

COTTON GROWERS ARE WARNED NOT TO GLUT MARKET

MAY SHOOT FLEEING OTTO WOOD

Warning to County Commissioners re Sheriff's Settlement

(Special To The Herald)
Raleigh, Oct. 9.—Cotton growers of North Carolina are unwise to rush their cotton to market now, thereby causing a "glut" and further tending to depress the price, when several ways are open to them to realize the funds needed to meet their pressing debts and with promise of better prices later, former Governor A. W. McLean said in a statement here last week.

He also advises growers, who plan to hold their cotton, not to leave it on the stalk in the field to damage from weather, but to pick and store it until they are ready to sell. This makes it impossible for them to pay their debts and prevents them from obtaining credit in the future.

Governor McLean himself a cotton grower, points out that the producer can put his cotton in a seasonal pool of the Cotton Cooperative Association and receive nine cents a pound advance (later said to have been reduced to seven cents); store it in a Federal warehouse and receive money from the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks at 4 per cent interest; or borrow from the member banks of the Federal Reserve Banking System on stored cotton.

He mentioned the 1,300,000 bales of cotton, now owned by the Cotton Stabilizing Corporation, which is definitely withdrawn from the market until it reaches the price paid for it, more than 16c per pound. This will have a stabilizing influence on the price, and if the growers use any of the methods at their disposal, the cotton can be marketed gradually at higher prices, he said.

Otto Wood has been declared an outlaw, in an order signed here last Friday by Judge G. E. Midgett. This colorful one-handed law violator, originating in Wilkes County, operating throughout the nation, four times escaped from State's Prison, now has a price of $375 on his head, dead or alive. The act of declaring him an outlaw means that any citizen may, upon seeing him, order him to halt, and if he either runs or fights, may shoot him down, with complete immunity from prosecution. Otto, who apparently has a deep-seated criminal bent, has it mixed with a seemingly consuming passion for publicity—in newspaper parlance, an "ink hound."

Tents are being ordered almost daily by wire to provide for the unusually large exhibits of livestock, and agricultural exhibits are being turned down for lack of space to display them at the North Carolina State Fair, October 13-18, Manager T. B. Smith stated today. The premiums this year are valued at more than $25,000 and exhibits are in 20 departments, each in charge of an expert from State College. The dog show is expected to have between 150 and 200 entries, while the pet show, a new attraction, is creating much interest.

The amusement program includes free acts which cost in excess of $10,000, including the nightly presentation of "Sensations of 1930," a musical comedy revue with 32 characters. Eight other free acts, including Firth and Hamid, will be presented with music by Cervonne's Band. The Melville-Reiss shows, with a 40 car outfit, including 17 shows and 10 rides, will be on the midway. Already 132 horses are entered in the daily races, with purses of $6,600. The baby show, a new feature, is attracting attention.

J. Walter Lambeth, Thomasville, manufacturer and former State Senator, was named as candidate for the full two-year term as Congressman in the Seventh District, and Hinton James, Laurinburg banker, for the unexpired term of the late W. C. Hammer. Mrs. Hammer was nominated by the Democratic District Committee for the unexpired term Friday, but declined the nomination. Colin G. Spencer, Carthage, Republican nominee for the full term was named as a candidate for the unexpired term.

Frank W. Hancock, Jr., Oxford, nominee for the full term in the Fifth District was also named for the unexpired term by the district Democratic committee, which failed to name Mrs. Katherine Palmer as candidate for the unexpired term of her father, the late Major Charles Stedman. John F. Reynolds, Wentworth, Republican nominee for the two year term was named as candidate for the unexpired term by the Republican committee.

Governor Gardner has called elections in both districts, to be held with the general election, November 4, to fill the unexpired terms.

County Commissioners who fail to adhere strictly to the County Government Acts, not only are violating the law, but are preparing "mare's nests," which will hatch trouble for them later, according to Charles M. Johnson, Secretary of the County Government Advisory Commission, in pointing to the indictment of the Avery Commissioners for neglect of duty in requiring the Sheriff to make proper settlement. Mr. Johnson made public a letter published June 20 1930, pointing out their failures, which he wrote them, "are liable to lead you into serious difficulties later on in the year."

Answering the charge of Charles A. Jonas, congressman and Republican nominee to succeed himself in the Ninth District, that North Carolina is paying $10 per pupil per year, or about $10,000,000 a year for school books, Dr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has issued a statement to show that Mr. Jonas has over-stated the amount by about 800 per cent. He states that, based on Federal figures, North Carolina is not paying in excess of $750,000 a year, or about one-eighth of the amount Mr. Jonas charges.

Moreover, Dr. Allen shows that North Carolina, her county and city boards of education are getting school books as cheaply as any state in the Union for the same books. All contracts with publishers provide that North Carolina will get school books as cheaply as any state, and when prices are reduced in any other state, the prices are automatically reduced to the same level in this state for the same books.

North Carolina's general fund collections for September just passed were $630,278.98, as compared with $693,351.06 for September 1929 while collections for the three months for the present fiscal year totaled $3,083,821, as compared with $3,162,972.72 for the same three months of the past fiscal year, the report of A. J. Maxwell, Commissioner of Revenue shows. A decrease was also shown in the automobile tax collections, which amounted to $1,213,428.65 last month and for September, 1929, totaled $1,315,641.49. Collections for the first three months of this fiscal year were $3,537,649.79, and for the same period last year were $3,825,571.47. Automobile license plates for 1930, sold to September 30, brought in $6,640,725.57, while in 1929 plates in that period brought in $6,760,712.25.
