CSM NEWS

Our bodies have many parts but the many parts make up only one body when they are all put together. So it is with the "body" of Christ . . . the Holy Spirit has fitted us all together into one body. We have been baptized into Christ's body by the one Spirit, and have all been given that same Holy Spirit.

I Corin.12:12,13

It is of course quite hard to feel a oneness with a friend it, while you're talking to him, he's looking all around you, obviously not totally concentrating on what you're saying to him. It's hard to feel a unity within a group if everybody's got a different idea, and each person wants to do something "their" way. It's hard for Christians to be dedicated to a really big job when it involves people in so many stages of growth and understanding. However, there is one over-all "bind"--the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love; we're all working for the same man.

When school first started, back in August, it was the observation of several people that we as a student body lacked unity. Sure, we were all working for something, we had a goal, but there wasn't one thing that we could all acknowledge as a "unifying power" among us.

To some people, that's no big problem. If unity doesn't happen pretty easily, then maybe it wasn't supposed to happen at all. But in the very essence of that thought, we have been pulling closer and closer as a body working for a common achievement, working more and more TOGETHER for Christ. This is not to say that the whole campus has been knit together and now everybody is going the same direction. That would be really nice, but I think it would be awfully hard to accomplish anywhere. But what is coming to be more and more everyday is an overall unity among us as students. We're pulling together, trying new things. Although a body has many parts, each different, when they're all put together, they work as one. Here on campus, we have the unity of friendship and concern for each other, and that ties us together. Somewhere down the line, our Bible studies, prayer and share groups have been blessed specifically by God and people have learned some little something that brings the meaning of a Christian life to a better understanding. We don't separate ourselves so much now as the Christians on one side and the non-Christians on the other: we're really meeting more in the middle. Not everybody feels the need to do the same "jobs." Lots of people get involved in different ways, but they end up working toward the same goal, even down
