ay, November 16, OOD LUCK ON EXAMS...Merry Christmas!

Hill, Zume 64, Issue 6 NC

Perm

N

Mars Hill, North Carolina

Co-editor

Friday, December 14, 1990

r. Duck Honored by HSHP 28754 1 Ramsey ff Writer

A fund-raising dinner was held Saturnight, Nov. 17, in the MHC cafeteria Hot Springs Health Program officials ormally announce plans for remodelthe community's medical building naming it the W. Otis Duck Medical iter in honor of Dr. Duck, native of dison County and mayor of Mars Hill. "We have been inspired by the exple of Dr. Duck's exceptional work I faithful service among the people of rs Hill, Madison County, and the surnding area," said Gary Lewis, Execu-Director of the HSHP. "We are nmitted to advancing the tradition of ellence which he set in patient care, I that is why we want to remodel and

He is faithful arge the clinic and name it in Dr. give us our sins, ack's honor. We foresee significant m all unrighteous/wth in the Mars Hill area during the nainder of this century and into the came for all pet century. More space and improved e educated, and t^{ilities} will be needed at the clinic as me to Me, all whe growth takes place."

y-laden, and I will The dinner was given to provide 11:28) and, Jesus HP officials a chance to explain their e bread of life; hens for the renovation project, show all not hunger, an^{wings} of the proposed facilities, Me shall never tswer questions, etc. About 500 blessings of Godests were expected. Guests were to or stars. Christ wilude many of Dr. Duck's professional port us, and guidileagues, members of his family, int be troubled; beinds, town and county officials, politi-also in Me. In figures, and church and civic are many dweders. Speakers included Dr. Fred not so, I would Intley, Mars Hill College President; Listo prepare a placi Ramsey, former Speaker of the gain, and receive^{use} in the North Carolina General Aswhere I am, there mbly; Dr. Eugene Mayer, director of hn 14:1-3). hn 14:1-3).

an be overcome ki Season Begins rist we have acce! he grace of God^{nnie Winstead} nothing is impossiest Writer wolf Laurel, the closest ski resort to way for Him tor HC, has been gearing up for another for Me with all eat season. The slopes have been ade ready, and the facilities have been mes to you and epped for an onslaught of skiers. join into the King w, all that's needed is Mother er: "And He shall ture's cooperation in the form of from their eyes; Perbe any death; the Campus just off Highway 22 to be any mourning hnson City, TN, Wolf Laurel was iginally scheduled to open on ev. 21:4). es in the love of danksgiving weekend; however, unfor the mercy of asonably warm weather melted those to eternal life (Jans. Now, the resort officials are "playto eternal life (J it by ear," hoping for conditions

e campus, just off Highway 23 to tion Centers; and Dr. William Laupus, former dean of the East Carolina University School of Medicine.

The honoree, Dr. Otis Duck, is an MHC alumnus and member of the Board of Trustees. He has strong ties with the college since he is a descendant of Berry Duck, one of its founders.

Upon his retirement in 1986, Dr. Duck received an honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, awarded by the college in appreciation for 40 years of "caring ministry" to the students, faculty, and staff of the college as well as the citizens of Mars Hill and the surrounding area.

When Dr. Duck retired from active medical practice, he and his partner, Dr. Ernest Powell, gave the building in which they operated their medical practice to the college, which sold it to the Hot Springs Health Program. The facility has been used for a family medicine practice since that time.

The medical building was constructed in 1946 on Chestnut Street. It has examining rooms, a central waiting room, doctor's offices, a laboratory, a file room, and other facilities. The parking area beside the building will accommodate approximately 30 cars.

The medical staff and the board of directors of the HSHP have decided to enlarge the building, upgrade its facilities, and expand the parking lot. The expected cost of the project is between $250,000 and $300,000. Plans to begin remodeling are set for the summer of 1991. Completion time for the project is estimated at eight months.

more suitable. Wolf Laurel has the capability of making its own snow, but in order to do so the temperature must be well below freezing for three or four nights in a row, and the ground must become frozen. Until those conditions are reached, the opening of the 1990-91 skiing season will be on hold.

Wolf Laurel has undergone some major changes during the last two years. Currently it is in a 10-year improvement plan directed by Sepp Gmuender, president and general manager. Under his guidance three new slopes have been added, making a dozen altogether. A continued on page 2

Alpha Chi Inducts New Members Machelle Cathey

The North Carolina Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Chi held its Induction Ceremony and Installation of Officers on Thursday, Dec. 3, at the Western Steer Family Steakhouse In Mars Hill.

Alpha Chi is a national honor scholarship society designed to promote honor, academic excellence, and exemplary character among students in all academic divisions.

Mars Hill students of junior or senior standing who are in the top five percent of their class and have a grade point average of at least 3.5 are eligible for membership.

Students inducted into Alpha Chi include Tammy Lynn Condrey, Robert Richard Cothran, Jennifer Enrich, David Lisenbee, Theresa Diane Mathis, Russell Scott Peters, Timothy Arnold Plaut, Audra Kay Sprouse, Janet Rosemaria Ward Staton, David Michael Vaughn, and Angela Sue Voss.

Officers installed for the 1990-91 academic year were Michelle Hutt, President; Michael Vaughn, Vice President; Amy Marlowe, Secretary; and Tim Plaut, Treasurer.

Faculty sponsors of the North Carolina Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Chi are Professor Winona Bierbaum, Dr. Noel Kinnamon, Dr. Robert Melvin, and Dr. Jim Lenburg.

At Thursday's ceremony, Alpha Chi recognized Dr. Harley Jolley, Professor of History at Mars Hill, for his support of Houston Jordan, Amy Lee Marlowe, Annie Beth Parrish, Patrick Elgando Prince, Jennifer Lynn Stamey, Dawn Noel Tyler, Jeffrey Lamar Wakefield, John Joshua Wood, and Elke Sabine Worley.

Active members of Alpha Chi in addition to those inducted include Dana Dale Bridges, Shannon Elissa Ferguson Goodman, Rebecca Gay Horner, Michelle Denise Hutt, Brenda Lewis

Angel Tree Provides Gifts for Needy From Staff Reports

Have you noticed the Angel Tree in Wren College Union and wondered why it is there? The Angel Tree has the purpose of giving presents to special children in the Mars Hill community who may have a limited Christmas or no Christmas at all.

academic excellence. Dr. Jolley has written two books about the history of the Appalachian Region.

Dr. C. Earl Leininger, Vice President for Academic Affairs and Dean of the College, was the keynote speaker at the ceremony. Entertainment was provided by Alpha Chi members David Jordan and Michael Vaughn. Alpha Chi President Michelle Hutt closed the evening with a challenge to the members.

Individuals, groups of friends, fraternities, or sororities can pick an angel off the tree and purchase a gift for that child according to the information on the angel.

After purchasing a gift, it is to be continued on page 2