

Is Two Laps Around The Campus Praise

By Dolly Lavery & Faye Shaw

Although mid-terms are finally considered over, some students are still buried in the morning work; others, however, find time to participate in rain dances and water fights. We've even heard of a faculty-supervised, full-organized pillow fight beside the residence of Spilman and Treat.

Mr. McBride of the science department may look like a victim of one of these feathered fights, but the truth is he stumbled in a leaves-covered ditch near the Science Building and fractured his right arm.

Dick Nelson sounded for a moment as though he might have broken his arm last week when he suddenly screamed in zoology lab. He was surprised when a white rat, one of the star performers in Dr. Outten's experiments, unexpectedly ran across the floor. Quiet-mannered as usual, Dr. Outten told Dick, "It just wants to see what's going on in here."

A butter-fingered but agile-tongued biology student was recently heard to exclaim, "Oops, just spilled tea on my phosphoglyceraldehyde. You little devil, you!"

Know the difference between dating, courtship, engagement and marriage? It was all explained quite well in an MHC Greek class. Dating is wondering whom to ask, courtship is wondering when to ask, engagement is preparation after asking, and marriage is wondering why you asked!

That hole in the side of the Montague Building was not made by our irate editors or by our frustrated advisor. It is the first step toward an outside entrance at that point which will give the Hilltop and Laurel staffs access to their new office.

Sympathy is expressed to three members of the college family in the loss of loved ones recently. David Montross returned to the campus this week following the death of his father. Mr. Hoffman recently went to Pennsylvania for the funeral of his grandmother, and Mr. Pegg suffered the loss of an aunt.

Letter-Writer's Quick Form

Editor's note: The following letter may be used for that one that didn't get written home last week during mid terms and everything else on campus. Just clip out the letter and mail it to any person you wish after you fill in the blanks and check the multiple choices. The original idea is from Wayland Baptist College.

Dear (a) Mom (b) Dad (c) Whole Family (d) Sweetheart,

How are (a) you (b) you both (c) you all? School is _____ Of course I am having a whole lot of trouble in _____ and _____, which always were my hardest subjects. I dropped _____ last week, and it looks like _____ is going to be a snap course. On my first test I made _____. But I'll try to do better (a) true (b) false.

How are _____ and _____? I miss them, but miss you even more. (a) true (b) false. You should or should not (underline which) see the (a) cute chick (b) handsome brute that I have been dating. College life on "the hill" is (a) ?? (b) great (c) fantastic (d) unbelievable!

By the way, I need (a) money (b) loving (c) help to make life here better. My social life is (a) empty (b) suffering (c) closed out, and I find myself in dire need of some diversion. Oh, yes, I still love (a) you (b) you both (c) whole family (d) my Sweetheart!

Write soon, but don't expect a sudden answer.

Your (a) son (b) daughter (c) sweetheart,

Talented Majorettes Will Perform At Final Game In Asheville, 23rd

After tonight, the Mars Hill College Lions will have one more football game, and that means one more opportunity for the majorettes to display their talents in high-stepping, baton-twirling, rhythmic routines. Then they will warm their "goosebumps," pack uniforms and return to their places in the concert version of the band.

When the last strains of "Dixie" have faded and the last kickoff has been returned, there will still be some vivid memories for the four active and attractive coeds who have served as majorettes during this football season.

For Penny Ellison, the captain, sophomore Loy Baird, freshman Ann Johnson and high school senior Janice Elam there will be memories of the tension, excitement and thrills of each game. They will treasure the pride of having represented the college and of having added a special touch to the various halftime activities. The memories will erase and make up for the many hours of uncheered practice and the pain of those cold nights when their batons seemed to freeze in their hands.

This year's majorettes were selected by auditions at the beginning of the year. Penny and Janice, who had been on the squad last year, were rechosen. Loy, a psychology major from Fort Pierce, Fla., won the third position; and freshman Ann, who performed last year for Clinton (N. C.) High School, won the fourth spot.

From then on it was work, work and more work for these four. They practiced hours to perfect their routines for the few short minutes of performance, but they enjoyed it.

Of her squad, Penny recently commented, "They are a good group—all cooperative with lots of pep, energy and original ideas."

Few people realize it but the majorettes are not just flashy twirlers and high-steppers. Each is a talented musician and will perform with the band during its concert season. Penny, a sophomore from Greenville, S. C., performs in percussion; Janice plays flute; Loy adds to the clarinet section and Ann also plays the flute.
