TO-MORROW

I'll build a bridge to span the sea,
I'll find a way to make blind see,
I'll make a fountain of the sea
To-morrow
I'll do great things, achieve great fame
I'll save the dying, cure the lame,
And all the world shall know my name

To-morrow

I'll write a book of deepest thought,
I'll teach a lesson never taught,
I'll find the treasures all have sought
To-morrow
—Martha Westerberg, in My Singing Soul.

HISTORICAL MARKERS

(Contributed)

The Marion Progress of August 14th had an editorial regarding the localizing of the history of the community. It seems to the writer that this is a very timely matter and should receive the careful consideration of every community in Western North Carolina. It has been the work of Boone Trail Memorial Association for a number of years to organize in the communities where markers have been placed a first settlers list of names which are dear and familiar to every community and place these names in bronze on the pioneer memorial monument erected in that community.

This movement as well as the other trail movements are correlated under the general head of the organization known as the "Guild of Pioneers."

In the special quest along the scenic route known as the "Appalachian Indian Road" there will be an effort made to carry out these plans. The city of Marion will occupy, no doubt, a prominent part in these plans.

THE APPALACHIAN

INDIAN ROAD

J. Hampton Rich, director of the Boone Trail Memorial Association, who is also promoting the Appalachian Indian Route, is in Old Fort to take the measurements for the additional tablet which will be placed on the Indian Arrowhead. He stated that he had found a very good reaction on the subject of the scenic route known as the "Appalachian Indian Road."

Mr. Rich exhibited a photograph of the first of the huge arrowhead markers which will be erected along the trail out of Old Fort to the Great Smoky Mountains. He stated that he felt sure that the movement to memorialize the pioneer would not fail to receive support both at the hands of Commissioner J. G. Stikleather and the communities through which the trail passes. In support of this opinion Mr. Rich made the statement that the movement to memorialize the pioneers by getting a paved highway through has never failed in the past, and that added to this fact, the scenic route, which has been mapped as the Master Scenic Highway of America, furnishing as it does a circle trip in which all of the towns and cities of Western North Carolina will be interested, cannot fail to receive support.

THEY LEARNED ABOUT WOMEN

Gus Van and Joe Schenck, more popularly known as the comedy song and dance team of Van and Schenck who for the past twenty years have been vaudeville headliners, have temporarily deserted the "boards" for films, their first vehicle being the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "They Learned About Women," which will open a two-day engagement at Everybody's Theatre Monday.

"GRISCHA" SCORES WITH APPEALING REALISM

Herbert Brenon, director of many notable films, has turned out one of the most absorbingly human dramas ever shown on the screen in "The Case of Sergeant Grischa," showing at Everybody's Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Never has a stronger cast been assembled for a talking drama than that which brings to life the characters of Arnold Zweig's story of a Russian prisoner's adventures in German prison camps during the war-torn years of 1917-1918.

HE MIGHT CAW

Mr. Crowe was a devout churchgoer. The young minister of his church was also devout, but easily embarrassed. Imagine the consternation of Mr. Crowe and the delight of the congregation when the young divine solemnly said at a prayer meeting: "And now, will Brother Pray please crow for us?"—Chicago News.

ONE PRESCRIPTION
MADE FAMILY DOCTOR
FAMOUS

Seldom has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than that of Dr. Caldwell in 1885, when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote the prescription as he found men, women and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, nausea, biliousness, no energy, lack of appetite, and similar things.

Demand for this prescription grew so fast, because of the pleasant, quick way it relieved such symptoms of constipation, that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is always ready at any drugstore.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

Within twenty-five years, one-third of the American working population has gained employment from industries and business born during that brief period of time. There are thousands of new ways to earn money, but only one way to have money.

It's an old, old story which we so frequently repeat—save money, and if you will heed it, you will not only earn money—but truly have it and enjoy it to the utmost.
