

terminate men. A go to all d-natured took all ek. May HC."

Edwards, ley have here at The trio day at hire Mine ame back mens.

Harvey
Atlanta, Georgia
on Satwn Lions

's game, difficult pus than
It seems lost, and several his real nally has 14 years

avid St. is hoping Yankees.

tors kept their year-the Floor
... fin-ou K. C.!

eld, Ger-Eller are doctors'

opies of three are our eyes, sprouting go along ent vice he said, seed, I'd up in all

A defense committee has been set up to provide defense attorneys for those who need such services. Senator Tom Jones is chairman of this committee. He requests that anyone interested in serving in the capacity of defense attorney contact him immediately.

Freshman elections are to be held in the near future.

Honor Clubs, which are composed of Mars Hill's academically elite in various fields, got off to a good start at their initial meetings last week. Several selected new officers or filled vacancies and most all welcomed new members.

The Science Club elected Steve Fleetwood, president; Jerry Davis, vice president; Carol Hunt, secretary; Norman Garrison, treasurer; and Lola Thomas, social chairman.

New members admitted were Jessica Buchanan, Nancy Trotter, Linda Mills, Ned Buckner, Frank Calhoun, Cecile Plott, Linda Roe-

Greeks, Romans Welcome

All students who are studying Greek, Latin and/or Classical Civilization are eligible for membership in the Classical Club. The officers are David Clapp, president; Charles DeWeese, program chairman; and Bessie Cline, secretary.

Welcome
NCARFCW
(See editorial Page 2)

The Hilltop

Published by the Students of Mars Hill College

Advice To Forlorn Males
(See Page 3)

Volume XXXIX

MARS HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1964

Number 3

Long-Delayed Concert Set Tuesday

SGA, Class Posts Filled

The Student Government Association committee on elections and open forums recently conducted elections to fill vacancies created last summer in the junior and senior class offices. After circulating petitions the candidates campaigned for one week and the election was held on Oct. 15.

The newly-elected officers are Tom Jones, senator for the senior class; Andy Good, president of the junior class, who will also serve as junior senator; Steve R. Spain, junior class vice-president; and Alan Bell and Mary Ann Holland, senators for the junior class.

The Senate approved a committee to organize an hour-long program of entertainment which will follow the ball game with Carson-Newman College at Jefferson City, Tenn., on Oct. 31. Senator Alan Bell heads the committee, joined by Carolyn Broome, Arthur Earp, Nancy Whitaker and Kathy Broome.

The game and entertainment promise to be exciting and fun-filled. The SGA urges the student body to support the Lions as they clash with the Eagles by attending the game and enjoying the program afterwards. In order to stimulate attendance plans are being made to help finance transportation to the game for students who desire to go and have no other ride.

A defense committee has been set up to provide defense attorneys for those who need such services. Senator Tom Jones is chairman of this committee. He requests that anyone interested in serving in the capacity of defense attorney contact him immediately.

Freshman elections are to be held in the near future.

Typical of a live-audience performance by the Chad Mitchell Trio is this scene snapped recently. It shows (l. to r.) Mike Kobluk, Chad Mitchell and Joe Frazier. The vivacious trio will display its talents for a Mars Hill audience Tuesday night.

Rail Trip To C-N Game Backed by Classes, SGA

A big blast in support of the Mars Hill College Lions when they battle the Carson-Newman Eagles in Jefferson City, Tenn., on Oct. 31 is being planned by numerous campus leaders.

Jefferson City is only 75 miles away and a special train has been chartered to take Mars Hill Lion supporters to the game. Details are still being worked out by Student Government Association and class leaders. The train will depart from Asheville Depot at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, and transportation to the station will be provided. All students with cars are requested to contact Gary Brookshire, Ron Harvey, Steve Fleetwood or David Clapp.

The round trip fare will be $3.10, and admission to the game will be $1 per person when I.D. cards are presented. In order to encourage as many students as possible to go the SGA and some of the classes are bearing some of the expense.

The SGA has announced it will pay 50c of the fare for each student making the train trip. The Senior Class will pay $1 for each of its members; junior and sophomore classes, $1.50; Freshman Class, 50c.

The Junior Class, in a called meeting Wednesday night, voted to provide decorations for the train. A decorations committee is headed by Reid Potter.

A free hour-long program of entertainment will be provided after the game by Mars Hill talent.

by Cecelia Butler

The Chad Mitchell Trio, one of America's newest and best known singing sensations, will present a long-awaited concert for Mars Hill College students, faculty members and guests at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday (Oct. 27) in Moore Auditorium.

The young singers were scheduled to perform here last fall but were forced to cancel the engagement when one of them became ill. Their appearance here Tuesday will be the second number in the current college lyceum series.

The Trio will sing mostly typical folk tunes, but, unlike some folk performers, they dress like gentlemen and have manners to match.

Dean William L. Lynch, who is responsible for scheduling lyceum programs, said the doors of the auditorium will be opened at 6:45 and will close at 7:15. Although the public will be invited to attend without charge, college students will have first priority in seating, he said.

Formed by Chad Mitchell at Gonzaga University in Spokane, Wash., the Trio sings such songs as "The John Birch Society," "Marvelous Toy" and "My Girl Was Only Seventeen When She Was Chosen Riot Queen." Their record albums include "Singin' Our Mind," "Mighty Day on Campus" and their latest release, "Reflecting."

The Trio, which includes Mike Kobluk and Joe Frazier, in addition to Mitchell, has appeared on numerous television shows including "The Ed Sullivan Show," "Hootenanny," "The Dinah Shore Show" and the "Bob Newhart Show."

Besides having performed at various colleges and universities across the country, the Trio has performed at Carnegie Hall and Basin Street East in New York City and at the Broadmoor International Center in Colorado Springs.

The group also made a 15-week tour of Latin America under the auspices of the President's special International Program for Cultural Presentation, a project of the U.S. State Department.

After graduation from high school in Spokane, Mitchell attended Stanford University on a scholarship. Later he attended the University of Washington and, finally, he transferred to Gonzaga in his hometown as a pre-medical student.

It was at Gonzaga that Mitchell, the group's last bachelor, met Kobluk and Frazier and formed the now-famous singing group.

Canadian-born Kobluk at one time or another majored in such disparate fields as electrical engineering, business administration, English and mathematics.

Frazier studied voice and opera at the Julius Hartt School of Music in Hartford, Conn. In the year prior to his joining the Trio, he performed with the After Dinner Opera Company in New York City, with several off-Broadway productions and with the Broadway musical "Redhead."

Grammarians Gone

Six members of the English faculty are representing Mars Hill at the English conference of the seven North Carolina Baptist colleges this weekend at Wingate College. Those attending are Mr. and Mrs. McLeod, Mr. Elliott, Mr. Cheek, Miss Morris and Dr. Pierce, head of the department.

Distinguished educators and authors from North Carolina as well as a guest speaker from Hunter College in the Bronx comprise the program. The conference is built around a Shakespearean theme.

Mock Election Rally Scheduled

A pre-election political rally to serve as a call-to-arms for Johnson and Goldwater supporters will be held Thursday, Oct. 29, in the Owen Building at 7:30 p.m. A student representative from each of the two political clubs on campus will give a speech in behalf of his candidate. The mock election committee of the Student Government Association also plans to have a nonpartisan guest speaker at the rally.

The election to be held on Friday, October 30, in the student center will determine Mars Hill's choice for the presidency. All students are eligible and urged to cast a vote for the candidate of their choice.

The voting and tabulation will be supervised by the Student Government Association and results will be announced Saturday.

Honor Clubs Pick New Officers, Members

Honor Clubs, which are composed of Mars Hill's academically elite in various fields, got off to a good start at their initial meetings last week. Several selected new officers or filled vacancies and most all welcomed new members.

The Science Club elected Steve Fleetwood, president; Jerry Davis, vice president; Carol Hunt, secretary; Norman Garrison, treasurer; and Lola Thomas, social chairman.

New members admitted were Jessica Buchanan, Nancy Trotter, Linda Mills, Ned Buckner, Frank Calhoun, Cecile Plott, Linda Roebuck, Evelyn Morrow, James A. Reed, O. T. Wagner and Douglas Justice.

Mrs. Ruby Cox, assistant professor in the Department of Bus-

BSU Bus Planned

The fall convention of the North Carolina Baptist Student Union will be held at Green Street Baptist Church in High Point, Nov. 6-8. The theme for the convention is "When Students Worship God."

Mars Hill's BSU is sponsoring a bus. The round-trip fare is $8.00 and the registration is $2.00, which includes Saturday lunch. Accommodations will be provided by the host church, but money should be carried for many of the meals. Class cuts will be excused, college Chaplain Robert Melvin said.

Anyone desiring further information should consult the information sheet in the chaplain's office, on the ground floor of Spilman dormitory.

ness Administration, was speaker at the first meeting of the Business Honor Club. Following her address, Linda and Brinda Booe entertained with special music.

President Jackie Mitchell presided over the election of two new officers, Carol Hayes, treasurer, and Jack Reese, reporter. Linda Lowe had previously been elected secretary.

New members included Don Briggs, C. B. Coleman, Casey Fredrick, Harry Taylor, Miss Hayes and Reese.

Following the meeting Misses Mildred Bingham and Frances Snelson served refreshments to the group in the faculty lounge of the library.

Carol White is the new president of Scriblerus, the honor club for English students. Other officers include Brenda Stallings, first vice president; Elaine Poole, second vice president; Martha Penley, secretary; and Rita Ann Propst, treasurer.