of academic--financial need, namely, getting to and using an expensive, unusual facility at another campus for doctoral or research work, SREB may also have the answer to your problem.

The Small Grants Program, launched in September with a grant from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, provides access to uncommon, usually very expensive facilities, such as the hundreds listed in the Board publication, Catalog of Uncommon Facilities in Southern Universities.

Faculty members and doctoral students in the natural sciences are eligible for these grants, which cover expenses for short-term travel and operational costs of facilities, ranging from a pulse laser to a geothermal measurements laboratory.

Inquiries about the Small Grants Program should be directed to Dr. William Hoveden, SREB, 130 Sixth Street N.W., Atlanta, Georgia 30313.

--Ask the state coordinator for a copy of the Academic Common Market booklet (which lists the available programs and the participating states) and the requirements for certification of state residence.

--If a program you want is offered through the market and you are eligible for it, apply to the school for admission.

--Once accepted in a program, apply for certification of state residence through your state coordinator.

If a student is unable to locate his state coordinator, he should contact Dr. William Hoveden, Southern Regional Education Board, 130 Sixth Street N.W., Atlanta, Georgia, 30313.

SADIE HAWKINS

by Susan George

Girls, have you been mooning over that certain guy all semester wondering if you would ever get to date him? Guys, have you been admiring that cute little coed from a distance but never got the nerve up to ask her out? Well, now maybe you will get your chance to go out with her because on November 23 the tables will be turned and the girls will be asking their favorite guys to the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

This once-a-year event, sponsored by Delta Phi Zeta sorority, is eagerly awaited by many girls at Mars Hill as a chance to ask out the guy they have been wanting to date for so long. Once the couple gets to the dance, they will find a number of opportunities for romance awaiting them. There will be a Hitchin' Post for those who want to get "hitched" to their beaux (that is married for all you city slickers). After the ceremony the lucky couple will receive their wedding rings and marriage license, and will have the chance to get their wedding picture taken together before leaving on the honeymoon. For that special occasion there will be lovely corsages for sale, so girls, be sure and bring your spare change.

Of course, there will be some couples there that will be more interested in doing a little foot-stompin'. For your dancing pleasure the music for the evening will be provided by Cootie Williams and the Aardvarks (who will be coming to Mars Hill straight from Dogpatch, USA). The dance will be held in McConnell Barn after the Carson-Newman game from 8-12. Admission will be 75¢ per person and $1.00 per couple. There will also be a $5.00 prize awarded to the best-dressed girl and $5.00 to the best-dressed guy, so be sure and wear your fancy best for the occasion.

Girls, don't wait until too late to ask your guy to the Sadie Hawkins dance - you could be missing out on the chance of your lifetime!

for election; for two of them, students are running unopposed. In the third hotly contested race, two people are running. There is also a Freshman Class election going on. They can elect six Senators, six are running; one secretary, one is running; one vice president, one is running; one president (big thrill!!) two are running.

Do you know who the Student Government Association officers are? Do you know who you are?

The SGA situation is reaching the critical point. People are having to do four or five jobs just to make sure everything gets done.

Don't get me wrong this isn't more "Apathy sure is bad, get involved!" garbage. I'm just appalled at what we allow ourselves to get by with.

How many times have I heard people griping about the Snack Bar being closed... did you know it's closed because there is no one available to run it? How many times have I heard people griping about the lack of decent entertainment some weekends....did you know that it's because the activities committee can't make money when around twenty people show up for the dances, which is usually the case?

I was asked by several people to write a Frying Pan on the Maintenance Department. On example they cited was the unnecessary time and manpower they waste to pick up trash. Come on, now, you little angels, who throws that trash on our lawns because they're too lazy to put it where it goes?

All of us lazy, profane slobos can go on just like we are. Why change? I mean, we can just sit around on our tails and talk about how bad everything is, because there are a few people around here who are putting in a full time job to see that we loud-mouthed pigs get what we don't deserve. People like Ray Bennett, Niles Hipps, and a few others, and Jean Barton. Do you people know Jean? If you've ever gone to a concert, you probably saw her taking up tickets. You've probably seen her working at movies, too, or if you're reading this there's a chance she typed it, so it could be printed. I don't even know what else she does, but the list doesn't stop here. These people are the ones who work for us, for no profit or recognition other than their own satisfaction. I sure wish I were one of them.

I don't expect too much to come of this; knowing us, I know better. But for once, people, think about it. And consider yourselves told off.

Off - Campus Housing and Open Dorms

by Mark Grimes

On Monday, Nov. 11, the SGA Senate made headway with the acceptance of the proposed bill to allow junior and senior men and women the privilege of living off campus. This bill was first proposed in the spring of 1974 by freshman president, Steve Yacobe, the bill was passed by the Senate, but did not win acceptance by the Student Affairs Council. Brought up again this year by Larry Pike in a revised form, it was passed by the Senate and also passed in the Student Affairs Council, (with provisions that it will not go into effect until fall 1975).

A crucial step was made toward giving MHC a policy for regular inter-dormitory visitation hours, too. The Senate first acknowledged that this policy is in line with the school's social goals which were decided upon last spring. The bill proposes that inter-dormitory visitation be allowed every Friday from 7 p.m.-11 p.m., with the following guidelines:

1) RA's will have to make unscheduled patrols of the rooms.

2) Dorm Hall Councils must have program or activity planned and the activity must be approved by Housing Office.

3) Rest room facilities must be provided and doors of rooms where there are visitors must be left open.

4) All students who do not wish to participate in Open Dorms have freedom to abstain.

5) Persons responsible for infractions of these guidelines will automatically be denied this privilege.
