

TWIN CITY HAPPENINGS

ON A SALEM EASTER

I think it is a kindly thing,
That in God's Acre every spring

The silent sleepers resting there,
Of lovely earth are unaware.

If they could feel each year anew
The silken seep of rain and dew,

See new twigs clutching at the sun,
And soft things winds lean down upon,

They would, I think, know fierce ache
Than birth and death and parting make.

For who but Christ could stand the pain
Of learning earth's sweet face again?

—Marjorie Craig.

The regular monthly meeting of the Womans Club was held on Monday afternoon in the Domestic Science room of the High School. The president, Mrs. Fred Brown, called the meeting to order and several important business matters were brought before the club. Mrs. Julian Allsbrook was elected corresponding secretary. The various committees for the fair were appointed. The Garden Club had charge of the program for the afternoon and a splendid program was given. Mrs. Frank Nash gave a reading on the White Narcissus. Mrs. C. A. Wyche gave a lecture with slide illustrations on planting shrubs, lily ponds, garden furniture and rock gardens. Tea and sandwiches were served by Mrs. Mortimer White. Mrs. J. E. Dobbins, Mrs. Charlena Hart and Mrs. George Hayes. On each plate was a miniature corsage. About twenty-five women answered to roll call.

On last Sunday a surprise dinner was given by Mrs. W. E. King in honor of Mr. King's birthday. Only the immediate family and a few close friends were invited. When the guests arrived and began to express their best wishes it began to dawn on Mr. King that this was his birthday and in this manner he was celebrating in his honor. A delicious dinner was served to the following besides the hostess and guest of honor: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hatchcock of Warrenton, Mrs. S. E. Teague, Hamlet, Mr. and Mrs. Hurley King and children, Hurley and Betsy, Mrs. W. C. Williams and Mr. P. Powell.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Clarence Grimmer entertained the A&C Bridge club at her home on Hamilton Street. Two tables for players were placed in the living room and places for playing were foud by tallies. Mrs. J. M. Jackson was winner of high score and was given a prize. A salad course was served. Those playing were: Mesdames J. M. Jackson, Octavius Griffin, Wm. Medlin, W. C. Williams, Frank Wilson, Jack Young, Mrs. Lipscomb and Miss Susan Holliday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Gates entertained on Saturday evening with two tables of bridge at their home on Hamilton Street. The high score for the evening was won by Mrs. Raymond Goodmon who was presented a book as a prize. A sweet course was served at conclusion of the game. Miss Florine Holt came in for refreshments. Those playing, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Goodmon, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swasey, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Dickens.

Jack Oakie, Dean of Wit, Retails Laughs In "Let's Go Native"

The great Jack Oakie grin invasion which began for the delectation of millions of talkie goes a year or so ago, continues its irrepressible spasms of laughter at the Peoples Theatre Monday and Tuesday in "Let's Go Native."

This smiling dean of slang and wise cracks who began wowing audiences in "Close Harmony" and continued his veritable panic of mirth in "Hit The Deck," "Sweetie," "The Social Lion," and others is a bigger and better riot in "Let's Go Native" in which he is co-starred with Jeanette MacDonald, the princess of "The Love Parade," and supported by Skeets Gallagher, Kay Francis, William Austin and Eugene Pallette.

Oakie is seen as Voltaire McGinnis, the goofy but go-getting taxi cab driver who gets all mixed up with Miss MacDonald's plan for her troupe of show girls who are making a trip to South America to put on a revue for a millionaire. When Oakie's cab runs smack into a police station in New York he is bound to seek refuge on the ship. He gets a job as a stoker but later is promoted to a mess attendant. On the boat are William Austin, society ne'er-do-well, James Hall, disinherited young blue blood in love with Jeanette MacDonald and the 75 girls of her show.

The ship strikes a derelict and all the principals are stranded on a tropical isle where Skeets Gallagher is king. There is an abundance of pearls and the island spouts oil every time a tent peg is driven, but it is all valueless to the castaways for they are beyond the pale of civilization.

There are five songs in "Let's Go Native." Oakie sings three of them—"Joe Jazz," a solo with dancing chorus on the boat deck, "I've Got a Yen for You," a duet with Kay Francis on the tropical isle, and "Let's Go Native" with a chorus and reprise by William Austin in the coconut grove.

"Those Three French Girls" Story of Americans On Paris Spree

Sheer farce of the kind which the silent picture did not tackle because of the lack of dialog, is more and more finding its way to the talking screen.

As their contribution to this phase of entertainment, Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer will present "Those Three French Girls" at the Peoples Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

The plot of this talkie farce is marked by its many opportunities for "gags" and laughs. Briefly, it concerns the meeting in jail of Reginald Denny, a somewhat gay young Englishman; Cliff Edwards and Edward Brophy, Americans of imbibitory habits, and three French modistes, Fifi Dorsay, Yola d'Avril and Sandra Ravel, jailed because they threw flower pots at their landlord during an argument.

How the sextette escape from jail and how they are received by George Grossmith, as the Earl of Ipplenton, Denny's uncle, provides the basis for laughs of the production, which is directed by Harry Beaumont, of "Our Blushing Brides" and "The Floradora Girl" fame.

It is particularly interesting because the dialog marks the first cinema work of the eminent humorist, P. G. Wodehouse. In fact, the parts of the Earl of Ipplenton and Parker a butler in the famous "Jeeves" of literary renown, are quite in the familiar Wodehouse genere.

Friends of Miss Elmira Jenkins were delighted to hear of her splendid work in the recent News and Observer campaign. The new Chevrolet is a lovely car and she is to be congratulated on her success.

Mrs. Wm. Medlin is visiting friends in Richmond this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Bounds spent Tuesday in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peck of Greensboro were visitors in town this week.

READERS COLUMN

To The Editor:

Dear Sir:—
In your editorial in week before last issue of The Herald, you suggested some regulations regarding school children crossing Roanoke Ave. at the noon hour and also in the morning. I thoroughly agree with you. There ought to be something done about this. Especially at the noon hour when all the children are in a hurry to get home to lunch and back to school on time. In the block between 9th and 10th streets just above the golf course they come across in hundreds.

There should be some kind of arrangements to have them cross at the intersection of 9th street and have an officer there to direct the traffic, also at 11th street and 6th. I notice a lot of cars and trucks travel thru here at a high rate of speed at all times of the day, and when they come thru at the noon hour it is reckless and very dangerous and some child is going to get killed. There must be something done about it.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling baby, Major Edward Garner, who died September 4, 1930, age ten months. God needed an angel and took him home. We miss him so much in our home; we loved him but Jesus loved him more. He is gone but not forgotten by his sad mother, father, sister and brother. Darling baby, mother is so sad and lonely without you in her arms, but I will meet you in that sweet bye and bye.

of a number of cuts and bruises about the body and head. An X-ray examination revealed that she did not have a fractured skull.

A coroner's jury in Northampton County, Tuesday, returned a verdict that Thompson and the Clary girl died as the result of reckless and careless driving on the part of Thompson.

Separate funerals for the fatally injured were held Monday afternoon. Funeral services for Miss Clary were conducted from her home by Rev. C. T. Thrift, pastor of the Rosemary Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Interment was made in the Rock Church cemetery in Brunswick County, Virginia. In addition to her sister in the hospital and her parents she is survived by two sisters, Alice and Dorothy, and three brothers, Lewis, Lawrence and Junius.

The funeral of Buddy Thompson was conducted from the Bear Swamp Church near Aurelian Springs, by Rev. Miller, a Baptist minister of Littleton. Burial was made in the church cemetery.

In Memoriam

At a regular meeting of Evening Star Council No. 58, Junior Order United American Mechanics, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God with divine mercy to take unto Himself our beloved friend and brother, John Benjamin O'Brian, and remove him from our midst, therefore be it resolved,

That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed one to say that in regretting his removal from from among us we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and esteem.

Resolved that in the death of John Benjamin O'Brian we recognize that this Council has lost an upright faithful member and the order at large a fearless exponent of its principles.

Resolved that in their bereavement we tender the family of the deceased the universal sympathy and friendly feeling of our council and that with them we mourn our mutual loss.

Resolved that as a mark of esteem our Chapter be draped in mourning a period of thirty days, a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and inscribed on the memorial page of this Council.
