H. W. Baucom Returns To Mars Hill Campus

Dr. Herbert W. Baucom, Jr., pastor of the Takoma Park Baptist Church of Washington, D. C., will be the speaker for the annual fall revival to be held October 13-19. There will be services each morning

Honor Clubs Plan Future Programs

The honor clubs will hold their meetings during the first week of October. Only students making 30 or more quality points and maintaining a B average in the required subject are eligible to join an honor club.

The Business club program, which will be given especially for the new members initiated at that time, is built around the five ideals of the club: high scholarship, Christian character, pleasing personality, commendable deportment, and promise of future. The meeting will be held in Huffman Dormitory.

The French Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Nona Roberts, sponsor. The program, "Les Ecoles et les Universites de la France," will be given entirely in French. It will describe the school system in France and the history of its universities.

The Spanish club program will revolve around Spanish customs and oddities. This meeting will be held in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Fish.

The theme for the International Relations Club, which will meet in Stroup Dormitory, is "Effect of Election on Europe." Those participating in the program are Bill Jones, Elaine Buss, and Dudley Smith. After the program new members will be initiated under the direction of Bess Holland.

The Scriblerus club program, "A Miracle of Integrity and Wit", is

Plans Underway For Camera Club

Efforts are now underway to start a camera club at Mars Hill with the possibility that it will become a photography class in years to come if enough interest is shown.

Most of the equipment needed for the initial effort, the purchase of which was authorized by the college administration, has already arrived. Mr. Tilson has begun a plan for setting up laboratory facilities in what was formerly the downstairs supply room of Spilman Dormitory.

John E. Jones, Promotion Director for The Asheville Citizen and The Asheville Times, has encouraged the project and has offered his assistance, as has "Pop" Stringfield, a photographer of long standing on the campus.

Further details will be announced in chapel as soon as they are worked out, and interested students will be given a chance to join.

during the regular chapel period and each evening at 7:15 o'clock.

Dr. Baucom, a native of North Carolina, assisted in the Religious Emphasis Week program on campus last February. A graduate of Wake Forest College and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, he served as pastor of the Western Avenue Baptist Church in Springfield before accepting his present pastorate. Dr. Baucom has done much work with young people and is interested in them.

Beginning at 7 p. m. Friday, October 10, Mars Hill students will participate in a continuous prayer-chain, which will go through 9 a. m. Sunday, October 12. Prior to this, prayer meetings for the services will be held nightly in the dormitories, according to Bob Graham, B. S. U. president.

Further details of the meeting will be posted in the Student Center.

Barbara Donehoo Plays Star Role

Barbara Donehoo plays the leading role of Cornelia in "Family Circle", a dramatization of the book by Cornelia Oris Skinner which will be given as the fall production of the Dramateers on Tuesday, November 4, at 7:30 p. m.

Other members of the cast are Mrs. Otis Skinner, Dee Davidson; Charles Skinner, Tom Waller; Charlie, Dean Propst; Mab, Jean Smith; Enid, Dottie Phillips; Amy, Mary Ausband; Grace, Margaret Wilson; William, John Bush; Henry, Phillip Scott; Gordon, Charles Green; and Abby, Alice Owen.

At the next meeting of the Dramateers on October 7, the Religious Drama group will give a devotional number entitled "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" after which some Mars Hill students will tell of their participation last summer in North Carolina's four historical pageants.

Katie Calhoun will tell of her experiences in costuming in Unto These Hills. Bill Gibson will tell of his work at Manteo in The Lost Colony. Bob Brown will discuss his part in Thunderland, and Mary Ausband will tell of the portrayal of Daniel Boone by Ned Austin, a former Dramateer, in Horn in the West.

The Dramateers held its first meeting of the new school year Monday, September 22, in the playhouse. The program began with a playlet, "The Lost Book" which was presented by the Religious Drama group. The cast consisted of Josiah, Wayne Riddle; Fedidiah, Doris Miller; Hamutel, Violet Overton; and Saphan, Ted Robinson. Afterwards, Barbara Donehoo presented the dramatic reading, "Madame Butterfly".

Home Economics Club Has Initiation

New members will be initiated into the Home Economics club at the regular meeting Monday night, October 6. All home economics and nursing students are eligible to join.

"Introducing Contemporary Home Economists" was the theme of the organizational meeting held September 22. Emma Lou Chappell, vice-president, had charge of the program which was presented in three parts—"National AHEA and College Clubs," "State AHEA and College Clubs," and "Local AHEA and Club Symbols."

Virginia Mumford is president of the club, and Jean Echols is secretary.

Seventeen States, Three Countries Represented on Mars Hill Campus

Residents of 17 states, the District of Columbia, two foreign countries, and the Territory of Hawaii are present on the Mars Hill campus this year, not to mention representatives of 74 counties within North Carolina alone.

The grand total of 743 includes one student each from the Territory of Hawaii and Honduras, and two from Cuba. North Carolina leads the states with 494, while neighboring South Carolina is firmly established in second place with 96. Virginia is third with 49, and the Sunshine State, Florida, is a close fourth with 30.

Sixteen blue-grass residents from Kentucky are here and an equal number of Georgia peaches. Maryland claims 11, and there are 10 from Tenn. Alabama sends four, while the nation's capital is represented by three. Two each hail from New York State and Michigan. Texas sports one lone star, as do Mississippi, Massachusetts, New Jersey, West Virginia, and Washington.

Seventy-four counties in North Carolina are represented. Buncombe, which includes the city of Asheville, leads with 70 students. Madison, of which Mars Hill is the county seat, is second with 38. Other counties with 10 or more students at Mars Hill are as follows: Wake, 22; Mecklenburg, 20; Guilford, 19; Henderson, 16; Gaston, 15; Cabarrus, 15; Yancey, 12; Caldwell, 12; Iredell, 11; Forsyth, 10, and Alamance, 10.
