

The Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

3, 195

Volume XXVI

MARS HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, MAY 17, 1952

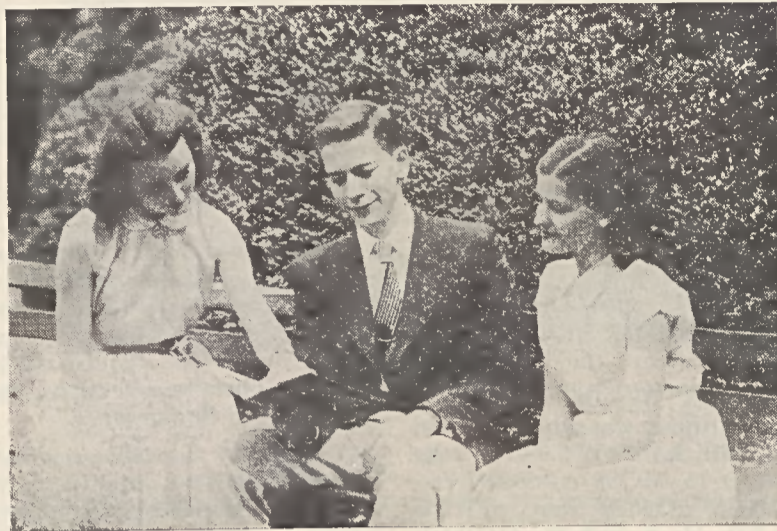

Number 15

Clinic To Be Held By Hans Barth

Hans Barth, leading composer and pianist, will serve as conductor for a clinic of music teachers on Mars Hill campus July 14 to August 9, with an expected representation from twelve or more states.

Among music lovers he is famed for having written a concert for quarter-tone pianos and orchestra. The quarter-tone piano is one having four times as many notes as the regular piano. Major orchestras with which he has performed include those in Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Havana.

Many Mars Hill piano students use a technique book written by Mr. Barth.

Pictured above are the C-II officers for the 1952-53 school year. They are (left to right) Joyce Seawell, vice-president; John Dean, president; and Margaret Marr, secretary. Warner Bumgardner, treasurer, was not present for the picture.

R. L. Humber To Address Graduating Class May 26

Dr. Robert Lee Humber, authority on international relations, is to be the speaker at the graduation exercises Monday morning, May 26, at 9:45 o'clock. At this time 214 C-II's will receive diplomas. Dr. Humber, of Greenville, is a graduate of Wake Forest College, Harvard University, Oxford University, and was a fellow at the University of Paris. He has served as a tutor in the department of government and history at Harvard and was a lawyer and business executive in Paris from 1930 to 1940.

Band To Present Concert May 25

The Mars Hill College Band will present its Commencement Concert at 4 o'clock Sunday, May 25, in the College auditorium.

The program is as follows: march, "The Fairest of the Fair" by Sousa, "Humoresque" by Dvorak, novelty, "Military Escort in Five Ways" by Fillmore, and "Ballet Egyptian" by Luigi. An intermission will follow with honors and awards being given at that time. The program will continue with a march, "His Honor" by Fillmore, "Victor Herbert Favorites" by Herbert, and overture, "Morning, Noon, and Night in Vienna" by von Suppe.

The following compose the band personnel: Carolyn Cowan, flute; Evelyn Hoyle, L. R. Liles, Bonnie Hulse, Lionel Cornell, Peggy Gray, Pauline Sherlin, Tom Edwards, clarinets; John Brock, Hannah Blackwell, alto saxophone; Kay Hooper, tenor saxophone; Bob Watson, Jane Brown, French horn; Jack Burnette, John Daniels, Bill Jennings, Wilson Elliot, Arnold Stanton, Albert Blackwell, Bob Owens, John Smith, John Vance, Bill Stephenson, trumpets; Bill Page, Bill Jones, baritones; J. L. Bell, Davis Bame, Dan Winstead, basses; Gordon Luther, Margie Lilly, Bessie Holland, Sue Pruitt, percussion; and Bennie Farquharson, bells. Lowell Boroughs is director.

He launched at Davis Island a movement for world federation, the principles and objectives of which originated from a resolution approving world federation that had been passed by 14 state legislatures. Dr. Humber represented the Southern Council of International Relations at San Francisco in 1945. He is the author of "The Declaration of the Federation of the World." He is the father of John Humber, who is a member of the graduating class.

Dr. Claud U. Broach, pastor of St. John's Baptist Church of Charlotte, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, May 25, in the church auditorium.

An alumni banquet will be held on Saturday evening, May 24, at 5:30 o'clock. Marion Justice, Mars Hill, '32, head of the international branch of the Department of Labor, Washington, (Continued on Page 4)

Dramateers Stage Spring Production

"Great Expectations" will be given by the Dramateers in the college auditorium at 8:00, May 23, as their commencement production. The three-act play was written by Charles Dickens and dramatized by Alice Chadwick.

Members of the cast are as follows: Pip, Glenn Holt; Mrs. Joe Gargery, Ruth Durham; Joe Gargery, Eddie Gray; Provis, Jack Loadman; Sergeant of the Guard, Bill Jones; Miss Havisham, Sara Lunsford; Estella, Joan Schwab; Sarah Pocket, Rowena Gee; Biddy, Patsy Stubbs; Mr. Jaggers, Gordon Luther; Herbert Pocket, Lionell Cornell; Skiffens, Nancy Wright; Molly, Dottie Todd; Clara Barley, Llewellyn Landers; and Bentley Drummle, John Brock.

Stage manager for the production is John Brock. Other committee chairmen are Wilson Elliot, lights and sound effects; Mary Ammons, properties; Barbara Donehoo, costumes; Rowena Gee, make-up; and Frank Burton, staging.

The setting of the play is England around a hundred years ago. The main character of the play is Pip, a country boy who is apprenticed to become a blacksmith. Summoned to the home of a recluse, an eccentric spinster named Miss Havisham to be a playmate for her young ward, Estella, Pip soon falls a (Continued on Page 4)

John Dean To Head C-II Class

John Dean was elected president of next year's C-II class at called meeting Friday, May 9. Joyce Seawell will be vice-president, Margaret Marr, secretary, and Warner Bumgardner, treasurer.

John is from Oxford, has been in the touring choir, and is a training union president for next year. Joyce, from St. Pauls was secretary of the C-I class, a training union president, and in the touring choir. Margaret Marr, Andrews, was a beauty attendant to the Homecoming and May queens, and was in the beauty section of the Laurel. Warner, from Charlotte, is a member of International Relations club, president of the C-I class, and Sunday School superintendent for next year.

Dr. Stringfield Is Medical Specialist

Dr. P. C. Stringfield, son of "Pop" Stringfield is now the specialist in internal medicine at the new million dollar Wilkes Hospital in North Wilkesboro. Dr. Stringfield holds the title of Diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine.

To attain his present degree, Dr. Stringfield studied for four years after receiving his M. D. degree. His training included study under noted specialists on the staffs of Harvard Medical School, Bowman Gray School of Medicine, and Veteran's Hospital in McKinney, Texas.

Dr. Stringfield was graduated with highest honors from Mars Hill College, Wake Forest College, and Bowman Gray School of Medicine. He served for two years in the Army Medical Corps with a part of that time spent in Tokyo, Japan.

Clios, Nonpareils Elect C-I Officers

Officers for the C-I term of both the Nonpareil and Clio Literary Societies were elected at the regular weekly meeting Thursday, May 1.

Jean Colvard was elected president of Nonpareil. Other desk officers are Jeanne Upton, first vice-president; Eliza DeLoach, second vice-president; Jean Sheets, secretary; and Hilda Young, censor.

Betty Ann Snider was chosen president of Clio. Serving with her as desk officers are Nina Ruppelt, vice-president; Dee Davidson, secretary; and Courtney Isenhour, censor.

Other officers include Nancy Wesson, chorister; Eunice Hunt, pianist; Gerry Brown, doorkeeper; Margaret Wilson, reporter; Bessie Bell Holland, scrapbook keeper; and Carolyn Gragg, parliamentarian. Sara Galloway is head marshal. Other marshals are Joyce Seawell, Libby Jordan. (Continued on Page 4)

Five Students To Do Mission Work

Five Mars Hill students have been selected by the Home Mission Board, Atlanta, Georgia, to work this summer in connection with home missionaries or supervisors of their respective assigned states. The students and their assignments are as follows: Bob Moss, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Joyce Taylor, Albuquerque, New Mexico; Gerrie Ott, Jacksonville, Florida; Wayne Pennell, Jefferson City, Missouri; and Wendell Gross, Wichita, Kansas.

Annual Society Day Competitions To Be Held Commencement Week

Saturday, May 24 will be Society Day on the campus, and will be highlighted with inter-society contests in declamations, readings, orations, essays, and debates. The declamations will be given at 9:30 in the college auditorium, with James Gibson and George Pullum competing for the Phi's and Ted Buckner and Eddie Gray entered for the Eu's. Ethel Evans and Barbara Donehoo will enter the dramatic reading contest at 10:30 for Clio and Dottie Todd and Elizabeth DeLoach for Nonpareil.

At 2:30 orations will be given with James Powell and Warner Bumgardner for Philomathia, and Marion Powell and Ira Greene for Euthalia. Julia Horne and Joyce Taylor for Clio, and Margaret Hudspeth and Hilda Young for Nonpareil will enter the essay contest at 3:30.

Highlighting the day will be the inter-society debate at 8:30,

Sloan, substituting for Ned with B. C. Philips and Ben Teague, who is ill, entering for Euthalia, and Alan Gragg and Jim Greene entering for Philomathia. Following the debate will be the presentation of Society honors. Winners of the inter-society temperance reading contest who will receive medals are as follows: Margaret Johnston, Nonpareil; Julia Horne, Clio; and Joe Bennett, Euthalia.

A society luncheon will be held at 11:45 in the college cafeteria.

Officers Elected By Honor Clubs

Honor club officers for next year were chosen at special business meetings recently.

Margaret Wilson was elected president of the Scriblerus club. Other officers are Gene English, vice-president; and Doris Honeycutt, secretary. The officers of the I. R. C. are Bill Jones, president; Mary Jane White, program vice-president; Bessie Holland, social vice-president; and Jean Echols, secretary.

German club officers elected are John Garren, president; and Faye Carter, secretary. Ellyn Gardner was elected president of the Spanish club. Other officers are Eliza Jarvis, vice-president; John Anderson, secretary-treasurer; Carole Altman, social chairman; and Evelyn Dupree, reporter. Heading the French club are Martha Williams, president; Edith Lyday, vice-president; and Rebecca Church, secretary.

Carole Benfield is the new president of the Business club. Ted Buckner is vice-president; Harriett Rudd, secretary; Jerane Page, treasurer; and Marcelene Johnson, reporter.