

Palmer
nts interested in a large spirit or mpus please drop
x 228-C. Include umber, dorm, and concerning such

is club can go a rmining the sucegiate sports at clubs, fraterni-
and individual raged to join in interest should nd of the coming

practice started boys attending
stner is the head McFee is the

ketball team was ek when fresh-d, formerly of h School near
a broken bone practice. He is of action until

rts participants
they should be sport now while
its such activity.

tulations to our Queen, Miss
epard of Golds-

E

SERVICE, ICATION
ars Hill

Oct. 14-16

Oct. 17-19

Oct. 21-23

Oct. 24-26

ment

Meals

the Mars Hill College

Hilltop

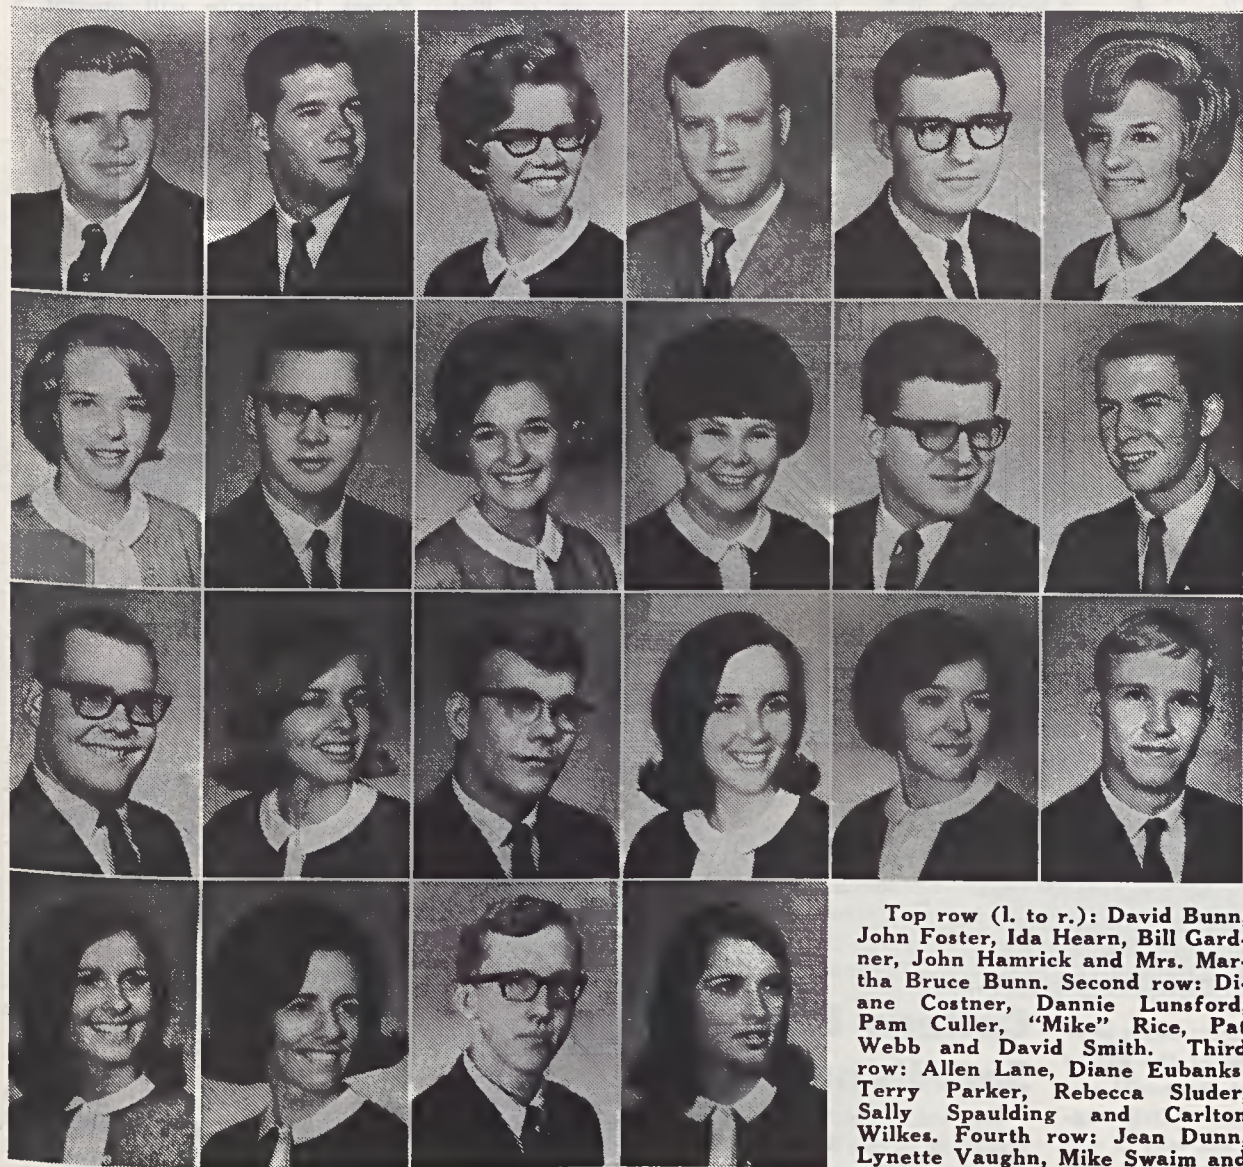

SPILMAN
WINS
SEE PAGE 4

Vol. XLIII, No. 4

MARS HILL, NORTH CAROLINA

October 26, 1968

Twenty-Two Elected Who's Who

Top row (l. to r.): David Bunn, John Foster, Ida Hearn, Bill Gardner, John Hamrick and Mrs. Martha Bruce Bunn. Second row: Diane Costner, Dannie Lunsford, Pam Culler, "Mike" Rice, Pat Webb and David Smith. Third row: Allen Lane, Diane Eubanks, Terry Parker, Rebecca Sluder, Sally Spaulding and Carlton Wilkes. Fourth row: Jean Dunn, Lynette Vaughn, Mike Swaim and Katy Swofford.

Twenty-two Mars Hill College seniors have been chosen for inclusion in the 1968-69 edition of the national publication "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

The news was revealed by Registrar Robert Chapman, who annually handles the nominations and related paperwork. As in previous years, Mars Hill was invited to submit the names of outstanding seniors as nominees for the book, which is published in Tuscaloosa, Ala. Also as in previous years, all of Mars Hill's nominees were accepted by the publication's editorial board.

Mars Hill's nominations for the coveted honor were made by a secret committee appointed by Mr. Chapman. This year it included 12 students (7 seniors, 4 juniors and 1 sophomore) plus 5 faculty members.

The 11 men and 11 coeds nominated and chosen differ greatly in their major fields and in their extracurricular activities; however, they do have in common a high degree of dedication to their studies. They are all outstanding academically.

The group just chosen constitutes only the fourth assortment of Mars Hillians to be included in the publication. Only senior colleges are eligible to nominate students for the honor.

In November 1965 a list of 20 Mars Hillians were nominated and accepted. In 1966 the number was increased to 23, and last year the total was 26.

All of this year's selectees are expected to graduate at the spring commencement. Brief biographical sketches of them will appear in the publication, which will be distributed in the spring. In addition, the "who's whoers" will be featured in a special section of the '69 Laurel and will be recognized during commencement exercises next May.

The publication in which they are included is a bound volume of biographical sketches of outstanding college and university students across the nation. Approximately 1,000 institutions in the 50 states are represented.

Student Teaching Begins

Sixty-five seniors have begun their student teaching responsibilities in 31 schools in Madison, Buncombe, Haywood and Mecklenburg counties.

The so-called "practice teaching" is a requirement of the State Department of Public Instruction for certification as a teacher. For many of the students the eight-week, off-campus stint is the final hurdle in their race toward a degree.

Working under the supervision of an experienced teacher, the Mars Hillians are scattered throughout the Asheville city school system, the Haywood, Buncombe and Madison county school systems, in the consolidated Charlotte-Mecklenburg system, and in one private school near Asheville.

Twenty-one assigned in Asheville city schools are as follows: Aycock School, Cynthia Lynch and Carolyn Spence; Newton, Linda Goforth and Lois Hartsell; Vance, Lynda Turner and Brenda Wilson; Randolph, Maureen Finnegan and Jeanne Morgan; Claxton, Ann Arledge, DeLois Ashe and Judy Cash.

Ira Jones, Judy Burgess and Sharon Hughes; Hall Fletcher, Carole Woody; Rankin, Mrs. Elizabeth English; David Millard, Jerry Gault and Glenna Huff;

South French Broad, Sam Burgin and Susan Cable; Lee Edwards, Jean Dunn and Diane Eubanks.

Twenty are assigned to Buncombe County schools as follows: Sand Hill School, Sam Bass; Charles Bell, Sandra Killough, Wanda Lingerfelt, Dannie Lunsford and Selma Price; Barnardville, Wayne Parlier; Weaverville Primary, Beverly Jarvis and Mrs. Virginia Laney; Weaverville Grammar, Marion Caldwell and Mrs. Betty Honeycutt.

Erwin High, Mrs. Rebecca Mann and Earlene Radford; Enka, Rebecca Sluder; A. C. Reynolds, Norval Hensley, Linda Lawing and Helen Roper; North Buncombe, George Brown, Mrs. Wanda Harding, Bobby Rice and Rebecca Jenkins.

Mrs. Patricia Lipsey is assigned to the private school, Asheville Country Day.

Mavis Dowdle is at Tuscola High in Waynesville; and Vincent Beachy, Lynn Magann and Joyce Sorrells are at Pisgah High in Canton.

Elaine Allen, Mike Pressley and Mrs. Sandra Wiles are at Mars Hill High.

The 16 assigned in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg system are as follows: Ashley Park Elementary, Julia Price; Bain, John Hamrick;

(Continued on Page 4)

Symposium Talks Are Published

The addresses delivered during the last two spring symposiums have been published in book form and are being sold on campus for $1. Sales will continue in the cafeteria during the supper hour Monday and Tuesday, according to Dr. Evelyn Underwood.

Entitled "Crisis," the book captures as best the printed word can the speeches delivered on campus by two panels of distinguished experts from widely varied fields.

The symposium last spring featured radio newscaster and commentator Edward P. Morgan as the keynote speaker. His was a pessimistic view of the war in Vietnam, contrasting greatly with the view of Howard K. Smith as expressed in the symposium of February 1967.

Two interesting and timely addresses by Dr. G. M. Gilbert, entitled "To Conform or Not Conform" and "Drugs, Kicks and Today's Youth," are included in the new publication.

Proceeds from the sale of "Crisis" will go toward paying the cost of printing but will not completely cover the total expense.

Computer To Aid Transfers

College students who wish to transfer next fall will find their task easier this time than when they were high school seniors attempting to choose four or five prospective colleges, according to Josh Greene, night editor of The Daily Cardinal at the University of Wisconsin.

Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., has introduced a computer system to aid students in the selection of colleges and universities. The program, SELECT, was created by two seniors at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The program, which is aimed at high school seniors and college students wishing to transfer, determines the 10 to 15 schools in the country which best match a student's interests, aptitudes, and financial requirements. The student's specifications are compared with over two million data entries on approximately 3,000 colleges and universities in the United States.

William Jovanvich, president of Harcourt, Brace and World, noted that students will generally consider only a few colleges when contemplating matriculation or transfer, usually those familiar to him through family and friends. The purpose of SELECT is to aid guidance counselors and the student himself in determining all possibilities compatible with the student's needs and potential.

The SELECT questionnaire seeks such academic information as college entrance test scores, school rank, and course interest. Such areas as social activity, sports, reasons for attending college, and career intentions are also considered in selecting the best possibilities for the student.

SELECT questionnaires are available to university students from guidance counselors at all Madison high schools, and can be obtained by writing to SELECT, Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., 757 Third Avenue, New York, New York 10017. The cost to applicants is $15. The names of the 10 to 15 institutions which best suit his individual needs are sent in a personalized computer letter within two weeks after filing the questionnaire.

'Miss Laurel' Nominees Picked

Mike Swaim, coordinator of the "Miss Laurel" Pageant to be held on Nov. 18, is pleased to release the names of the following girls who have been selected from their respective dormitories as pageant representatives or who have been elected to represent their class: Suzanne Bussey (Senior Class); Delores Deal (Junior Class); Janet Lester (Sophomore Class); Beth Bennett (Freshman Class); Janice Gellak (Myers); Connie Henderson (Brown); Jeannie Culler (Spilman); Maria Hunt (Treat); Nancy Harrison (Fox); Anita Coggins (Huffman); Myra Smith (Stroup); Phyllis Dorn (Moore); Mary Rome Rector (Jarvis House); Lynette Vaughn (Humphrey House). As of press time a representative has not been selected from Melrose.

Pageant theme as well as the naming of the judges and the nature of the ceremonies will be announced in the next issue of the Hilltop. (See photo, p. 2).