BE LESS PRODUCTIVE AT THE OFFICE.

The office has always been a place to get ahead. Unfortunately, it's also a place where natural resources can fall behind. So here are some easy ways to reduce waste at the office. Turn off your lights when you leave. Drink out of a mug instead of throwaway cups. And to cut down on trash, use both sides of a memo. Doing these things today will help save resources for tomorrow. Which is truly a job well done. 1-800-MY-SHARE.

IT'S A CONNECTED WORLD. DO YOUR SHARE.

MHC Home To Ranking Racquetball Player

By Freda B. Dias
Hilltop Assistant Editor

Mars Hill College is the unwitting host to the amateur racquetball player who is ranked second in the state of N.C. and seventeenth in the nation. He is freshman Richard Myers, from Gastonia, N.C.

Myers has been playing racquetball since he was eight years old. He began playing through his local YMCA. He currently practices at least two to three times a week, and competes in tournaments whenever he can. Tul-tex T-shirt company has sponsored him in some of these tournaments.

Myers became second in the state when he won the America Amateur Racquetball Association (AARA) Championship Tournament in Charlotte several months ago.

If he takes first place in the next championship tournament, he will be eligible to go pro and compete for cash prizes.

The Hilltop would like to wish Richard Myers the best of luck in all his upcoming competitions.

began his climb to the top in 1956 by becoming the local farm and government reporter for the Goldsboro New-Argus. He later became reporter and editor for the Norfolk Virginian Pilot, the Raleigh News and Observer, and the Detroit Free Press.

Roberts has also served as chief southern and civil rights reporter for The New York Times during the tense years of 1965-67. Roberts was also in charge of correspondence to South Vietnam in 1968-69 for the Times. He has also been national editor for the metropolitan newspaper.

Roberts received Mars Hill's Alumnus of the Year award in 1970 for his achievements. Later, he went on to become executive editor for the Philadelphia Inquirer. Now, Roberts is a professor of journalism at the University of Maryland at College Park.

Graduation weekend will be the final page for the class of 1994 as students at MHC. Many tears will be shed. They will hold dear their memories and move on to make new ones. These graduates will always be loved and cherished by their fellow classmates and underclassmen.

Some Will Make It Far

By Jennifer McKinster
Hilltop Staff Writer

Graduation is approaching quickly. For many, this a time to look back on the semester and reflect.

For others this is a time to tie up loose ends, reflect on four years of college, and worry about what life after college will be like.

Questions like, "will I be able to get a job after graduation?" and "what am I going to do with the rest of my life?" are being asked.

These questions are not new to seniors. They will probably be asked by seniors 200 years from now.

What is the point, you ask? Well, the point is that seniors have been asking these questions as long as seniors have been around, but for one former Mars Hill College graduate, the answers have come fairly easily.

Nancy Alise, as she is known in theaters throughout the east coast, midwest, and Canada, received her degree in 1990 in Musical Theater from Mars Hill College. Since then she has maintained fairly steady employment as an actress.

Upon leaving Mars Hill, Nancy Alise played the part of Charlotte in the Musical Charlotte's Web.

Since then she has played a variety of parts that include such characters as a nun, a mistress, and a star-to-be.

The theaters that she has worked with include Cumberland County Playhouse, Classic Arts theater, and the Molly Brown Theater in Hannibal, Miss.

This past winter Nancy toured with the Caravan Co., in Omaha, NB in The Christmas Carol. It was here that Nancy met her fiance, Brigg O'Brien.

Currently, Nancy is in Wichita, KS where she is playing one of the lead characters in a sequel to Smoke on the Mountain.

In January, Nancy and her husband will be moving to New York City to pursue their careers on Broadway.

We wish both of them the best of luck!
