

Victory-Starved Lions Stalk Scots

The restless Mars Hill College Lions, agitated by hunger pangs created by a disappointing 1-4-1 season's record thus far, stalk into Honaker Field at Maryville, Tenn., tonight seeking a satisfying victory over the Maryville Scots.

Before the night's over something's gotta give.

The anxious Lions will have captured their second and tastiest win of the year; or the equally hungry Scots, still winless after seven starts, will have finally crashed the victory column.

Despite the fact that both teams sport poor records, the action promises to be warm enough to keep the fans awake. The Mars Hillians remember their frustration in the finale last season when Maryville edged the Lions 6-0 in an exciting game at the North Buncombe High School stadium.

Several of the Maryville players—including quarterback Herman Ramsey, fullback Keith Bailey and tailback Danny Rogers—are again the sparkplugs of the Scot offense.

Lions Fans Flag Maryville Train

Between 250 and 300 Mars Hill fans, including the band and the cheerleaders, will ride a chartered train to Maryville, Tenn., today for the game between Maryville and Mars Hill.

The train, boosted and booked by the Student Government Association, is still open to late subscribers, according to SGA President Chris Pappas.

The shuttling of students from the campus to the depot at Marshall will begin at 11:30 a.m. Departure time for the train is 2 p.m. A three and a half hour trip will put the Lion fans in downtown Maryville in time for an early evening meal.

Kickoff time at the Maryville stadium is 8 p.m.

The train will depart immediately after the game for the return trip.

Bromley Takes Junior Varsity

Coaching duties in basketball have been separated with Ron Bromley taking charge of the junior varsity and Harrell Wood continuing to direct the varsity, Athletic Director Don Henderson announced this week.

The move is calculated to give Wood more time and room to develop the varsity squad and to promote the training and increase the game experience of freshmen and others who show promise of becoming varsity material.

The two squads will practice separately but will use similar offensive and defensive formations and plays, Bromley said.

A schedule of junior varsity games is being lined up by Coach Bromley but is still incomplete.

Already slated are these four: Dec. 4, at WCC; Dec. 14, at Warren Wilson; Feb. 12, Warren Wilson here; Feb. 23, at Asheville School for Boys.

Coach Wood's team is beginning to take shape. It presently includes lettermen Andy Good, Doug Pickard, Duke Fisher and Pat Sams. Tom Hughes is up from last year's freshman unit.

Newcomers to the squad include three transfer students and five freshmen. The transfers are George Scruggs, former Gardner-Webb Junior College player who attended Mars Hill last year but did not compete; and the Gibson brothers—Bill and Bob—who formerly attended the University of Richmond.

The frosh are Bill Kinney, Skip Lyles, Jeff Cavanaugh, Joe Rattie and Ray Randall.

Fullback Roger Whitley (left) and halfback Jimmy Few, leading ground gainers for the Lions will do double duty tonight against Maryville. With running averages of 3.4 and 3.2 yards respectively, they should carry the brunt of the Lion ground attack along with halfback Bill Dyar. On defense Whitley will man a tackle slot and Few will be one of two safety men.

Volleyball Leads WRA Activity

Activity in half a dozen areas characterizes Women's Recreation schedule currently.

Women's volleyball competition has started and teams are still being formed. Any coed interested in playing should contact a major or Miss Hart.

Mars Hill will be represented again this year in a women's volleyball tournament at East Tennessee State University in Johnson City. A team to play in the Nov. 12-13 event is now being selected.

The Tennis Club is having a round-robin tournament, and a "powder puff" football game is still in the planning stage.

The other WRA clubs are meeting at their usual times.

In a different area the WRA is sponsoring the campus visit of the American Red Cross bloodmobile at the gym from noon until 6 p.m. Monday, Nov. 15.

Appraisal Due on PE

"On the Outside Looking In," a candid appraisal of the field of physical education, will be the topic of discussion at a meeting of the Physical Education Majors Club at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Library Auditorium.

Speakers will be John Hough Jr. and Worth Booth of the Department of Education.

Intramurals Near Climax

Men's intramural football is headed for a showdown next week with teams from Myers Cottages and Melrose leading the race for the winner's crown.

Intramurals Director Jerry Strong says the championship should be decided by Thursday.

Recent games have seen Spilman top Brown 6-0, Cottages edge Treat 7-6, Melrose best Spilman 6-0 and wallop Cottages 31-0 and Treat whip Spilman 18-12.

Volleyball competition is next on the semester's schedule. A planning meeting was held Monday, but final details could not be worked out until use of the gym is coordinated with varsity and junior varsity basketball practices.

Strong also indicated intramural competition in tennis and horse shoes should be completed by Nov. 13 and the results available for the next issue of the Hilltop.
