

The Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

Volume XXVII

MARS HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1952

Number 3

Scholarship Clubs Hold Fall Initiation Services

Seven of the eight scholarship honor clubs at Mars Hill have their fall induction ceremonies. Students were inducted who, during last year's spring semester, met the requirements for membership and accepted the invitation to join. A minimum of 30 qualifications and a grade of B or above in the subject concerned are required for invitation. Students will begin Feb. 1 and will not belong to more than one club.

Dr. Herbert W. Baucom, Jr., pastor of the Tacoma Park Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., will bring to a climax in tomorrow's services, the annual fall revival, which began last Monday. In addition to preaching in the evening services, Dr. Baucom has spoken each day at the regular chapel period.

Music for the revival was presented each evening by a volunteer choir, accompanied by the church orchestra, piano, and organ.

A prayer-chain for the success of the revival was participated in by many of the college students beginning at 7:30 p. m., Friday, October 10, and continuing through 9:00 a. m., Sunday, October 12.

At the first meeting of the man Club, October 6, Berneal was elected secretary; P. Johnson, treasurer; and Margaret Marr, reporter. Other officers are John Garren, president, and Faye Carter, vice-president. New members initiated the club were Margaret Marr, Charlie Frisbee, and A. P. Johnson. At the meeting all songs and songs, as well as the program, were in German.

Chartered buses will leave Mars Hill Friday morning in time to reach Raleigh for the opening service Friday night. The convention will close with the morning worship service Sunday.

"Christ Must Reign," is the theme of the meetings and the Lordship of Christ will be made clear through the four main phases of the convention. These

(Continued on Page 4)

Sunday Climaxes Revival Services

Dr. Herbert W. Baucom, Jr., pastor of the Tacoma Park Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., will bring to a climax in tomorrow's services, the annual fall revival, which began last Monday. In addition to preaching in the evening services, Dr. Baucom has spoken each day at the regular chapel period.

Music for the revival was presented each evening by a volunteer choir, accompanied by the church orchestra, piano, and organ.

A prayer-chain for the success of the revival was participated in by many of the college students beginning at 7:30 p. m., Friday, October 10, and continuing through 9:00 a. m., Sunday, October 12.

Deadline Nears; Turn In Money

Time is flying! There are only two weeks left before November 1 when registration fees of one dollar must be in Raleigh for the annual Baptist Student Union convention to be held at the First Baptist Church there, November 7-9.

Chartered buses will leave Mars Hill Friday morning in time to reach Raleigh for the opening service Friday night. The convention will close with the morning worship service Sunday.

"Christ Must Reign," is the theme of the meetings and the Lordship of Christ will be made clear through the four main phases of the convention. These

(Continued on Page 4)

Dr. Herbert W. Baucom, Jr.

Girls Attend Workshop

Virginia Mumford, president of the Home Economics Club, accompanied by Sybil Lennon and Shirley Mitchell, is in Boone attending the annual Province III Workshop at Appalachian State Teachers college.

The theme for the Workshop is "Training for Life." In addition to business meetings the two-day session has included scenic tours and will be climaxed this evening by a banquet at which Miss Henrietta Thompson of the University of Alabama will be the speaker.

Eleven girls were taken into the Home Economics Club at the regular meeting Monday night, October 6.

Prior to the initiation Virginia Mumford stressed the aims and goals of the club. These are (1) to develop interest for future Home Economists, (2) to learn and give out professional information, (3) to study careers in the field of home economics, (4) to learn more about our foreign fellows and international relationships in the fields touching family life, (5) to study some phases of home economics not touched on in the classroom, (6) to work together for fellowship, knowledge, interest, and training, (7) to work

(Continued on Page 4)

Musical Ensemble On MH Lyceum Program

Thursday night, October 23, students and patrons of Mars Hill college will be entertained by a musical ensemble, "An Evening in Vienna," which will be presented in the college auditorium at 7:30.

The American trained cast, which includes such outstanding singers as Hattie Brown Payne, Virginia Shuey, William Kirkpatrick, and pianist Alfred Patten, is evidence of the talents our country is developing.

Hattie Brown Payne, the soprano member of the musical group, has appeared in all entertainment media. Her voice has been praised by critics in the concert, grand opera, light opera, and in the radio field. She has sung in many light opera leads, concert tours, and last fall she played the role of Micaela in the Celebrity Opera Company's tour of Carmen.

Besides appearing as a soloist, she will also appear in duets and trios with the other members of the cast.

The mezzo-soprano of the group, Virginia Shuey, has talents which have gained her recognition in three different fields, dancing, piano playing, and singing. In addition to her solo and ensemble numbers with the other singers, she will join Alfred Patten at the piano for a group of four-hand selections.

Starring in solos, duets, and trios with the other members of the cast, is the tenor, William Kirkpatrick, who is a native of North Carolina. He has appeared in concert tours as soloist in all of the major oratorio works, and he was leading tenor taking the role of Don Jose in Bizet's "Carmen" with the Celebrity Opera Company.

The accompanist, Alfred Patten, is a graduate of Ithaca college. He has appeared as soloist and assisting artist since his graduation. His work adds much to the unity and spontaneity of the Viennese program.

Among the selections to be sung are "Synopsis of Duets" from "Hansel and Gretel" and "Yours Is My Heart Alone" from "The Land of Smiles."

The program will include selections from such famous composers as Schubert, Beethoven, Lehar, Hugo Wolf, and Emmeuch Kalman.

Choir, Glee Club Plan Music Season

Plans are underway for the season of music to be presented by the Mars Hill Touring Choir and Glee Clubs.

The Touring Choir, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Weaver, presented its first program of the year at the West Avenue Baptist Church in Statesville, Friday, October 17.

The Thanksgiving music this year will be given by the girls' and boys' Glee Clubs instead of by the Touring Choir, which usually has charge of the special music.

A joint Christmas program (Continued on Page 4)

Officers Elected SS Classes

Officers of the Sunday Schools the first semester have been announced by Warner Bumgardner, superintendent.

Mrs. Frances Jones is president of Mrs. Richard D. Watson's class. Other officers are by Mays, 1st vice-president; Katy DeBorde, 2nd vice-president; Loraine Carter, 3rd vice-president; Phyllis Anderson and Phyllis Hooper, secretaries; and Liles, chorister.

In Mrs. Ralph Ashworth's class Carolyn Cowan is president; Katie Calhoun, 1st vice-president; Julianne Sinclair, 2nd vice-president; Jean Sheets, 3rd vice-president; and Pauline Berlin and Nancy Wesson, secretaries.

President of Mrs. Cornelia Ann's class is Louise McCall. Others are Imogene Carter, 1st vice-president; Ruth Mann, 2nd vice-president; Jean Colvard, 3rd vice-president; and Betty Jean Cole, secretary.

Mrs. Fish's class is led by Joanne Brooks. Emma Lou Chapman is 1st vice-president; Wilda (Continued on Page 4)

Editors' Roundtable Held At WCTC; Six Represent Mars Hill College

Mars Hill college was well represented at the Editors' Roundtable held in Cullowhee, October 10 and 11. The conference was sponsored by the Western Carolina Teachers college and the Asheville Citizen-Times.

The group, consisting of Kay Wells, representing the Laurel staff; Harriett Rudd, for the Hilltop; Sara Galloway, photography; and Evelyn Dupree, from the publicity department, and accompanied by R. R. Chapman and Emmet Sams, arrived just in time for the first general session, which was held in the Little Auditorium at 3 o'clock. President Reid and Howard Aldmen welcomed the visitors and made the necessary announcements. Afterwards the conference was divided into three groups in order to take full advantage of the lectures and discussions on photography, yearbooks, and newspapers.

George W. McCoy, managing editor of the Asheville Citizen newspaper group. After him, James M. Rogers, managing editor of the Asheville Times, explained the duties of the city desk editor. Next was a discussion led by sports editor of the Times, Al Geremonte. The last speaker was Miss Gertrude Ramsey, a Citizen reporter. She discussed journalism as a career for women.

George Searle of Miller Printing Company assisted by Gerald Hanoker conducted the yearbook seminar. It was composed of seventy-two high school and college yearbook staff members. The general topic was the structure of an annual. Planning, printing, lithographing, title pages, division pages, class sections, snapshots, sports, and activities pages were all discussed in an interesting and informative manner.

Guy Teague of Canton and June Glenn, Jr., of the Asheville Citizen-Times conducted a class on how to use the Speed-Gr (Continued on Page 4)

Florida Club Has Thirty Members

Thirty students from the "Sunshine State" organized the Florida club at a meeting in the Blue Room of the cafeteria Friday, October 3.

Fred Girvin was elected president. Other officers are Henry Hardin, vice-president; Margaret Ann Tomberlin, secretary-treasurer; Jenny Hanshaw, chaplain; and Gene Allen, social chairman. William R. Beaton of the Department of Business, is sponsor.

At the next meeting the constitution will be drawn up.