

November

Welcome Home,
Alumni

leaders alls

XXIX

Clio, N.
re elected
Newberry
is plannin
of Philom
nd is tak

er, Robinson
Be Crowned
Homecoming

Club
ficers
Club had
Mr. and have been nning the program the band trade and do formations on eld, climaxing their per County with a football forma
At that point Homecoming ts attendants will be escorted on the llie Garne nderwood seen by the band as an at or the cluit to the two queens is Miss Wayne Royal, of Brooksville, Flor Joe Boyd Attendant for the C-I class ace Erwittis Shirley Mayberry of ville.

I class is represented by Edna June Funk, of Fries, Officers of
nia. Miss Funk was C-I at club are at eent at Homecoming cere Peeke; es last Thanksgiving and a Dixon; per of the Beauty Section in McKee. 1953-54 Laurel. Attendant sponsor. he M-Club is Miss Carolyn

Florida organize then the attendants have which is at their places, the band will Thanksgig into "Mr. Touchdown," was organ will herald the approach of de for a p
Queen, Mrs. Ann Rob
Mr. Joe C of Asheville. Then to a fan of stately music the Home
ing Queen, Miss Kitzi Miller Asheville will be escorted to Solch, pia position. Both queens will pression cy bouquets of gold chrysant and de ums tied with blue ribbon.
co-captains Mike Miller and Hughes will crown the foot queen, and Dr. Hoyt C. ckwell, president of the col will crown the Homecom Queen. All ceremonies will be ounced from the press box.

KNOW!

X Florist Opens
Campus Corner

Cox Florist and Gift Shop, lo ted on the corner of Main Street d College Avenue, held its for al opening November 19 and 20.
An orchid was presented to rs. Hilliard Ball, holder of e lucky number. Flower ar rangements were given as second prizes and carnations were estowed upon the first 500 omen to enter the new shop.

The Shop, housed in a newly enovated and re-decorated build ng with large display windows nd pastel interiors, deals in owers for all occasions, and also n decorative arrangements of dried flowers, potted plants, and ish gardens.

Gifts and party items includ ng favors, seasonal party nap kins, doilies, novelty candles and gift wrap items will also be stocked.

Miss Juanita Blankenship, for merly employed by Rutherfordton florist, will manage the shop which is owned by James M. Cox.

The Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

MARS HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1954

Number 5

Beat Asheville-
Biltmore

Pictured above are C-II Class officers. Left to right are Hannah Blackwell, treasurer; Mike Miller, president; Charles McCall, vice-president; and Marianne Long, secretary.

Annual Society Celebrations Are To Be Opened By Clio-Philomathia

The Philomathian Literary Society leads the society celebration series tonight with their 64th Anniversary at eight o'clock in the college auditorium. The Clio reception in honor of the Philomathians will be given on Saturday, November 27th, in the society halls in the Science building. Nonpareil and Euthalian Literary Societies will hold their annual Anniversary and Reception on December 2nd and 4th.

Charles Crook, Philomathian president, will preside at the Anniversary program. The theme of the Anniversary and Reception programs is secret. The script for the Anniversary program was written by Bill Brodgen, while Katy Katsarka wrote the script for the reception program.

The Anniversary committee is headed by Joe Matheny, Anniversary vice-president. Those on the committee are Charles Crook, J. C. Boone, Tommy Jones, James Grant, Bill Brodgen, Rodolph Dixon, Jim McDaniels, and Eddie West.

Pat Thomas is Clio Reception president. The committee chairmen are Gail Fulbright, Vadna DeLoach, Mimie Divine, Louise Simpson, Patti Hutchinson, Joan Barron, Ruth Putman, Carolyn Pate, Doris Ann Ensley, Ada Lee Deacon, Bobbie Linville, Mary Long, Iris Cundiff, Jean Myers, Pansy Collins, and Faye Taylor.

Class Elections Held Recently In Chapel

The C-II class elected officers in chapel recently. Mike Miller is to serve as president, Charles McCall as vice president, Marianne Long as secretary, and Hannah Blackwell as treasurer.

Mike, who is from Allentown, Pennsylvania, is co-captain of the football team and president of the M-Club and Science Club. He is majoring in chemical engineering.

The class vice president, Charles McCall, from Lenoir, is majoring in medicine. He is president of the Scriblerus Club.

The class secretary, Marianne Long, is taking a liberal arts course, but plans to be a speech therapist. She was president of Nonpareil Literary Society during the C-I term. She is from Winston-Salem.

Hannah is a day student from Mars Hill. She is taking a liberal arts course. Her activities include Scriblerus Club.

Traditional Pageant Given Commemorating Thanksgiving

Lest We Forget, a traditional pageant sponsored by the Baptist Student Union of the college, was presented in the auditorium of the Mars Hill Baptist Church this morning at 10:30 A. M. The program interpreted Thanksgiving both past and present.

Following the prelude and doxology, Dr. Hoyt Blackwell, president of the college, led in the invocation. Special music and a hymn preceded the pageant.

Bloodmobile To Visit Mars Hill Community

Did you know that in 1953 every twenty seconds some hospital patient in the United States received a blood transfusion? The need for blood in our civilian hospitals and for defense purposes is very great. On Tuesday, November 30, the Mars Hill College family and the Mars Hill community will be given an opportunity to make their contribution. Skilled medical, nursing, and technical personnel, supplemented by volunteers, will be on hand in the McConnell Gymnasium between twelve and seven P. M.

Coach Hart's Hygiene Class has undertaken the project of reaching the goal of 350 pints of blood. The boys are competing against the girls to get more donors, and the winners will be treated to a hamburger fry by the losers.

Each dorm on campus has a general chairman, with representatives on each floor. Releases were distributed last Monday and Tuesday nights. These must be signed by the parents of all students between the ages of 18 and 21 before they can give blood.

The town committee is sending bulletins to the local high school and churches in the community, and the publicity group is putting up posters both on campus and up-town.

Last Monday and Tuesday, chapel programs were given by Coach Hart's class. After the singing of the morning's hymn, Horace Youngblood gave a devotional. This was followed by a solo by Jim Beane, after which Nathan Brooks gave the prologue and was followed by the first scene, the Landing of the Pilgrims, December 21, 1620. An adaptation of the poem, "The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers in New England" by Hemans, was given by Lloyd Jackson. The Pilgrims then sang "Now Thank We all Our God," and were followed by the College Choir, which sang "God of Our Fathers." The second scene presented the First American Thanksgiving, 1621. "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee," and "Recessional" were sung by the Chorale.

Introducing the third scene, Caudill gave retrospection and exhortation on the three centuries of Thanksgiving and was followed by responses from Hetty Corey, Wallace Taylor, Dorothy Dalton, Bill Cobb, and Juanita Horton.

Dean R. M. Lee read the President's Proclamation, after which Dr. Robert Holt brought greetings from the Alumni Association. The Reverend Lowell F. Sodeman, pastor of the Mars Hill Baptist Church, gave the Thanksgiving address.

An offering was taken for the work of the North Carolina Baptist Orphanage, and following this, the congregation sang, "Rejoice Ye Pure in Heart." Dr. Holt offered the closing prayer of thanksgiving.

a panel discussion was held. This discussion was to answer questions people most often ask regarding the giving of blood. Rodolph Dixon was moderator, and those on the panel were Jean Holder, Bill Gregory, Joyce Owen, and Steve Blackwell.

Sign-up sheets are now on the Student Center Bulletin Board. "Give that others may live."

Pictured above are the participants in the Homecoming ceremonies at halftime of the Thanksgiving game. They are (l. to r.) Shirley Mayberry, sponsor for the C-I class; Edna June Funk, C-II class; Kitzi Miller, Homecoming Queen; Ann Robinson (Mrs. Bobby), Football Queen; Carolyn Hart, M-Club; and Judy Royal, band.