

Sams

Sams has developed the methods course for "The Teaching of Mathematics" for students seeking secondary certification; he has developed the geometry course, "Foundations of Geometry;" he contributed in a significant way to the curriculum when Mars Hill became a senior college; he wrote the course competencies for "Mathematics for Elementary Education;" and he has been the college supervisor for every secondary mathematics student teacher at Mars Hill College.

He is active in the community and has served on numerous boards and committees of the Mars Hill Baptist Church. This past year he was nominated for and was a finalist in the N.C. Council of Teachers of Mathematics competition which recognizes outstanding teachers.

During the coming year, Sams will serve as a consultant to share with the college's faculty his unique ability to put students, both regular and the adult learner, at ease and to communicate effectively as well as share his counseling techniques.

Sorority Named Top Greeks

Stubbs Scholarship

Established in 1956 by Robert L. Stubbs (Class of '65) and Drs. Earl J. and Patsy Stubbs Fry (Blass of '52), this $200 award is made in honor of Mr. & Mrs. P. P. Stubbs of Shelby in recognition of their support of Christian higher education. The award is made on the basis of need and scholarship. The 1980 recipient is JoAnne Sanderson, a junior from Kinston.

Tomberlin And Hensley Scholarship

Mr. & Mrs. Gay Hensley of Greensboro established this award in 1964 in honor of Mr. Hensley's parents. The proceeds are used to assist a worthy student from Yancey or Madison Counties. The 1980-81 recipient is Patricia D. Buckner, a sophomore from Mars Hill.

Three Promoted

Three of the college's faculty members, representing three academic disciplines, have been promoted this year. The three are William Hutt, named Associate Professor of Biology from assistant professor; Kenneth M. Sanchagrin, promoted to Associate Professor of Sociology from assistant professor; and Carolyn R. Thompson, also named Associate Professor from Instructor of Social Work.

Dr. Hutt has been a member of the college's faculty since 1974. He holds an undergraduate degree from Calvin College and earned his master's and Ph.D. from the University of Georgia. Dr. Sanchagrin came to Mars Hill in 1971 and earned his bachelor's degree from Sacred Heart Seminary. He also holds both master's and Ph.D. degrees from Wayne State University. Mrs. Thompson became a member of the school's faculty in 1976. She has a bachelor's degree from Emmanuel College and the Master of Social Work degree from St. Louis University.
