II. With no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

SGA Offer

Beginning this semester, the Student Government Association (SGA) will provide a Student Book Exchange for the purpose of selling used books at a central location on the Mars Hill College campus. Beginning this year, Book Exchange will open the last week of spring and fall semesters and remain open two weeks into new spring and fall semesters. When a student leaves his book with the Book Exchange, his name and the price he is asking will be inserted inside the book. The student's name and price will also be recorded on a legal book belonging to the Student Book Exchange. Other students will be able to buy that student's book at the stated price if he or she so desires. The Student Book Exchange will take 15% of the price for handling books and return the remainder of money to the students who have put them up for sale. During the third week after the semester has started, all students must pick up unsold books or the money collected for sold books. If the books are not picked up during that time, they become the property of the Student Book Exchange.

This system has been devised to save students money and bother, and it is hoped that students will make use of it. To do so, they must bring their books behind the cafeteria to the area where the refrigerators are rented. A sign will be posted the week of December 6 concerning times.

Oh Boy! Exam Time

The Student Government Association has great news for students who need to study! (and who doesn't?) Cornwall Hall will be open all night for exam studying beginning December 6 and continuing through exam week. Thanks is extended to both Dr. Bentley and Dr. Hoffman for helping to make this possible. Students are asked to remember that this will be the week before exams as well as exam week. Also, plans are for this policy to be carried out next semester as well.

A Yuletide Party

Wren College Union cordially invites students to a Christmas party to be given in the College Union Friday, December 10, from 7pm until midnight. Included in the festivities will be a reception (with free food), Christmas caroling, a Christmas reading, a puppet show, and Santa Claus (in person). The classic movie, "A Christmas Carol," will be shown (along with some cartoons), the Bookstore will join in the Christmas spirit with a 10% discount sale, there will be a sale of crafts, and to top it all a Disco, Top 40 dance in the Snack Bar. Finally, there are over $250 in cash and gifts to be awarded (students must register and be present to win). Since there is no admission the College Union invites everyone to join in the fun.

Once Is Not Enough

According to Ellen Coomer, Director of Health Services, the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare/Public Health Service has recommended a "booster" dose of the flu vaccine for persons between the ages of 18-24 years. The Infirmary has the vaccine available and will be giving it between the hours 2pm-5pm. The vaccine is still available for persons still wishing to take the first dose. There is no charge for the vaccine.
