Enrollment Hits 1070

This year, as in years past, North Carolina is leading in the number of students enrolled at Mars Hill. There are twenty-four states, sixteen denominations, and eight foreign countries represented.

Of the 1,070 students enrolled, 706 are from North Carolina. South Carolina is second with one hundred nine, Virginia is third with sixty-four, and Florida is fourth with forty-three. Other states are respectively represented as follows: Georgia, twenty-six; Tennessee, nineteen; Maryland, twelve; District of Columbia, eight; Illinois and Pennsylvania, four each; Alabama, Kentucky, and West Virginia, three each; California and Texas, two each; and Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, and Rhode Island, one each.

Sixteen denominations are represented. Among these, eight hundred and twenty-eight students are Baptist, seventy-two are Methodist, fifty-eight are Presbyterian, twelve are Episcopalian, nine are Christian. There are three Catholics, three Moravians, three Lutherans, and three Church of God, two Greek Orthodox, two Jewish, one Buddhist, one Brethren, one Christian Missionary Alliance, one Christian Reformed, and one Pentecostal. There are thirty-one non-church members.

MHC Welcomes 12 from Foreign Lands

Among the students enrolled at Mars Hill this year are twelve students who are residents of foreign countries. Enrolled as special students are Mr. and Mrs. Yashuo Onishi, from Sendai, Japan. Both graduates of a Tokyo college. Mr. Onishi worked for the Shell Company in Sendai where he came in contact with Worth Grant, a missionary, who recommended Mars Hill. Mr. Onishi has served as Superintendent of Sunday School in Mr. Grant's church. The couple decided to come to America to learn more about Baptist work. Here at Mars Hill Mrs. Onishi is studying home economics and her husband is taking Bible courses. During World War II Mr. Onishi trained as a Kamikaze pilot.

UN Now Has Sixty Members

Sixty nations now hold membership in the United Nations organization, which came into being on October 24, 1945. There is scarcely a man, woman, or child in the civilized world who is not familiar with the endeavors of this great body. Over the past seven years the UN's ten specialized agencies have offered hope in various forms to the world's less fortunate.

Millions in widely scattered areas have been aided in the fight against epidemic and unsanitary conditions. Children have been vaccinated against diphtheria, malaria, whooping cough, and typhus. Supplies of milk and nourishing food have been made available. Technical assistance in the fields of economic development, public administration, and social welfare have been provided liberally.

In addition, representatives from all member nations have met regularly to sift problems posing a threat to collective or individual security.

In just the past few months, the Western democracies have watched Russia, a sister member, tear down a dictatorial regime to replace it with a dubious co-existent policy. Her future schemes for world dominance seem engineered to conquer weak countries by means of material tenders. Thus it seems that Russian foreign

Among the first year students is Dong Choi from Taegu, Korea. Dong began his formal education in the primary school in Taegu. He learned of Mars Hill through a Baptist missionary. Dong is studying chemical engineering.

Four Canadian students are on the student roster this semester from Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Norah Thomas, freshman, is a liberal arts student. She belongs to the Clio Literary Society, WAA, and YWA. Carelton Whiteside, freshman, is taking the pre-medical course. His particular field of interest is sports.

Also a pre-medical student is Dave Milligan, freshman. He is a graduate of King Edward High School. David belongs to the Philomathian Literary Society. Esther Milligan, sophomore, and liberal arts student, is the twin of Dave. She is a physical education major. Active in the Nonpareil Literary Society, Esther was also the secretary of last year's freshman class. In one year Esther traveled 20,000 miles to and from school.

Songlar Kengradomying "Pooky" is a freshman from Thailand. Born in Bangkok, she moved to Switzerland at the age of twelve. Her father is enlisted in the Siamese army. "Pooky" is enrolled in the liberal arts course.

Gregory To Lead In Fall Revival

Randolph L. Gregory, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wilmington, N. C., will conduct the Fall Revival services of the Mars Hill Baptist Church beginning Sunday, October 14, and continuing through Friday, October 19.

"Five Cardinal Ideas in the Teachings of Jesus" is the general theme of the morning services, Monday through Friday at the college chapel time. Sunday morning the subject will be "Let's Conquer the World," and for the evening service "No Revival Without Prayer." Evening services each night will be at 8 o'clock.

Dramateers Cast Chosen For Play

Bill Currin of Oxford will star in the title role of the English butler in the Dramateers fall production, "The Admirable Crichton," by James M. Barrie, to be given early in November.

Jan Hensley of Greensboro will act as stage manager.

Other leading members of the cast and the parts they play include: George Spittle as the Earl of Loam; Bill File, Ernest; Phillip Slusser, Lord Brocklehurst; Roger Woodard, the Reverend Treherne; Jerrie Preston, Lady Mary Lasenby; Janice Avery, Lady Katherine Lasenby; Bonita Benfield, Lady Agatha Lasenby; Sandra Bottoms, Countess of Brocklehurst; and Carole Deaton as Tweeny. Fifteen minor characters complete the cast.

Newly elected officers of the Dramateers are Harry Orr, president; Charles Parker, vice-president; Sandy Brothers, secretary; and George Spittle, treasurer.

The program for the next regular meeting on October 15, in the playhouse, will include reports on the life of James M. Barrie, and the recital by new members of lines from Shakespeare as a part of their initiation into the club. Membership is still open, and any students interested in dramatics are invited to attend Monday's meeting.

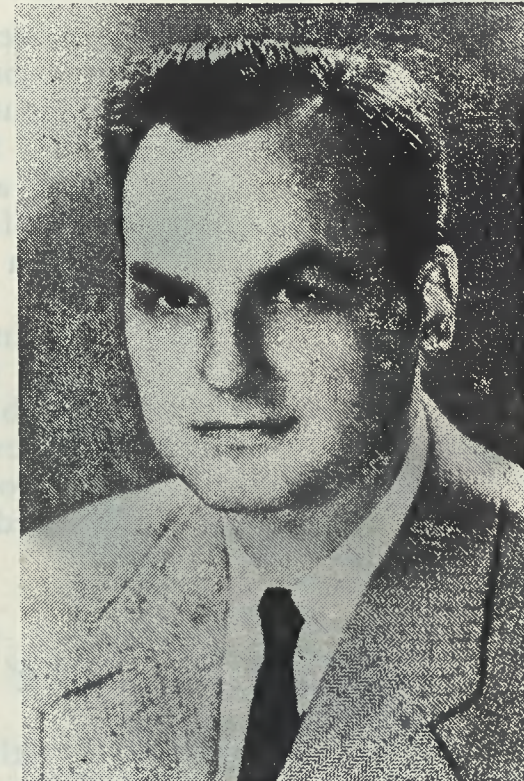

Tests Given 24 Students

Twelve sophomores and twelve freshmen took comprehensive tests last week as part of a program sponsored by the Editorial Testing Service of Preston, New Jersey.

The purpose of the examinations was to gather information sufficient for setting up college student norms to cover the whole United States. Results will be important in composing a new Scat and Step achievement test series.

The twenty-four selected to participate in the testing were designated by the location of last names in the alphabet.

College Selective Service Qualification Tests are to be administered November 15, to those men students desiring draft deferment. An application for this test may be obtained from the draft board.

Duke Offers Jr. College Scholarships

Duke University, beginning this year, offers annually three scholarships to graduates of junior colleges. The value of the scholarships varies from $250 to $1000 per year, depending upon the financial need of the recipient. Awards will be renewed for the senior year if the holder has maintained a satisfactory scholastic average and conduct record.

Any student in the second year of junior college who has a "B" average and who will be able to complete a bachelor's degree in two years is eligible to apply. Points considered in making the awards will be these: secondary school and college records; college aptitude as shown by tests, breadth of interests; participation in church, civic, and other organizations; personality, stability, and vitality.

Students interested in further particulars should contact the registrar, R. R. Chapman.
