CAROLINIANS—Know Your State!

PEANUTS

THE peanut belt of the State is in the Coastal Plain where truck farming is carried on extensively. It is here that the famed double cropping system is used, where peanuts are grown on the same land during a single year. When peanuts are grown as a cash crop and the entire plant removed from the land it is probably the greatest soil robber grown in North Carolina. E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at State College, strongly advocates crop rotation to include a legume for plowing under. Many peanut planters have followed the advice of Mr. Blair and are now producing over 100 bushels per acre, against their 40 or 50 bushels when they followed the usual rotation of cotton and peanuts.

Peanuts became popular during the War between the States and were eaten heartily by the undernourished Confederate soldiers. They preferred them to parched meal and began to plant them extensively after the war.

Among the numerous products derived from the peanut are synthetic rubber, 17 kinds of wood stains, dyes for cloth, axle grease, lard, linoleum, flour, breakfast foods, stock foods, soap, face powder and ink.

North Carolina ranks as the second state in the Union in the production of peanuts, its crop being valued at $9,996,000 in 1929.

Miss Creighton Hays of Henderson is the guest of Mrs. R. F. Beckwith.

Miss Clara Bradley who has been school nurse here for the past year has accepted a position in South Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Mullen and family left Tuesday for a motor trip through Western North Carolina. They will be away for a week or two.

Rev. V. H. Grantham and Mr. J. E. Cox attended a Christian Church meeting in Greenville this week.

Miss Otelia Vaughan was the week end guest of Miss Elma Holden of Wake Forest. From there she left for Boston to resume her study in music. While in Boston she will make a trip to Canada.

Rev. Dr. George Taylor, Mrs. Taylor and two sons, Job, Jr., and Edward, of Pittsburgh, Pa., are guests of Rev. Taylor's brother, Dr. Job Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor. Rev. Taylor is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of the Wilkingsburg District, at Pittsburgh, which has a membership of 2,000.

Miss Mary Blythe Patterson and Miss Genevieve Hawkins, of Norfolk, Va., will arrive in Roanoke Rapids this evening and will be guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Job Taylor.

Miss Alma Vaughan and her guest, Miss Inez Green of Marshallville, are visiting in Richmond and Washington.

Mrs. T. M. House and granddaughter, Betty Joyce, of Richmond, are visiting her sister, Mrs. W. P. Vaughan.
