

Faith at Work

By Sarah Adams

The B. S. U. sponsored a continuous prayer chain for the revival this past week beginning at 11:45 A.M., on Friday and continued through 8:45 Saturday morning. Students went in groups of two, three, four or five either to the B. S. U. room or to the boy's prayer room in the play house. A different group went every half hour. Numerous students participated in this special continuous prayer chain. It would be almost impossible to say how many participated in the "moment of prayer" at 6:00 each evening during the week of Oct. 12-17. When the bell rang at six, students and faculty stopped wherever they were on campus and prayed for a successful revival.

Tommy Funderburke, president of the B. S. U., preached at the Ministerial Conference meeting on October 15. Other boys taking part on the program with him were Tom Porter, Bob Plyler, Ronell Owenby, Dave Britt, Monte Bishop, and Tony Stafford. A very brief meeting was held on Oct. 22, after the revival service in the church. These boys are looking forward to their joint meeting with the Volunteers on October 29.

The Brotherhood met at 4 o'clock in the blue room of the cafeteria on Thursday, October 22. After enjoying a meal together a devotion on faithfulness was given by Marshall Wilson. The guest speaker, Mr. D. T. Holland, brought a very timely message on stewardship. Their next meeting will be on Nov. 19.

Mission Program

On October 12, a group of students went to Marshall at the request of a Baptist minister who wanted to do something for the young people of his church. Using "Prayer" as their theme they presented a program of music and testimonies. Those going were Jim Otis, Gene Allen, Iris Jo Cundiff, Betty Wyatt, Spurgenia Rutland, Barbara Barr, Joanne Nixon, Sandra Pullen, and Doris May. John Madison, Sunday Services chairman, drove the B. S. U. station wagon.

The radio service at Oteen last Sunday, October 18, was dedicated to a patient who heard for the last time on earth the singing of his favorite song. Special music for this service and in the wards was provided by a girls sextet, Betty Wyatt, Spurgenia Rutland, Barbara Barr, Joanne Nixon, Sandra Pullen, and Doris May, assisted by Dottie Phillips, Jim Bean, Jim Stahl, and Doris Wardlaw. Ward leaders and speakers respectively were Claire Buckner, Charles Miller, Dave Britt and Larry Skipper.

Asheville Jail

An inspirational service was conducted in the Asheville jail Sunday afternoon by Jim Stahl, John Madison, James Blackwelder, Paul Johnson, Bill Lovorn, and Larry Skipper. Jim Otis was the speaker for this service.

Sunday morning a group of boys went out to the Cane River Prison for a service. In the group were Tommy Funderburke, speaker; J. C. Boone, soloist; Charles McKinster, organist; Gerald Leonard, Joe Townsend, Paul Johnson, Ernest Ferrell, and Palmer Mills.

The aroma of breakfast being cooked, rumbles of laughter, and then stillness as an impressive Sunday School lesson was being taught descended from Little Mountain Sunday morning where Mrs. Fish and Mr. DeShazo entertained their Sunday School classes. Similar aromas and sounds came from the athletic field where Miss Caro-

Art Club Holds Initial Meeting

The Art Club, under the sponsorship of Joe Chris Robertson, will hold its first meeting Monday night at 7:30 in Moore Hall. Membership is open to all students. Officers will be elected at this meeting and a party will be planned.

Another feature that the Art Department is sponsoring this year is an adult class in ceramics which meets at 3:30 on Thursday afternoons.

Mr. Robertson is at present working on a group of paintings which he expects to enter in an exhibit at Raleigh early in November.

Hilltop Subscriptions Should Be Obtained

Students who desire to obtain subscriptions to the Hilltop for parents, friends, or relatives with off-campus addresses will find these available at the price of $1.00 per year.

Those desiring this service should print the address to which they wish the paper sent plainly on a piece of paper and bring it and the money to the Hilltop office, room 13, Spilman annex. If the office is locked, the address and money should be dropped through the slot in the door, provided for that purpose.

Forensics

The club meets on Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 6:30. All those interested in any phase of forensics should contact Mr. Jolley as soon as possible.

line Biggers entertained her class. Joint meetings were held by four other classes, Mother Sparks' and Mr. Fish's, and Dr. Pierce's and Mr. Outten's.

Serving with Palmer are Gene Lawrence, anniversary vice-president and Dewey Long, literary vice-president. Glaine Pennell will serve Euthalia as secretary and Jerry Carter is censor. Macal Ezell is chaplain.

Philomathian officers include Paul Johnson, literary vice-president and Harold Collier, anniversary vice-president. Kenneth Freeman is secretary and Tommy Rowe is censor. Charles Miller will serve as Philomathian chaplain.

Palmer served Euthalia as secretary during the C-I term. Coming from Jacksonville, Florida to Mars Hill, he is vice-president of the Florida club, president of Humphrey cottage, and a member of the Mission Council.

Mitchell served Phi previously as critic and vice-president. He is also engaged in college forensics. Coming from Woodruff, South Carolina, Mitchell also serves as vice-president of Mr. DeShazo's Sunday school class.

All four presidents have announced that anniversary and reception plans are progressing nicely and another invitation has been extended to those who have not joined society to do so.

Home Ec Group Holds Guest Panel

"Better Relationships Among College Students" was the theme of the Home Economics club meeting Monday, October 12. The program, led by Sybil Lennon, was a panel discussion with six visitors serving on the panel. Those participating were Judy Northern, Gilda Funderburke, Lou Mary Switzer, Ken Freeman, Tony Stafford, and Harold Clark.

Glee Club Work Is Progressing

Both Women's and Men's glee clubs have been in full swing for several weeks now, with plans for the year going forward rapidly.

The Men's Glee Club is meeting on Thursday afternoon at 4:30, while the Women's Glee Club is meeting on Mondays at the same hour. The combined groups rehearse together at 4:40 each Tuesday.

The Home Economics club, as one of its objectives, attempts to live up to the ideals and standards of Mars Hill college. It is against the club policy to "Break in Line" in the cafeteria.

Portraits

his son, Raymond Pollock Spilman, who died in infancy and for whom the dormitory is named.

In the parlor of Edna Corpening Moore dormitory is a portrait of Mrs. Moore and in the Mae Cline Stroup dormitory parlor there is a portrait of Mrs. Stroup. These dormitories stand as memorials to these two women.

Pictures of Dr. Moore and President Hoyt Blackwell may also be found in the literary society halls.

Where is the picture of the founder of the college? The first president? In looking around the campus, other pictures of people who served the college according to their capacity and ability are not found. Carefully selected and plainly marked pictures of founders and supporters of the college would supply valuable information and inspiration for the students.

Casual Comment

several others. Well, you know what they say; "Birds of a feather . . ."

Speaking of Edna Moore, some strange things happen up there. Last year, for example, two relatives of a graduating student who were present for her graduation appeared on the east wing looking for room 229. Since the room numbers only run through 228, a helpful student tried to explain that the ladies were looking for a room in Stroup, which is in the same building. "This is Edna Moore," she explained. Whereupon one of the ladies replied, "How do you do. My name is . . ." What can you say?
