

Ziegfeld Himself Supervises "Glorifying the American Girl"

The master showmanship of Florenz Ziegfeld is brought to bear for the first time on the all-talking screen with the production of "Glorifying the American Girl" which comes to the Peoples Theatre for two days, Monday and Tuesday the 27th and 28th.

Here is a picture in which Ziegfeld out-Ziegfelds himself in the magnitude and dizzying splendor of spec-tales, beauty and gorgeous glorification.

"Glorifying the American Girl" is the greatest girl and musical spectacle revue that the talking screen has ever brought to the millions of movie goers—greatest because produced and supervised by the greatest combination in the amusement world today—Paramount pictures and Florenz Ziegfeld.

Mary Eaton is the leading lady in the production. She was also seen and heard in "The Cocoanuts" with the Four Marx Brothers.

A feature of the picture is the revue scene in which appear Eddie Cantor, Helen Morgan, and Rudy Vallee, each giving a satisfying performance in his own inimitable manner. They are three of the biggest personalities known to Broadway, the films and radio today. When they entertain, the whole world applauds.

"Cockeyed World" Real Surprisingly Fine Talkie

"Believe it or Not," as Ripley would say, there is a well defined notion in our minds that Raoul Walsh has surpassed, directorially and in many other ways his former world wide success, "What Price Glory," with his current production, "The Cockeyed World." In fact, the latter which shows next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Peoples Theatre, might well be called an all talking classic of the "Devil Dogs" in so called peace times.

None will deny that both Edmund

Lowe and Victor McLaglen have climbed many steps up the ladder of fame since their former effort by reason of commendable portrayals in other important Fox Pictures. But in none have they appeared to better advantage than in this epic of the Marines.

Now, the screen speaks thru the wonders of Fox Movietone and the "Cockeyed World" gives you the spoken word. You won't have to guess what Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe are saying to each other in their continual fights. You hear it and are delighted continuously.

If "The Cockeyed World" is not the top picture of 1929, then a whole lot of its alleged experts are cock eyed in our judgments.

Lily Damita, co-starred with McLaglen and Lowe, is one of the best treats in the world for anybody's eyes.

Bobby Burns sings the theme song, "So Dear to Me," and gives an all around thorough performance. And speaking of songs, we believe that "So Long," sung by the Marines on board a warship will soon be their "official" marching song.

On Tuesday of last week at the home of Mrs. C. W. Davis, the Womens Missionary Society and the Ladies Aid Society of the Rosemary Methodist Church held a joint business meeting. The regular order of business was followed with very interesting reports from all the standing committees. At the conclusion of business a delicious salad was served. Mrs. Davis was assisted in serving by Mrs. Scales. Those answering to roll call were Mesdames Raymond Purdy, W. O. Thompson, D. P. Wike, Clara Speight, E. M. Smith, Lewis Cannon, Paul Reid, C. T. Thrift, H. H. King and Mrs. Scales.

The P. T. A. of the Roanoke Rapids High School met Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 in the vocational building, with Mrs. T. W. M. Long, president, presiding. The group study plan was begun at this meeting and the pre-school work was in charge of Mrs. C. W. Davis. Miss Clara Hearne acted as temporary chairman of the elementary group and Mrs. C. T. Thrift of the High School group. After the organization of the various groups a business session followed. Mrs. A. L. Clark, chairman of the library committee reported that her committee had several plans by which she expects to make money with which to buy books for the library. The president read a most interesting article by the president of the National Educational Association, and also one from Miss Annie Cherry, president of the State Educational Association. Both were very helpful. There were about forty to answer to roll call. Tea and sandwiches were served by the seventh grade Home Economics class.

The Young Womens' Sunday School class of the Rosemary Baptist Church held a business meeting Friday night in the home of Mrs. Edwin Fuller. Plans for more definite personal service were made and new officers were elected as follows: Miss Edith Davis, president, Miss Dolly King, vice president, Miss Elmer Ricks, secretary-treasurer; social committee, Miss Annie Hancock, chairman, Miss Lizzie Cooley and Mrs. Edwin Fuller. Membership committee, Miss Annie Mae Pridgen, chairman, Miss Lula Cobb, and Miss Mina Roberson. Sick committee, Miss Dolly King, chairman, Miss Annie Hancock and Miss Lizzie Wright. All members of the class will be considered as members of the room committee. Mrs. Fuller served refreshments to the class and teacher, Mrs. P. E. Allsbrook.

Circle No. 2 of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church was hostess to Circle No. 1, last Tuesday evening at the church. It was a regular get together meeting for the ladies of the circles and after the business was disposed of a social hour was enjoyed by all members present. Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames H. M. Waters, J. A. Pridgen, D. B. Harrison, N. A. Armstrong, H. I. Twiddy, Collins Pridgen, J. A. Twiddy, Joe Collins, C. H.
