

Sportsline with Andy

Remember on Saturday, March 22, is the annual Spring football game. It is an inter-squad scrimmage and will place the blue team against the white. Come out Saturday and see Mars Hill's own Steve Campbell, Mark Clark, Cliff Searcy and others.

Coach Jack Lytton wanted me to thank all those who gave the prayer and sang the national anthem before all the home basketball games this season. He never got the chance to thank you and now he wants you to know that he really appreciates it. "This group was second to none!"

Now it's my turn. At the last home basketball game for the Lady Lions this season, there was a small group of students that got together to act as "cheerleaders" for the Lady Lions. This group included Jim Fisher, Gina King, Joey Orr, Sandy Vernon, Cliff Bowen, Kristina Smith and Leslie Talbert. They did a terrific job and they really do not know how much the women on the team appreciated it. Thanks, and maybe someday the cheerleaders will get that much spirit!

The weather is shaping up, so instead of trying to get a tan behind Huffman or up on men's hill, you can get a tan watching some spring sport in action. When there is a home game, try to get out to see it.

The Mars Hill women's tennis team is starting off right after a successful fall season. Last week, they defeated USC-Lancaster 9-0. Keep up the good work ladies.

Women's Softball

Last year, under the direction of Dr. Hollingsworth and Miss Webster, the women's softball team finished a disappointing 4-12. This year hopefully should prove different. Mr. Tom Wood, recreation teacher here at Mars Hill, will guide this young and inexperienced team which fields only four returning players. These four are Kim Beck, Candy Porter, Lou Lathem, and Kelly Bullard. The rest include Faye Thomas, Janice McDaris, Diane Bartlett, Denise Deaton, Josephine Clark, Sonja McGee, Geri Peterson, Peekie Godwin, Beverly Bruce and Angie Johnson.

David Atkinson, a physical education major, is the assistant coach under Tom Wood this season. "David will be a very valuable asset to the team and has good knowledge of the game of softball," said Wood.

This season slates 24 games for the Lady Lions and includes three tournaments (Roundrobin Tournament in Greensboro, the Catawba Tournament in Catawba, and the NCAIAW Tournament). The big day for Mars Hill will be March 22 as they play four teams in Division two, Mars Hill's own division. One critical part of the season will be the following week as the Lady Lions play nine games, all on the road.

Defense should be the strongest part of the team, especially the infield. This is a very exciting team this year. "There is a nucleus to have a good team and a good season this year," stated Coach Wood. "The difference between a good and average team is that a good team can make the cut-off plays in softball."

This group looks to have the potential to do very well this year. This weekend will prove their ability as softball gets underway here at Mars Hill.
