

HOMEcoming 1993 COVERAGE

Dane Heath mans the soundboard for the Lion's Growl

Delta Zeta 'children' prepare for their bedtime story skit

The L.O.D. jam a court conviction for an MHC Lion

Student Perspectives: Homecoming Weekend Worthwhile

Continued From Page 3

Some teachers didn't have class on Friday because of the carnival but there still were those who felt as if they had to continue with their classes as usual. Over all the Mars Hill Lions' 1993 Homecoming was filled with fun activities that the entire Mars Hill family could have enjoyed. The students and alumni should look forward to another exciting homecoming season in 1994.

IXA prepare to meet the bulldogs with their jungle float

First place DKT decorate the campus with their letters

Choir Alumnae remembered their past during Sat.'s concert

Organizations Compete: Doctor Says Growl Adds

Continued From Page 3

The new MHC Dance Team put in a lot of work on a hot routine that they performed to the song, "Free Your Mind," by En Vogue.

To say a few words about the upcoming game, Coach Clifton came onto the field. He made sure everyone knew that the Lions were on the prowl and planned to have quite a bit of "pride of the predator."

The Bailey Mountain Cloggers amazed the crowd in the quad

President Bentley gets pinned by 1992 Queen Betts Calloway

'93 alumnae Crystal Hester and Tim Snyder battle the rain.

"War Years" Reunion Held During Homecoming

By Freda Banther
Hilltop Staff Writer

As part of this year's Homecoming festivities, a "War Years" reunion was held to honor those who served in WWII. A memorial service was held in the quad on Saturday afternoon in memory of those members of the Class of '42, '43 and '44 who were lost.

Around 130 people came to the reunion where Mars Hill student Veda

Scott sang and Brian Edmonds played "Taps."

Lt. Col. Horace Crouch, one of the "Doolittle Raiders" was guest speaker.

The "Doolittle Raiders" are famous for a raid on Tokyo during the war.

Later, there was a WWII display set up in Peterson Conference Center Blackwell Hall.

Homecoming Exciting

By Erik Barlik
Assistant to the Sports Information Director

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. It was raining in the city of Mars Hill, and it was a soft kind of rain that even the Lions hate: more than a mist, less than a shower (except in the bleachers where it was pouring). And more than anything else, it was off Mars Hill scoreboard for 3 quarters of the annual homecoming football game.

This year, the Winston-Salem State Bulldogs growled head into the fourth quarter with what seemed to be a comfortable lead. Lions did they know that the Lions could scratch their way back into a lost foot

Men's

By Erik Barlik
Assistant to the Sports Information Director

In a recent interview with Chris Crist, he noted that the program was off to their team. With the advent of MHC has built a solid team with quick-striking offense. A promise which they wish cohesion has held them off conference opponents. Crist was not playing as one; many people are trying to

PAW PRINTS

Pete Cooly was in trouble the remainder of the game. He is a midfielder. He is hard-nosed and plays "hard-nosed." No wonder they call him "PSYCHO."

Sports MHC h

THE HILLTOP S T A

OF MARS HILL C