

PAUL WINTER CONSORT

PAUL WINTER CONSORT to play in Moore Auditorium--
February 21, 1976

Coming to Moore auditorium on February 21 at 8:00 p.m. is what promises to be one of the most exciting concerts ever offered by the College Union!

Paul Winter is a very impressive class of its own in the world of music. Their music gives an experience, not a concert. They take tidbits from several musical forms using more than 30 instruments to create a sound which seems to mesh classical, oriental, jazz, rock, African, and folk music.

"The Paul Winter Consort is invigorating and thrilling, moving and humanistic, demanding but never taxing. Their scope is as wide as inner man can stretch."--The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

"The Consort has harnessed the power of amplification and put it at the service of musical form, imagination and fascinating instrumental color."--The Washington Post

"Winter Consort was clockwork: perfect and complete. They were like a single mind, acting as one entity, as if light moving through a prism, one source creating many colors."--Syracuse University

"The Winter Consort's appearance drew the greatest student response of any attraction on the 1973-74 concert series."--University of Wyoming

What more can be said? Come and experience it! Admission will be $1.50 for Mars Hill Students with I.D. and $2.00 for general admission.

Don't miss it!

GUATEMALA :RELIEF

In response to an urgent request from the Guatemalan Government telephoned from Guatemala City by William Salas, CARE Country Directory there, the International Aid Agency is flying medical supplies, blankets and other emergency assistance to the helpless victims.

An initial shipment already arrived from the U. S. includes 150,000 tetracycline capsules, 75,000 penicillin tablets, 2,500 vials of penicillin for injections, and enough tetanus toxoid for 1,250 immunizations.

In nearby Honduras, CARE's staff has purchased 5000 blankets, which have been flown to Guatemala City by the Honduran Air Force.

CARE, which has ongoing child feeding, medical, agricultural and other self-help programs in Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, and other Latin American countries, was on the spot and able to swing into immediate emergency action. Food Commodities stockpiled by CARE for child feeding in Guatemala and neighboring countries are available as needed to be rushed in and distributed to the hungry.

The President of Guatemala appointed his brother, Dr. Hans Laugerud as his personal liaison with CARE in organizing food distribution and other assistance. Dr. Laugerud and Mr. Salas made an aerial survey of the worst-affected areas outside Guatemala City. These include such towns as: Chimaltenango, Tactic, Salama, El Progreso, Rabinal, Zacapa, Patzicuh and Joyabaj, some of which are almost totally destroyed. CARE overseas and local staff have already flown or driven into these areas to set up emergency feeding and assistance.

The U.S. Ambassador has instructed the Peace Corps in Guatemala to make available all the volunteers CARE can use to speed help to the victims. CARE staff members in nearby countries will also be rushed in if necessary.

With thousands dead, several times that injured, and at least 100,000 homeless in Guatemala City alone, CARE's Executive Director, Frank L. Goffio, today issued an urgent appeal for funds to continue CARE emergency aid to the quake victims and for crucial rehabilitation and reconstruction as soon as possible. Contributions may be sent to CARE Guatemala Earthquake Fund, 2581 Piedmont Road, N.E., Room 23-A, Atlanta, Georgia 30324.

Collegiate Sound

Thursday, March 4th will bring a spectacle of laughs, thrills, and entertainment as the Collegiate Sound returns to the Mars Hill campus. The Collegiate Sound will be a variety show of high calibre talent in which representatives of various campus organizations will compete for cash and prizes.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is sponsoring this event in conjunction with the college, in order to provide an opportunity for the entire campus community to become more aware of the talent in our student body through friendly inter-organization competition.

A major portion of the judging will be based solely on audience appeal. Give the representative of your dorm, class, club, or organization your support.

ATTEND THE COLLEGIATE SOUND!! THURSDAY, MARCH 4 AT 8:00 P.M. IN MOORE AUDITORIUM.
