first meeting of nominees for the title "Miss Laurel" of 1974 will be held on Sunday evening, Dec. 9, in order that certain plans might be made before the current semester ends.

Residence hall officers should consult Steve for details about choosing their hall's nominee; and they should submit the name of the nominee to him by 5:00 p.m. on Dec. 5. His post office box is 808-c; and he resides in Gibson, where his phone number is 271.

The pageant has been operated on "Miss America" standards in which the judging (by outside, experienced judges) involves a rating system where talent counts half of the total points.

"Miss Laurel" of 1974 will be featured in the 1974 issue of the college yearbook. The '73 title was won by Susan Marshall, a senior music student who graduated last spring.

KODAK

Cont. from page one the hands of the young people who are now in college or about to enter. We know that an investment in them will pay dividends."

Upon receiving the gift, President Bentley remarked, "it is because of good corporate citizens like Tennessee Eastman and the Eastman Kodak Company that Mars Hill is able to maintain its characteristic margin of educational excellence. We are grateful not only for the gift, but for the vote of confidence which it implies, as well."

TUTORING

The new learning skills center located in room 322 of the Cornwell Building, has been providing tutoring services for any student in any subject, all year. Students meet in individual or small groupings, and, Miss Vesta Baughman, the director of the learning center says that since the beginning of the year the center has progressed and that she is hopeful for a continuous progression of the center. The center is open from 9a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday with weekend help if necessary.

If you are interested in becoming a tutor (with pay) and meet the qualifications, or, if you are interested in being tutored, contact Miss Baughman at Ext.109 or go by her office in Cornwell Hall in Room 323.

NEW DRAMA DEGREE OFFERED

by Connie Montague
The Drama and Music Departments are jointly offering a new degree in Musical Theatre Performance under the Bachelor of Arts Program. The MTP is a four year program with the basic core requirements of the B.A. degree. As stated in its proposal, "the degree is designed as a training program for those students who wish to pursue careers as performers in musical comedy or opera." Upon completion of the degree the graduate should then be able to pursue a career in professional opera or musical theatre, probably an apprenticeship (like an internship) with pay. If anyone is interested in this type of program talk to Mr. Jim Thomas of the Drama Department (office in Spilman basement) or to Mr. Joel Stegall, head of the Music Department (office located in the Fine Arts building).

Worldly DINNER

by Connie Montague

Last Saturday night, Nov. 10, 1973 at 7:00 p.m., an international dinner, sponsored by President Bentley, was held for the Roman Gorski International Scholarship Fund (this scholarship is for the sole purpose of foreign students). There were 85 attendants at the dinner, including the students from Mars Hill College who are in the International Club.

Don't close your eyes. Point it out to someone who can do something about it.

People start pollution. People can stop it.

Placement Office

by Cole Harris

Many Juniors and Seniors are fretting over jobs that they may take after graduation. Have no fear, there is a new department on campus just for you. The Placement Office area in the Wren College Union. The Placement Office is headed by Mr. W.E. Gift, a retired executive from Tennessee Eastman Co.

Seminars will be held for the job-hunting graduate. The seminars will deal with how to apply for a job, what to be prepared for in a job interview, and where to begin looking. The Society for the Advancement of Management is preparing a mailing list of companies who need workers in the fields related to Mars Hill College's degree areas.

The main purpose of the Placement Office is to aid students with contacts. Helping students find summer jobs is also an aid offered by the office as it fills it's role as the career planning part of the College Counseling Center.
