

The one medium-priced car in the world that combines these

Safety Features

Today's Oakland All-American Six is remarkably safe under any condition principally because of its exceptionally fine system of brakes and its sturdy Fisher body construction. Only one other medium-priced automobile uses the type of non-squeak, internal-expanding brakes which Oakland employs. And that car does not enjoy the Oakland advantage of Fisher bodies.

Prices, $1145 to $1375, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charge. Spring comes and Lowley Shock Absorbers included in list price. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

$1145 AND UP

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland-Fisher delivered price includes only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

KNOW YOUR STATE

A Study of the Natural Resources and the Industries of North Carolina Just Completed and Compiled by the Dept., of Conservation and Development of the State of North Carolina.

TOBACCO AND ITS PRODUCTS.

Figures on tobacco grown and manufactured in North Carolina for 1927, are far beyond any former record of even this great tobacco producing State. The value of the raw crop of tobacco, $111,559,000 was greater than any other crop grown in North Carolina, as well as the combined tobacco crop of the three nearest competing states. The extent of the States tobacco manufacturing industry can be partially appreciated when we know that its total, $433,271,000, was nearly two and three-quarter times the value of the raw tobacco, and the products by manufacturers were in excess of the total value of the combined agricultural products, timber, minerals and fisheries products of North Carolina in 1927.

Following are facts and figures about tobacco and tobacco manufacturing in the State:

One-fourth of the tobacco crop of America is produced on the farms of North Carolina. North Carolina tobacco factories manufacture more tobacco products than any other section in the world.

In 1927 there were raised on the tobacco farms of this state 485,000,000 pounds which represented to the grower a cash value averaged at 23c a pound, or $111,559,000. This exceeded the next ranking crop, cotton, and cottonseed, by over $13,000,000.

Markets for Tobacco

Inasmuch as certain types of North Carolina grown tobacco are suitable for foreign tobacco manufactured tobacco products a considerable quantity of the leaf is exported. North Carolina manufacturers have developed a market of no mean importance for their products in foreign countries, and in the international tobacco world this State occupies an outstanding position.

From an economic standpoint the tobacco industry of worthy of special mention. It represents an even balance between commerce and industry in that the farmer has already at hand an unfailing market for his product, thus obviating a long haul to market and having consequently saving in the cost of distribution, while the North Carolina manufacturer has his materials close at hand.

The leaf tobacco is sold by the farmer to the manufacturer or dealer through some 44 markets, in which 148 warehouses are operated. The grower hauls the leaf to one of these markets, over the splendid system of North Carolina highways, and delivers it at the warehouse where it is weighed and tagged. The manufacturers and dealers bid, on a competitive basis, upon each pile of tobacco and the grower is paid for the same by the warehouse cashier. Type or grade and demand are the controlling factors in the price paid for the leaf.

Tobacco Industries

For the year of 1927, the tobacco industries produced $433,271,612 worth of finished product, involving in the process the employment of about 16,000 wage earners in the 20 factories in the State. The increase for the 2 year period amounted to over $80,000,000 in cigars and cigarettes.

The major tobacco product of North Carolina is cigarettes. Available statistics indicate that there is one tobacco center in North Carolina which makes more cigarettes than any other city in the world. The growth of this phase of the industry has been little sort of phenomenal.

Smoking and chewing tobaccos come next in the volume of production. There are several plants in which snuff is made. These classes of tobacco products show a decrease in production in the 1927 census. Some cigars are also manufactured in the State. The principal tobacco manufacturing centers in North Carolina are located at Winston-Salem, Durham and Reidsville.

Viewing the industry from a national angle it represents quite a factor in the internal revenue receipts of the United States Government. During the last fiscal year the Government collected in North Carolina $225,315,303.53, which represents more than five per cent of the entire nation's internal revenue from all sources. More than $6,000,000 per annum, in custom charges, are paid by the tobacco industry on goods and commodities shipped into North Carolina from foreign countries.

Census Figures on the Industry in 1927

Nearly a thousand wage earners were added to the 1925 figures in the cigarette branch of the industry, with an increase of wages paid them of over one million dollars, while about thirteen million dollars more was paid out for material and power, and one hundred sixty million dollars more was added in value by manufacturer in 1927.

The chewing and smoking tobacco division showed a decrease of around one-third in number of establishments reporting, amount of wages paid and value added by manufacture. It also showed a decrease of 25 per cent in wage earners, 20 per cent expenditures for material and 30 per cent less in value of products produced. The division of cigars and cigarettes showed a per centage of consistent increase, with 25 per cent more establishments reporting and the same percentage of increase in total value of products, 12 per cent more was paid for material, 10 per cent for wages and there were 7 per cent more wage earners employed. The analysis as to effectiveness of manufacture and management of the latter in profitable production is shown by the value added by manufacture, being 160 per cent more in 1927 than the total value added in 1925. In addition to the large number of wage earners, and wages paid them, the cigar and cigarette industry also employed over four thousand salaried employees to whom were paid over seven and one-half million dollars.
