CALL FOR SPECIAL SESSION LEGISLATURE

Two petitions will be circulated throughout the counties of the State during the next three weeks, for the signatures of landowners and taxpayers, asking Governor O. Max Gardner to call a special session of the State Legislature as soon as possible after November elections and urging the General Assembly to provide tax relief on real estate. The petitions are sponsored by the County and State Tax Relief Association.

The members of the General Assembly of the State will be asked in the petitions to enact laws "that will insure more equitable distribution of the tax burden on all properties in North Carolina and thereby relieve our farms, homes and real estate from the unjust proportion (70 per cent or more) of the city and county taxes that real property is now bearing."

"That you enact laws that will give the farmers and landowners an opportunity to redeem their property from the cities and counties where they have been foreclosed, with an opportunity of paying the enormous taxes, penalties and cost already incurred on a partial payment plan, at a rate of interest not to exceed five per cent for deferred payments; and that you will enact laws that will do away with the penalties and excessive costs in collection of same."

"We favor and urgently request that the State take over the full support of the public schools of the State and save the counties and school districts of any part of the cost of maintaining the public schools for the full period required by the constitution."

"That the State Highway Commission shall be required to take over and maintain the public roads and bridges of the counties of the state as rapidly as the revenue will permit. That you enact laws providing for a complete reform in the methods of appraisals and valuation of all property in the State."

"That you enact laws doing away with all unnecessary officers and duplication of officers and exercise the most rigid economy in the administration of all departments of the city, county and State government and that expansion in all departments be discontinued until the income of the people of the State will justify the same."

In the petition to the Governor, he is urged to call the special session not later than November 8, "that laws may be passed to stop the heavy and unnecessary expense of organizing the Appraisal and Assessment Boards in every county in the State, so that laws may be enacted to guarantee a fair, just and equitable appraisal system for all classes of property, that the heavy burden may be reduced on real property; and that said special session may prepare for the enactment by the ensuing General Assembly the Revenue and Machinery Acts; and consider and prepare measures for the relief; and the passage of necessary remedies for the relief of the landowners of the State."

"We feel that it is your bounden duty as Governor of North Carolina, to take necessary steps to save the real estate property owners from having their property confiscated and save the great citizenship of North Carolina further wasteful and unnecessary expenditures of thousands of dollars, which you can do by calling the Legislature in special session immediately following the November 1930 election."

Gasoline Looks Good To Infant

The five months old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillips, who live near Scotland Neck, felt unusually hot and thirsty Monday afternoon and helped herself to a generous drink of gasoline.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips rushed her to a doctor and the child was soon reported out of danger. However, she suffered from turns in her throat and mouth.

READERS COLUMN

WHEN IT'S ALL QUIET AND SEEMS EASY IT IS WELL TO REMEMBER

There are no dull days, dull lives, or dull times. There are only dull men. There is not a single job in the world, however humble, but that has a color and inspiration entirely its own.

There are no handicaps. There are no limited opportunities. There are only the limitations with which we narrow our vision and destroy our dreams.

There is no hard luck. There is only our admission that what has happened to us is so hard that we are too soft to rise against it.

There are no heroes or cowards. The hero is the one who has accepted his fears but gone on. The coward has accepted his fears but turned back.

For life is never so bad at its worst that it is impossible to live; it is never so good at its best that it is easy to live.

You are the fellow that has to decide whether you'll do it or toss it aside. You are the fellow who makes up your mind.

Whether you'll lead or linger behind. Whether you'll try for the goal that's afar.

Or be contented to stay where you are.

Take it or leave it, here's something to do.

Just think it over, it's all up to you!
