Nov. 10, 19

tings lights

Il meet on N at 7:30 P. M. ternational R nce Clubs wume XXVI r 12. The of November 13.

Business Clu nan parlor. I neet in Ed the I. R. C. ench Club v of Mrs. No ic Club at t Weaver a Science Cl 36 of the S ntering its pl The Mosle on the Scien l be talks hemistry, l also be a c ent scienti pers of the S

using its pr "Queen Eliz m is "Orche onpareil Fetes Brother Society the Busine Vith Annual Formal Reception center arou 1 meet at )wn's

OWERS

rs

leed

N.C.

IFTS

DΝ

umgardner To Be Class President elia Vann. the Germa

new membWarner Bumgardner of Charseries of prte was elected president of the lture is beitshman class on November 19. r, the first her officers elected were ented at forge Pullium of Andrews, vice-esident; Joyce Seawell of St. uls, secretary; and Jim Jones Pembroke, treasurer. ompanied Bumgardner is a member of the

, was one nisterial conference on campus d also is an active member of Philomathian Literary Socie-A graduate of Harding High Charlotte, he held the office of retary of his Junior class and is a member of the high school ble club.

George Pullium, vice-president, also a member of the minisial conference, and the Philothian Literary Society. While L HOME high school he served as editorchief of his high school year ok and was active in dramatics d glee club. He has carried his interests to college and is member of the Glee Club, ixed Chorus, and Boys' Chorus. Joyce Seawell, secretary, has

(Continued on Page 4)

"Hitch Your Wagon to a Star; Set Your Course and There You Are" was the theme of the 56th Nonpareil formal reception held in the Society halls November 24. Two programs, one humorous and one serious, were presented in Clio-Phi and Non-Eu halls respectively.

"The Only Way to Win," humorous, was presented with a hill-billy plot. The story deals with a mountaineer family suddenly confronted with the appearance of a mysterious stranger in the hills. Believing the stranger to be a government man who is trying to lure their boy into the service, the family goes through numerous antics to avoid him. The story closes as the family discovers he is in reality a young suitor of the daughter of the family.

Nonpareils participating in the play were as follows: Sarah Thomas, Jo Ann Dillard, Jeannie Creech, Jean Colvard, Jean Upton, Jackie Eaton, Betty McGee, and Marie Ellis.

"Fix Your Eyes Upon the Star," serious, had as its idea the strivings of two differently endowed girls toward the same high peak of achievement. The first scene

Euthalians Stage Anniversary

Music Department Presents Recital

The Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

MARS HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1951

The Music Department presented a group of piano, violin and voice students in the first student recital of the year in the college auditorium on November 16, at 4:30.

Piano selections were given by Nancy Kendall, Joy Buckner, and Carolyn Anderson. "Come to the Fair" was sung by Sue Hal, while Maxine Chappell sang "Prayer of a Norwegian Child". Both were accompanied by Miss Dorothy Weaver. Violin selections included "Carnival of Venice" by Nancy Kendall and "Valse op. 64, No. 2" by Patty Lou George.

Faculty Members Attend Meeting

Thanksgiving week Mars Hill College faculty members attended two regional scholastic conferences.

Miss Mildred Bingham, Mrs. James Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chapman of the Business Department, and Miss Frances Snelson, assistant to President Blackwell, went to Edgewater Park, Miss., to the annual convention of the Southern Business Education Association. The Convention met in the Edgewater Beach Hotel, November 23 and 24.

Representing the College at the South Atlantic Divisional Meeting of the Modern Language Association in Atlanta were Mrs. Cornelia Vann, head of the Mars Hill Modern Language Department, and L. R. Liles, teacher of Spanish. Meetings were held on Friday, Nov. 23 at Emory University and on Saturday, Nov. 24 at Georgia Tech.

Debaters Launch current Season

Annual anniversary program of the Euthalian Literary Society, the theme of which was "Currents Swell; Life Overflows" climaxed the Thanksgiving-Homecoming program of Mars Hill College.

The finale of the program was based on the triumphs and fail-

Student Union Sponsors Annual Pilgrim Pageant

The annual Thanksgiving pageant, "Lest We Forget," was presented by the Baptist Student Union council Thursday morning, November 22, in the Mars Hill Baptist Church auditorium. Preceding the pageant, Paul Berry sang a solo.

This group began the day's activities by singing outside the various dormitories. Other events of the day included Euthalian Anniversary and the Homecoming football game.

Those taking part in the pageant were Warner Bumgardner, who gave the Prologue; J. L. Bell, who read the poem, "The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers in New England" (adapted); and John Dean, who gave the retrospection and exhortation of the past Thanksgivings. The Pilgrims were represented by Maxine Chappell, Corbin Cooper, Lionel Cornell, Alan Gragg, Rachel Granger, Eddie Gray, Rowena Gee, Jim Green, Frances Haynes, Bob Owens, Peggy Page, James Powell, Larry Power, Bob Reese, Barbara Short, Ned Teague, Sarah Thomas, and Anne Tunstall.

Pilgrim children were Eric Blackwell, Nancy Kendall, Holland Kendall, Jonatha Roberts, and Betty Albert Sodeman. Indians were Catherine Bowen and Paul Justice. Indian children were Jane Edwards, Lane Roberts, and Susan Sodeman. Responses were given by Jo Ann Dillard, Bob Graham, Glen Holt, Margaret ures of man. Man's triumphs and failures were compared with a river and the numerous small tributaries which fed the river represented the many phases that flow together to make up a man's life.

(Continued on Page 4)

Number 5

The theme was carried out through narrative and song. The soloists were Paul Berry and Bill Stephenson, and Eddie Gray held the part of narrator.

The debate, which was one of the highlights of the program, had as its participants Ben Sloan and B. C. Phillips for the affirmative and Ned Teague and Nick Burton for the negative. The query of the debate was: Resolved: That the United Nations should not be the first to use the atomic bomb in event of an allout war with Russia and her satellites. Wesley Neely delivered the oration.

Other events on the program were poetry reading and a humorous skit.

Committee heads for the program were: Nick Burton, construction; Fermon Ragan, art; B. C. Phillips, program and invitations; and Joe Freeman, electrical.

Class Presents Religious Drama

"He Came Seeing," the first production of the newly-formed Religious Drama Class, was presented in chapel Tuesday morning, November 13. Directed by Dr. Pierce, it was the story of Joab, who was blind from birth. He was healed by Jesus, and had to choose between silence imposed upon him by Pharisees and testimony in behalf of Jesus.

Those taking part were Eddie Gray, Glen Holt, Gentry Crisp, Betty Huffman, Bonnie Hulsey, Betty Bowen, Ann Carter, Lionel Cornell, Jo Dillard, Ethel Evans, Margaret Johnston, Sara Lunsford, Glen Mitchell, Julia Ann Sigmon, and Mary Jane White.

garet Morgaicers of the Nonpareil Society are (seated): Freida Styles, vice-ude Brinkle^{sident}; Sara Thomas, censor. (Standing): Nancy Wright, vice-Mr. Collins.^{Sident}; Martha Looper, secretary; and Margaret Hudsoeth, president.

(Continued on Page 4)

tudents Elect Hyatt and Thomas ootball and Homecoming Queens

Reigning over the festivities on lanksgiving Day were Kathy ratt, Homecoming Queen, and oma Thomas, Football Queen. ttendants were Margaret Marr, Class; Gaynelle Chandler, CII ass; Janet Ponder, M-Blem ub; Dot Shields, M-Club. Kathy, who is from Wayneslle, recently was queen of the Pple Festival in Hendersonville. he came to Mars Hill last Januy and is a member of the Non-Ireil Society.

Aloma is a slender brunette om Raleigh. She is a CII and Nonpareil.

The crowning ceremony took place at the half. Football Queen, Aloma, was crowned by the team captain, Hubert Garner, and then sat on the bench with the team for the remainder of the game.

Immediately afterwards the attendants walked from the four corners of the field, to the center, Then the Homecoming Queen, Kathy, walked to the center of the field, where she was crowned by President Blackwell.

Each girl had chrysanthemums as flowers.

Mars Hill College Debating Club launched its 1951-52 season by participating in a practice debate at Wake Forest, Nov. 17. Miss Underwood and Mr. Jolley, advisors, Julia Horne, Rowena Gee, James Powell, and Lewis Dawson made the trip. A total of 25 teams representing Wake Forest, Duke, Davidson, North Greenville, and Mars Hill took part in the three rounds. No decisions were rendered but critiques were given.

At 7 o'clock a banquet was served in the University Dining Hall at which Dr. Richard Jordan of the U.S. Office of Price Stabilization spoke on wage and price controls. In the evening a clinic was held for advisors with Dr. Shirley of Wake Forest presiding.

Pictured are Euthalian officers: Joe Freeman, secretary; Marion Powell, president; Jim Ward, vice-president; and Bill Bowen, censor.