan. 18 ( 2:30 - 4:30)
2:30 MWF	Friday Jan. 19 ( 8:00 - 10:00)
2:30 MWF	Friday Jan. 19 (10:30 - 12:30)
1:30 MWF	Friday Jan. 19 ( 2:30 - 4:30)
8:30 TTS	Saturday Jan. 20 ( 8:00 - 10:00)
Others and specials	Saturday Jan. 20 (10:30 - 12:30)

Note: From the Catalogue, Page 43: "No deviation from the examination schedule is permitted except by special order of the faculty."

Registration for Second Semester begins Monday morning, January 22. Class work begins Wednesday morning, January 24.