Charlotte Boys' Choir Will Present Four Program Here November 21

The eighty members of the choir are selected by auditions at the beginning of the season. About one boy in five candidates finds a place in the choir. There is always a waiting list. The boys come from a large number of public, private, and parochial schools and from varied family backgrounds. While in the choir all are on equal footing and each is judged on his performance, both for his singing and his conduct.

The boys have been to New York as special guests of the Mayor. They have visited the Queen Elizabeth as guests of the Captain. Their New York concert schedule included appearances at Madison Square Garden, the Waldorf-Astoria, the Commodore and Statler hotels.

Anniversary-Reception Term Officers Elected By The Four Literary Societies

Mary Etta Mann, Van Ramsey, Anette Hall, and Shault Coker were recently elected presidents of Mars Hill's Clio, Philomathian, Nonpareil, and Euthalian literary societies, respectively, for the Anniversary-Reception term.

A business major from Concord, Mary Etta serves as chaplain of Huffman Dorm, and as president of her Sunday School class. Van, a music major from Valdese, is president of the touring choir. Annette, who serves as vice-president of the Women's Recreation Association, is from Swannanoa. A science major, Shault hails from Canton, Georgia.

Assisting Mary Etta in the Clio hall of blue and white is Nancy Brunt, literary vice-president; Emily Anne Smith, reception vice-president; Dot Gilliam, censor; Carol Kendall, secretary; and Doris Jacobs, chaplain.

Phi's serving this term with Van are Stan Jackman, literary vice-president; John Stanton, reception vice-president; Lowell Dotson, censor; Ken Aydelette, secretary; and Mel Luther, chaplain.

In the hall of black and gold, Nonpareils elected to serve with Annette are Jane Wilkinson, first vice-president; Sara Leiby, second vice-president; Virginia Gibson, censor; Jean Parker, secretary; and Gail Dowdy, chaplain.

Those elected along with Shault for this Euthalian term are Tommy Cave, first vice-president; (Continued on Page 4)

Cambridge Debaters Visit MHC Campus Nov. 17th

Mars Hill debaters, Stanley Jackman and John Stanton will meet a team of Cambridge debaters in the college auditorium on Tuesday, November 17 at 7:30. (See photo on P. 4)

The topic for the debate will be: Resolved that requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal.

The debaters will come to us from Birmingham, Alabama, where they have been debating. These debaters are making a tour of the colleges in the Eastern United States and will go to Wake Forest from Mars Hill. The judges will be a representative from labor in Asheville, Mr. Heinz Rollman of Wellco Co., Waynesville, and Mr. George Pennell, attorney, of Asheville.

"The Hasty Heart" To Be Presented

"The Hasty Heart," a comedy-drama, will be presented November 14 at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium by the Dramateers.

This is the major fall production of the Dramateers. The three-act comedy by John Patrick portrays the events in a convalescent hospital within the Southwest Asian command. Many types of people are represented in the play and it creates interesting results.

The leading roles will be played by Fereil Forbus and John Morrow. The former portrays Margaret, the English nurse, and the latter Lachlen, the Scottish soldier. Lowell Dotson portrays Yank, an American soldier, in the chief supporting roles.

Other members of the cast are Roy Mehaffey as Tommy, the British soldier; the Australian soldier, Digger played by Richard Braswell; Kivi, the New Zealand soldier as portrayed by Ned Slagle; and Jimmie Wiggins as the African soldier, Blossom.

Joey Stanley acts as the hospital orderly along with the Colonel, Bill Culver.

Ned Slagle is stage manager. Mrs. Elizabeth Watson is director of the Dramateers and "The Hasty Heart."

New Minister Will Assume Pastorate

The Reverend Charles D. Davis of Pulaski, Virginia, will assume his duties as the new minister to the Mars Hill Baptist Church, Sunday, November 15. He will succeed Dr. Robert Seymour.

The Reverend Mr. Davis is a native of Hawkinsville, Georgia; a graduate of Mercer University and the Divinity School of Yale University; and he has done additional work at Vanderbilt University. He has been serving the First Baptist Church of Pulaski as pastor for the past four and one-half years.

Mrs. Davis is a native of Candler, and is a graduate of Berea College in Kentucky. She also holds the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Yale Divinity School.

Prominent Lecturer Speaks Here Tonight

Frederick Taylor Wilson, noted platform personality, will speak in the college auditorium tonight at eight o'clock on "The Human Side of the Presidents", a comprehensive address which has been delivered across the nation at many leading colleges and civic clubs.

Mr. Wilson has addressed more than two hundred and fifty different schools, colleges, universities, and civic clubs located in all the 48 states.

He began his public career at twelve by writing for local weekly newspapers and speaking at local schools and churches. He received his higher education at Vanderbilt University. Upon receiving his B.A., he made his home in Texas where he taught history and became a lawyer and a member of a law school faculty. He is the author of "Pen Pictures of the Present" and "Our Constitution and Its Makers," also "These Three Alone," and "Select After Dinner Stories." The first three are in Braille.

In recent years he has devoted himself to writing and lecturing, and spent time in research at the Library of Congress in Washington, and other great libraries.

Three members of the Mars Hill Department of Modern Languages, Mrs. O. E. Roberts, Mrs. J. M. Fish, and Mr. Valentine Farkas are in Atlanta attending a regional meeting of the Modern Language Association.

The sessions began Thursday and are extending through today.
